MAYOR HAYS WINS FIGHT IN COMMON COUNCIL AFTER SESSION LASTING MANY HOURS

Duquesne Way Railroad Ordinance Referred Again to Corporations Committee After Several Amendments Were Made.

BREAK IN BIGELOW RANKS ON COMPENSATION CLAUSE

Director Gets the First Blood, but Afterwards Loses in the Battle Over Stevenson's $50,000 Yearly Rental Amendment.

The Action Had in Common Council

Mayor Hays defeated Director Bigelow in a sensational fight over the Pennsylvania railroad's Duquesne way railroad ordinance, which lasted until nearly 3 o'clock this morning.

The ordinance was referred back to the corporations committee and city solicitor.

Several amendments were adopted—one against use of bituminous coal; one requiring the railroad company to bear all damages, and another allowing other railroads to cross the elevated.

The body adjourned during the debate over W. H. Stevenson's amendment for $50,000 yearly rental.

Director E. M. Bigelow lost to Mayor William B. Hays in a hard and long-drawn out battle over the Duquesne way elevated railroad ordinance last night, the session lasting from 8 o'clock in the evening until 2:30 o'clock this morning. The ordinance, with a number of amendments attached, goes back to the corporations committee to be further amended to suit the wishes of the mayor and the reformers of councils.

The director got first blood and, succeeding in defeating the first attempt to refer the bill to the committee, his followers forced it upon second reading. The break in the Bigelow ranks occurred in the fight over Councilman W. H. Stevenson's amendment demanding a $50,000 yearly rental compensation for the franchise. Many of the Citizens feared to go on record against compensation and voted, after they were wearied out by the discussion, to send the ordinance to the committee. The last vote on the motion to refer the ordinance to the committee was 33 to 14.

The vote on the motion to refer the ordinance with amendments passed and the one pending back to the corporations committee was as follows:

Ayes—Armstrong, Barker, Barr, Beckert, Bole, Bonini, Brand, Caveit, Daniel F. Crawford, Cross, Delaney, Edwards, Fitzpatrick, Hogue, Hughes, Lamb, Lauler, Leslie, David Lewis, John Lewis, Martin, Moore, McNally, M. E. O'Brien, Thomas O'Brien, Rodgers, Schwarzwaelder, Semmelrock, Walls, West, Wymard, Zeuger, Charles S. Crawford, president.

Noes—Baldauf, Bechner, McNeil, Reitz, Sahner, Schad, Schuck, Shaw, Shearer, Soffel, Sterrett, Stevenson, Willey, Wolfe.

Hays' Plan Was Defeated.

With the help of the Republican members Director E. M. Bigelow first succeeded in defeating the plan of Mayor William B. Hays to keep the Duquesne way ordinance in the corporations committee. The Bigelow members not only recalled the ordinance from the corporations committee, but defeated an attempt on the part of the followers of Mayor Hays to send the measure to a special committee of five and the city solicitor.

Their next step was to put the ordinance on second reading, where it was amended. The vote on the motion to recall the ordinance from the corporations committee was a test of the strength between the forces of Mayor Hays and Director Bigelow. Bigelow won by a narrow margin of three votes, 26 members voting in favor of the motion to recall and 23 against the motion. The following shows how each member voted:

Ayes—Messrs. Armstrong, Barker Beckert, Bole, D. F. Crawford, Delaney, Edwards, Fitzpatrick, Hogue, Hughes, Lauler, Leslie, David Lewis, John Lewis, Martin, McNally, M. E. O'Brien, Thomas O'Brien, Rodgers, Schuck Semmelrock, Sterrett, Walls, Willey, Wymard, Zeuger.—26.

Noes—Messrs. Baldauf, Barr, Bechner, Bonini, Brand, Brown, Caveit, Cross, Lamb, Moore, McNeil, Reitz, Salmer, Schad, Schwarzwaelder, Shaw, Shearer Sheehan, Soffel, Stevenson, West, Wolfe, President Crawford.—23.

Vote Shows Several Changes.

This vote shows a number of changes from last week. Half a dozen members who voted against the Bigelow program at the former meeting, changed front and supported the director's plan last night. Among these wer Joseph Zeuger of the Ninth ward; Joseph Walls, of the Thirtieth ward; Jacob Schuck, of the Thirty-first ward, and John J. Hughes, of the Fifth ward.

On the first test, on the motion to recall the ordinance, the Republican vote was split, seven or eight voting with the Hays faction. It was not until nearly 11 o'clock, after council had been in session for three hours, that the order of business calling for the reports of committees was reached. Chairman George W. McNeil stated that the corporations committee had failed to get a quorum last week and was not able to meet.

Chris Beckert, of the Fourteenth ward, started the fight by making the motion to recall the ordinance from the committee. This was opposed by Messrs. Stevenson, Reitz, Sahner and Brown. D. F. Crawford, J. P. Sterrett and M. G. Leslie advocated the Beckert motion. The contention of the Hays faction was that the committee was the only place to obtain a public hearing and to consider amendments.

Chairman Crawford Reversed.

When the Beckert motion was carried W. H. Stevenson promptly made a motion to refer the ordinance to a special committee of five and the city solicitor. Mr. Leslie amended Mr. Stevenson's motion by a motion to take the ordinance up on second reading. Mr. Stevenson contended that Mr. Leslie's amendment was not germane to his motion and President C. S. Crawford so ruled. Mr. Leslie appealed from the decision of the chair and the appeal was sustained by a vote of 34 to 14.

Mr. Stevenson then made a motion to lay the ordinance on the table until the Pennsylvania company furnished plans and specifications of the proposed line. This motion was defeated, and at 12:35 o'clock Mr. Reitz made a motion to adjourn. This was also defeated and Mr. Leslie again called up his motion to take the ordinance up on second reading. Mr. Stevenson again interposed with a motion to adjourn until the following evening. This failed and Mr. Leslie's motion was finally put to a vote and carried.

Amendments Offered By Leslie.

Mr. Leslie then proceeded to offer a number of amendments, which were adopted after a lively fight. The first amendment struck out the clause providing for the regrading of Penn avenue between Fourth and Water streets, to which the women in charge of the old block house objected. Another amendment by Mr. Leslie made the railroad company liable for all damages by reason of the construction of the elevated line. Another, the one which aroused opposition, compelled any railroad wishing to cross over the Pennsylvania company's line to go across at an elevation of 17 feet and 6 inches.

Mr. Stevenson and others argued that this height was prohibitory. Mr. Stevenson also objected because the clause did not give the other road the right to cross the elevated at grade. Mr. Leslie contended that the other railroad could get this right through the courts.

Mr. Stevenson offered a substitute giving any road, with the consent of councils, the right to cross, use a part or the whole of the proposed new line. If the roads cannot agree on compensation, the rate to be fixed by the chief executive officer of each road and the mayor. This was defeated by a vote of 38 to 9.

Another amendment, offered by Mr. Leslie and adopted, provides that bituminous coal shall not be used on the elevated, but that coke, hard coal or other non-smoke-producing fuel be used in the locomotives. A penalty of from $25 to $100 was provided for each locomotive using bituminous coal each day.

This amendment was finally adopted and the storm of the evening arose when Mr. Stevenson introduced his amendment providing that the railroad company should pay a yearly rental of $50,000 for the franchise.

Railroad's Position Defined.

Thomas Patterson, attorney for the Pennsylvania, was given the floor and stated that the company had instructed him to say that if a clause demanding any cash compensation was inserted in the ordinance that the franchise would not be accepted; that the company regarded the proposed lifting of the tracks from Liberty avenue as an equivalent for the right of way down Duquesne way.

Mr. Stevenson made a strong appeal for compensation, stating that the city had vacated streets at the Point worth $500,000 to the railroad, and that now it proposed to give up other thoroughfares to the elevated worth $1,500,000 or $2,000,000 more. He said that the removal of the tracks from Liberty avenue was not ample return for the line down Duquesne way, as the tracks down Liberty avenue were rapidly becoming useless to the company. He disputed the assertion of Attorney Patterson that the company was only asking for one highway in return for another which it proposed to give up.

Mr. Stevenson produced a blue-print and claimed that the company was taking in addition a portion of the Monongahela

President Cassatt Announces That Amount of Cash from the Bond Issue.

LOANS TO BE PAID IN JULY

The Pittsburgh Gazette Bureau,
Public Ledger Building,
PHILADELPHIA, PA., June 29.

The Pennsylvania railroad has in hand about $85,500,000 cash, the proceeds of its new stock issue. The $40,000,000 borrowed by the company early in the year will be paid off as the notes fall due, in the second and third weeks of July.

The statement as to the cash received from the stock subscriptions was issued today from the office of President Cassatt. Later in the day announcement came from Pennsylvania sources in New York that the $40,000,000 loan would all be paid in July.

At the president's office it was said that the company's stockholders has subscribed for virtually all of the new stock and that the underwriting syndicate would not be called upon to put up a dollar. The syndicate will get $2,250,000 for backing the issue and keeping the stock from going below 60. The syndicate's commission will be a clear profit as the financial institutions in this city and New York which joined with the banking firms of Kuhn, Loeb & Co., and Speyer & Co., to underwrite the loan will not be asked to take any stock.

It is announced that 90 per cent of the subscriptions are for full payment so that $81,000,000 has been received from full payment. Upon the remaining $9,000,000 of the issue 50 per cent has been paid, netting $4,500,000 additional cash, and making the money in the treasury from the loan $85,500,000. The stockholders who paid their subscriptions in full will receive stock receipts for whole shares, exchangeable after August 25 for stock certificates carrying dividends from May 5, and participating in the November dividend.

POPE CELEBRATES MASS.

The Italian Government Makes Preparations to Guard Vatican in Case of Death.

ROME, June 29.—This being St. Peter's day the pope celebrated mass in the private chapel adjoining his bedroom in the presence of his chaplain and members of the pontiff's family. The temperature here is 82, but the pope does not suffer, saying that the warm weather suits him.

Although the health of the pope is much improved the Italian government, to be prepared for any eventuality, has ordered two regiments in the provinces to be kept ready to come to Rome and reinforce the garrison in the city so that the authorities will have a sufficient force to maintain order and insure the liberty of the conclave should it become necessary to hold one.

Cloudburst Does Damage.

CUMBERLAND, MD., June 29.—(Special.)—The country between Buffalo Mills and Bedford, Pa., was visited by a cloudburst last night, followed by heavy rain until 8 o'clock this morning. The high water caused much damage at Bedford, flowing four feet deep through houses. At Napier it was feared the Pennsylvania railroad bridge would be rushed away. At Wolfsburg and Buffalo Mills the tracks were under a foot of water. Great damage was done growing crops.

NEWSIES CHEERED FOR MRS. SOFFEL AT THE PEN

About Five Hundred Street Merchants Had Annual Outing on the Steamer F. J. Torrance and Were Fairly Busy All the Time.

About 500 of Pittsburgh's "newsies" enjoyed a rare day yesterday. They had their annual outing on the big steamboat Francis J. Torrance, as the guests of the genial citizen after whom the boat is named. The popular cry of the day was "Me fer Torrance," and Mr. Torrance was given some idea of what the president has to stand at times in the handshaking line. Every boy on the boat felt called upon to shake hands with Mr. Torrance several times. To make certain that the weather should be all that could be desired, Frank Ridgway, Pittsburgh's weather man, was induced to go along as a special guest. Had the weather switched he would have found himself anything but an honored guest.

As the steamer pushed off there were enthusiastic cheers for Mr. Torrance and for Mrs. Clara U. Frazer, editress of "Our Boys," who largely superintended affairs. As the band played popular ragtime airs the boys sang and they cheered their own efforts after each selection. Some of them did cake-walk and other dancing stunts that were very clever. As the steamer passed the Riverside penitentiary the boys crowded the rail on that side and vociferously cheered: "Hurrah for Mrs. Soffel! We made lots of money offen you!"

There were several special guests on board. Thomas M. Armstrong, the cork manufacturer, was one of them. The boys whispered it among themselves that he was a millionaire, and then they proceeded to "look 'im over." Group after group ranged up before him and carefully studied his features and appearance. One small boy expressed his wonderment as he turned away, in these words: "Hully gee! An 'im wort' ate millyun!"

A big dinner was served by the host and the boys all looked full afterward. The habits of the newsies could not be suppressed and some recreation must be had after such a large dinner. A suspicious silence near the stern of the boat attracted the attention of Mrs. Frazier, and an investigation showed four games in progress, two of crap, a game of euchre and one of seven-up, all of which were stopped by her. The rest of the afternoon was spent in dancing and more in singing. It was a happy, contented lot of lads who left the steamer about 4 o'clock. Business, however, was not entirely forgotten, and many were soon seen at their old stands with their "six-o-clocks."

Xavier Wittmer, Capt. W. B. Rodgers, Prof. B. F. Butts, the Rev. S. Edward Young and a large party of women were among the guests.

WEST IS NOW OPPOSED TO REVISION OF TARIFF

Effect of Prolonged Uncertainty on General Business Would Be Detrimental.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

WASHINGTON, June 29.—Two prominent western statesmen gave out statements here today in which they insist that the west is for a "stand pat" tariff policy.

"We in the Rocky mountain region," said Senator Warren of Wyoming, "are strong tariff men and do not consider it best to make an issue of any plan for revision. It may be that there are cases in which the tariff is not just what we should like to see it. A revision of the tariff would bring with it uncertainty which would result in untold loss from the stoppage of business. Our Rocky mountain country has very few items of the tariff in which we are interested directly; but we are looking to the general effect of the tariff, rather than to our interest in specific terms."

"As for the tariff," said Representative Hemmenway of Indiana, "we are all willing to let matters rest as they are. About two or three years ago there was a visible current of sentiment in favor of tariff revision, but I think this, in the main, has disappeared."

Pittsburghers Buy Coal Lands.

STEUBENVILLE, O., June 29.—(Special.)—A big deal in coal lands across the river in Brooke county has been consummated and 1,000 acres and more are in the block bought by Lewis & Finley of Pittsburgh, who paid $50 an acre. They will begin operations on the top vein at once. They will run a railroad siding to the territory.

IMPROVEMENTS WILL INCREASE EARNINGS

Steel Corporation Is Putting Over $21,000,000 Into Plants at Various Places.

[BY PRIVATE WIRE TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW YORK, June 29.—By the expenditure of $21,347,738 in improvements to the Illinois Steel Company, the new rolling and tube mill at McKeesport, improvements to the National Tube plant at Lorain and the development of steam and coal properties of the H. C. Frick Company the United States Steel Corporation will increase its earnings by $6,000,000 a year. In speaking of these improvements an official of the corporation says:

"These four plants, on which work is to be expedited as much as possible, call for a combined expenditure of over $21,000,000. For this amount expended in improvements, rehabilitation and harmonizing, the corporation will receive in direct benefits increased earnings approximating $6,000,000 a year, a great saving in the cost of operating and an increased producing capacity in pig iron of 643,000 tons, of tube and pipe 400,000 tons, of rolling mill products 534,000 tons, of structural steel 300,000 tons, of coke 275,000 tons and of steam coal 600,000 tons.

"The other plans for improvements at various points calling for nearly $16,000,000 are also to be carried out, but the work on some of them will probably extend into 1905. By that time the corporation will have all its subsidiary companies harmonized so that the operating cost will be reduced to a minimum."

FRAUD FOUND UNDER GROUND

New Evidence in Postal Investigation Uncovered at Milwaukee, Wis.

IN OFFICE BASEMENT

More Than Two Tons of Groff Fasteners Have Lain There for Fourteen Years.

MADDEN NOW IN WASHINGTON

The Pittsburgh Gazette Bureau,
Room 10, Postal Building,
WASHINGTON, D. C., June 29.

Additional evidence of fraud of long standing in the postoffice department has been discovered in the cellar of the Milwaukee postoffice. Stored away in one corner of the basement is a big pile of Groff fasteners that were sent to Milwaukee for some unknown reason and without requisition about 14 years ago. The fasteners, of which there are two and one-quarter tons, will probably never be used, unless shipped to Washington. None has been used there since the day they were received. The fasteners came during the early years of the late Postmaster George W. Porth's term of office. There are 1,500 sets and the contract price was $1.25 a set.

There is also stored in the basement a lot of galvanized iron mail boxes, made in Michigan. They were received about two years ago without requisition.

Third Assistant Postmaster General Madden's return from Detroit today directed attention to his alleged connection with the General Manifolding Company of Franklin, Pa. It is said tonight that he did not make a fully satisfactory explanation to the postmaster general at a conference today and that interesting developments are promised.

It was first stated that Mr. Madden favored the General Manifolding Company in the award of a contract for patent carbon paper because of the general merit of the article. But upon investigation it is disclosed that a son of one of Mr. Madden's bureau chiefs is employed by the company.

Several days ago the special act of the last session of congress was unearthed, authorizing the public printer to make contracts with private companies for supplies of patent processes required for the benefit of the service without additional authority of congress. It was in this legislation that Congressman Sibley was named as one of the main promoters. Several agents of the postoffice have been sent to Franklin to investigate the allegations made against the office of the third assistant postmaster general.

On Friday the postmaster general will leave here for a short vacation over the Fourth of July to be the guest of Mr. Roswell Miller at the latter's summer home in the Catskills. Mr. Shallenberger, second assistant, will also leave within a few days for his summer vacation, but it is stated his absence will not interfere with the investigation of the mail transportation bureau and other departments of his office. The grand jury today reports additional indictments against August W. Machen, D. B. Groff and S. A. Groff.

FAILURE OF FLAGMAN WRECKS THE LIMITED

John Tumala of Allegheny Hurt in Collision at Lucas, O.—Narrow Escape for an Official.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

MANSFIELD, O., June 29.—The west-bound Pittsburgh and Toledo train on the Pennsylvania lines crashed into the rear of the west-bound Pennsylvania limited at Lucas early this morning. A mistake in orders and failure of the limited's crew to send out a flagman are said to have caused the wreck.

John Tumala of Allegheny city was badly hurt about the head and was taken to a hospital. Several other passengers in the observation car on the limited were cut and bruised. Charles Watts of Pittsburgh, general superintendent of the Pennsylvania lines, narrowly escaped injury.

The engine of the Pittsburgh and Toledo train plowed half the length of the observation car, throwing the passengers to either side.

NOTHING TO LIVE FOR.

New York Man Attempts Suicide Rather Than Attend Divorce Proceedings.

NEW YORK, June 29.—(Special.)—"My dead body will be your alimony," was the pointed answer left by Frederick Gingell to his wife this afternoon before he attempted suicide on account of divorce proceedings instituted by the woman. Rather than appear in court he sought death. He did not succeed, however, in killing himself.

When Gingell was married his bride was a widow with a number of children, who are now grown. Mrs. Gingell began suit for divorce, the papers having been served about two weeks ago. Since then, it is said, Gingell and his wife have been separated and have lived in different parts of the house. On Saturday last one of his three children, Harold, three years old, was playing in front of the house when he came along and gave the child a note to take to its mother. The note read, in part:

"No wife, no home, no child. What have I to live for? My dead body will be your alimony."

AWFUL DROP OF ELEVATOR

Score of Passengers Were Mangled in a Sudden Fall of Fifty Feet.

WOMEN ARE VICTIMS

Visitors to H. J. Heinz Allegheny Pickle Factory Dashed Through Five Floors.

CAGE WAS OVERCROWDED

With a wild downward plunge of 50 feet an elevator, over-crowded with human freight, fell at 2:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon in the factory of the H. J. Heinz Company, in Main street, Allegheny, and 23 persons were maimed. It is thought that at least two of the victims will die and the condition of all the injured is serious. With the exception of the operator all the passengers were visitors inspecting the plant. A broken shaft caused the accident. The names of the injured follow:

JOHN CHURNEY, No. 26 Summit street, Troy Hill, Allegheny; both legs fractured below the knees; in Allegheny General hospital; not expected to recover.

MRS. EDWARD HOLMAN, Mt. Hope, N. J.; suffered concussion of the spine; in Allegheny General hospital; not expected to recover.

JOSEPH WEBER, elevator man employed by the Heinz Company; No. 207 Chestnut street, Allegheny; in West Penn hospital; condition dangerous.

O. R. THOMPSON, clerk in Heinz's factory; right leg crushed; in Allegheny General hospital.

MRS. C. R. SAMMONS, No. 5555 Colombo street, East End; spine injured; in West Penn hospital.

ANDREW BOLAK, No. 47 Villa street, Allegheny; ankles sprained; at his home.

MRS. H. A. MORRISON, No. 218 Winston avenue, Hazelwood; compound fracture of the left leg; in Allegheny General hospital.

MRS. A. LOTHA, No. 709 Madison avenue, Allegheny; ankle sprained and suffering from concussion of the spine; at her home.

WILLIAM KONKANA, No. 605 Quincy street, Cleveland, O.; ankle sprained and suffering from concussion of the spine; in Allegheny General hospital.

C. HOWAK, No. 613 Quincy street, Cleveland, O.; ankle sprained and suffering from concussion of the spine; in West Penn hospital.

MRS. A. VODRASKA, No. 11 Arch street, Cleveland, O.; cut and bruised by flying glass; at the home of A. Lotha, No. 709 Madison avenue, Allegheny.

CHARLES SPURNEY, No. 441 Lincoln avenue, Cleveland, O.; ankles sprained and body bruised; in Allegheny General hospital.

JOHN LOTABAR, No. 7 University street, Cleveland, O.; suffering from concussion of the spine; in Allegheny General hospital.

The injuries of the victims, almost without exception, are serious. In cases where the passengers suffered fractured limbs, the terrific concussion caused by the impact of the heavy cage on the hard floor of the basement caused the bones to protrude through the flesh and in several instances amputation will probably be necessary to save the patients' lives. Many also suffered internal injuries which could not be determined in the hasty examinations made last night.

Elevator Said to Be Overcrowded.

The freight elevator used by the Heinz company in transporting passengers carries about twice the burden of the ordinary passenger cage. There were no air cushions at the bottom, and the big wooden platform fell to the basement like a plummet, scattering the passengers upon the hard floor, where an instant after they fell a rain of broken glass showered upon them, lacerating their faces and hands and adding to the horror of the disaster.

Officers of the company stated that the accident would not have occurred except for the antics of intoxicated visitors who jumped up and down, loosening the machinery and consequently breaking the shaft of the drum which controls the main ropes. The victims deny this, and declare that all the passengers were sober and behaved in the most quiet fashion. All the passengers are of the opinion that the elevator was over-crowded, and that the disaster could not be averted when so many persons were packed on the platform which usually, it is said, does not carry over 10 passengers.

Balance Weight Was Caught.

A large party of visitors were being shown through the plant, and were about to descend from the fifth floor to the preserving departments beneath. The elevator was in charge of Joseph Weber. When 22 passengers had crowded on the platform the machine began its descent. Suddenly it shot downward, the passengers swaying to and fro as they passed the safety gates. With a crash they

YANKEE SAILORS DEFEAT GERMANS

Win Two Firsts, a Second and a Third in the Sailing Races Yesterday.

CONDITIONS ARE DIFFICULT

Emperor William Distributes the Prizes in Person—Farewell Banquet Attended by the Kaiser and American Naval Officer—Jackies Give Boxing Exhibit.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]

KIEL, June 29.—American men-of-warsmen won two firsts, a second and a third today in the races against the boats of the German fleet. The Americans had five boats entered in four events, while the Germans had 37, and the American crews were not familiar with the course and had not specially trained for the occasion.

The Chicago's sailing cutter, entered by Midshipman Rowan, won Princess Henry's prize for warship's cutters.

The sailing launch of the San Francisco, entered by Ensign Steele, won the prize in the race for warship's launches. The launch of the Kearsarge, entered by Lieut. Henry C. Mustin, was third.

The contest which attracted most attention from the Germans was that between the large launches. Lieut. Mustin led after the first quarter of a mile and gradually increased his lead until near the finish he was one-eighth of a mile ahead of the San Francisco's launch.

Fouled Kearsarge Launch.

Then what was probably a civilian's yacht, which was running obliquely, yelled something unintelligible to Lieut. Mustin, and a few minutes later the stranger's bowsprit ran through the sail of the Kearsarge's launch, tearing away part of it. Before the two boats could be disentangled the San Francisco's launch passed, and 100 yards behind her the launch of the Kaiser Wilhelm der Grosse. Lieut. Mustin and Ensign Steele both outsailed the German boats in the turning-mark buoys, gaining several seconds on each turn. The German crews cheered the American winners heartily.

The emperor presented the prizes to the winners at the yacht club tonight in the shape of personal gifts to the officers commanding the launches. Ensign Steele received a silver cup.

"I hope you will drink many a bumper out of it," said Emperor William, handing it to him. Lieut. Mustin and Midshipman Rowan, who sailed the Chicago's small cutter, received silver cigarette boxes.

In bidding Emperor William farewell on board the Hohenzollern Rear Admiral Cotton on behalf of the captains and officers of his squadron, said they would carry away with them never to be forgotten memories of the hospitality and courtesy that had been shown them during their stay here. The emperor replied that the visit had been charming to him personally and he hoped it would be enduring in its impress on the friendship between the two nations.

The Farewell Dinner.

Admiral Cotton and the captains of the American warships tonight attended a dinner given by the yacht club in honor of the emperor and sat with his majesty and United States Ambassador Tower in the garden for an hour, witnessing a display of rockets by the combined fleets and the playing of the vessels' searchlights.

The emperor will leave on board the Meteor at 7 o'clock tomorrow morning for a long sail to Eckernfoerde. The Hohenzollern will leave Kiel at 9:30 in the morning flying the emperor's flag, which will be saluted as though the emperor were aboard. The American squadron will leave at 7 o'clock tomorrow evening.

The jackies of the Kearsarge tonight gave a minstrel show and boxing exhibition. Twenty men and four officers from each of the German ships were present. It was the first time that many of the German sailors had seen boxing.

England and Portugal Ready.

WASHINGTON, June 29.—England and Portugal are making ready to show hospitality to the American squadron.

King Edward will give a grand ball on July 8 in honor of President Loubet and the American naval officers attached to the squadron will be invited. Next day the king will give the officers a banquet in Buckingham palace. The entire vast British channel squadron has been ordered to assemble at Spithead to welcome the little American squadron when it comes to Portsmouth from Kiel.

It appears that the invitation to the squadron to visit Lisbon was inspired directly by the king of Portugal, so that the reception there will be of the most formal and official character.

JUDGE RELUCTANT TO SENTENCE EMBEZZLER

Defers Action in Case of William J. Murphy Who Had a Good Record.

[BY PRIVATE WIRE TO THE GAZETTE.]

PHILADELPHIA, June 29.—William J. Murphy, the United States Express Company messenger who two weeks ago pleaded guilty to embezzling $20,000, and whose sentence was suspended by Judge Martin, was again a prisoner today.

Judge Martin said that when Murphy pleaded guilty it was asserted that restitution had been made and strong pleas for suspension of sentence presented. The declaration was made that the express company did not desire to prosecute Murphy, in view of the fact that the money was returned. Subsequently counsel for the express company denied that the corporation or any of its authorized agents had made any agreement with Murphy. Whereupon the case was reopened and Murphy surrendered himself.

Judge Martin said the case was a remarkable one. During Murphy's 14 years of employment with the express company he had faithfully handled millions of dollars in money and valuables, and his one crime had been an act apparently committed upon an impulse of the moment. He recited how Murphy had made no effort to run away, had made restitution, and how, after sentence had been suspended, he had secured employment and when the case was reopened had surrendered himself to the court. The case was so extraordinary that he would not impose sentence until after he had very carefully considered it.

CANTON STEEL PLANT COMES TO PITTSBURGH

Steel Corporation Said to Have Decided Upon This Course Recently.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

CANTON, O., June 29.—The people are very much aroused over the notice that the big plant of the Canton Steel Company, employing several hundred men, will shut down its plants on next Tuesday indefinitely and that the machinery and tools may be moved to Pittsburgh.

The announcement was made today by the officials of the company, who have recently returned from Pittsburgh, where they held a conference with the officials of the corporation in regard to the closing of the plant. Several hundred families will probably move to Pittsburgh.

The steel mill has been one of the best industries in Canton and the removal is discouraging to the members of the Canton board of trade. Many of the families who will return to Pittsburgh came here from that city 10 years ago, when the mill was built.

NEW CHURCH IS LIKELY.

Protestant Episcopal Worshipers of Highland District Hold Meeting.

A preliminary meeting of influential persons of the Protestant Episcopal faith of the North Highland district was held last evening at the home of ex-Mayor William J. Diehl, No. 5708 Stanton avenue, to consider the advisability of organizing a church of that denomination in that vicinity. Those present were Dr. J. H. McElvaine, rector of Calvary Episcopal church; Ernest H. McKinley, of the Monongahela River Consolidated Coal & Coke Company; ex-Mayor William J. Diehl, the Rev. E. L. Wells, formerly in charge of St. Philip's chapel; Samuel B. Douglas and George M. T. Taylor, vestrymen of Calvary church.

The committee decided that a personal canvass of the members of the Episcopal church will be made immediately, and if the field proves as encouraging as it looks, means will be devised to erect a suitable edifice. Mr. Diehl said that the church would be more for the benefit of the Sunday school and the young people than for those already attached to some church. Fifteen thousand dollars is considered necessary to start the work. Calvary church will give a good sum to the new church from the proceeds of the sale of St. Philip's chapel.

The committee appointed to have charge is William J. Diehl, the Rev. E. L. Wells and E. H. McKinley. This committee will meet next week and make further plans. It was decided last night to make this a church organization and not a mission. There are 75 families of the Protestant Episcopal denomination in that vicinity.

MOUNDSVILLE, W. VA., June 29.—(Special.)—Freeman Coulter, aged 104, unquestionably the oldest man in West Virginia, died today at his home near Woodland station, of the infirmities incident to old age. Notwithstanding he did not know Washington or any of the presidents and never served as a soldier in any war he was a remarkable man. He retained his faculties until a few months before his death and last year worked in a harvest field.

He read newspapers without the aid of glasses, had a very retentive memory and took a lively interest in passing events. He never failed to vote, even at a primary election. He was born in what is now the state of Ohio, and lived nearly 100 years on the farm where he died. He was the father of 14 children, of whom nine are living, and his descendants number 300.

MRS. EDDY GREETS HER FOLLOWERS

15,000 Christian Scientists Make Pilgrimage to Her Concord Home.

SHE MAKES SHORT ADDRESS

Wonderful Leader of New Sect Holds Vast Audience Spellbound While She Points Out the Path She Wishes Them to Follow.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

CONCORD, N. H., June 29.—Fifteen thousand Christian Scientists made their annual pilgrimage to Pleasant View today and saw Mrs. Mary Baker G. Eddy, the founder of the sect.

On the balcony from which she has been accustomed to view her followers and say a few words of welcome appeared a white-haired woman, attired in royal purple and white silk, and over all a magnificent cap of white ostrich feathers, with black tips that fell almost to her knees. She wore a small bonnet of purple. The effect was ethereal. It was such as might be expected in a great spiritual leader, and seemed to awe the people. Her step was light, her manner easy; and when she spoke her voice was clear and strong. She stood alone on the balcony, appearing without warning; and only for a moment, long enough to extend a pleasant greeting, then fade away—disappear through the glass door as quickly and silently as she had come. But in that brief moment she delivered the message which the scientists had come to hear and which will be spread broadcast. Mrs. Eddy said:

Beloved Brethren—Welcome home, to your Home in my heart. Welcome to Pleasant View, but not to varying views. I would present a gift to you today only that this gift is already yours. God hath given it to all mankind. It is His coin, His currency. It hath His image and superscription.

Passage of Scripture.

This gift is a passage of Scripture. It is my sacred motto and reads: "Trust in the Lord and do good; so shalt thou dwell in the land, and verily thou shalt be fed. Delight thyself also in the Lord, and He shall give thee the desires of thine heart. Commit thy way unto the Lord; trust also in Him, and He shall bring it to pass. He shall bring forth thy righteousness as the light, and thy judgment as the noonday."

Beloved, some of you have come long distances to kneel with us in sacred silence, in blessed communion, unity of faith, understanding, prayer and praise—and to return in joy, bearing your sheaves with you. In parting I repeat to those dear members of my church, trust in Truth and have no other trusts. Today is fulfilled the prophecy of Isaiah: "And the ransomed of the Lord shall return and come to Zion with songs and everlasting joy upon their heads, and they shall obtain joy and gladness, and sorrow and sighing shall flee away."

It was all over in a few minutes. There was no demonstration, merely a flutter of handkerchiefs then simply silent respect. When she retired the Scientists sang two hymns which the mother had composed and hearing them, she came to the window and waved her handkerchief, apparently in farewell. But it was noticed that she was dressed for the street, and the great crowds lined the driveway of Pleasant View, and out into the road.

Takes a Twenty-Minute Drive.

Soon Mrs. Eddy's coupe with liveried coachman and footman drove up to the door. She appeared alone, got into the carriage, and drove slowly away, while thousands gazed into the carriage window at the bowing woman within. For 20 minutes the lines of devoted adherents were unbroken. Then the carriage returned, drove through the long lines and Mrs. Eddy entered the house and the crowds dispersed.

Among the visitors to the city were Earl and Lady Dunmore of London, with a party of three; Judge W. G. Ewing of Chicago, Mrs. Laura Lathrop of New York City, one of Mrs. Eddy's eldest pupils, and her son.

By 1 o'clock this afternoon the visitors had assembled to the number of 10,000 in front of the grounds of Pleasant View. Except a few guests admission to the grounds was denied everybody and the vast crowd filled the street for a long distance and disposed themselves about the vacant lots opposite Mrs. Eddy's residence.

UNPROVOKED ASSAULT.

Aged Woman of Allegheny Is Brutally Pounded by Unknown Man.

Mrs. Kate Boyd, 54 years old, was the victim of an unprovoked assault last night about 9:30 o'clock, at her residence, No. 608 River avenue, Allegheny, and as a result is in a serious condition from shock, at the Allegheny General hospital. The assault was committed by a man unknown to her. The police afterwards arrested Arthur Gigaler who answered the description she gave.

While sitting alone on her porch the man walked up to her and asked her if Jennie Smith was in. Mrs. Boyd answered that no one by that name lived there. Without saying anything further, and without warning, the stranger struck Mrs. Boyd in the face with his fist, or a stone, cutting a long gash across her forehead and nose, and knocking her from the chair.

ULTIMATUM PRESENTED.

At a meeting of the united board of Building Trades today the plan of arbitration as suggested by Judge McConnell of the Fuller Company, it is said, was practically accepted. A few changes of minor importance were made by the board and these will be submitted to Judge McConnell tomorrow. A committee of the board will call upon him and present the changes. The matter will come up for final action tomorrow.

BARRINGTON TELLS CONFLICTING TALES

Bogus Lord, Accused of Murder of James P. McCann at St. Louis, Passes the Day in the Sweatbox.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

ST. LOUIS, June 29.—Closely guarded in a cell of the St. Louis county jail at Clayton, eight miles west of this city, F. Seypour Barrington, charged with the murder of James P. McCann, on the night of June 18, spent the greater part of the day under close questioning. He maintained a comparatively calm demeanor and while he admitted that the future looked dark for him, he stoutly declared his innocence of the alleged crime.

Conductor Bennett and Motorman Oellain identified Barrington and McCann as the two men who left their car at Bonfils station on the night of June 18. It was near this point that the body of a dead man, identified as that of McCann, was found. According to the authorities Barrington has made a damaging admission in that he first declared that he and McCann had fought some men in the darkness, and now he says he and McCann were alone that night and met no men.

Asa E. Mitchell, agent of a water company, was taken into custody upon suspicion that he knows something in connection with the alleged murder. He admitted that he was a friend of Barrington's, and that at the latter's instigation he wrote a note which was shown to Mrs. McCann for the purpose of allaying her fears regarding her husband's prolonged absence.

SEACLIFF, N. Y., June 29.—(Special.)—Mrs. Barton, the wife of "Lord" Barrington, who is held in St. Louis on a charge of murder, is now residing here. Her first intimation of the new trouble threatening her husband was when a Gazette correspondent showed her the story in today's papers. She said, without hesitation:

"I hope he will be hung. He deserved it long ago."

KANSAS CITY, June 29.—Mrs. Wilhelmina Grace Barrington, who married Barrington in St. Louis some time ago and later brought suit here for divorce, was today granted an order by the local court requiring Barrington to pay $250 into court to pay the costs of the divorce proceedings.

MAYOR HAYS WINS FIGHT IN COMMON COUNCIL

hela wharf for a branch line down to the Point bridge. Mr. Stevenson said he did not believe that the company would refuse the franchise for a cash compensation, and that councils should not heed this threat. He said even if they would not take the franchise upon these terms that the city would not suffer by the failure to build the elevated down Duquesne way; that the need of better freight facilities would compel the company to build depots above Eleventh street.

J. Boyd Duff, attorney for the Twentieth Century club, representatives of which were present, made a fervent appeal to councils to exact a compensation. He was followed by Mrs. S. A. Ammon for the Daughters of the American Revolution.

Mrs. Ammon was permitted to interrogate Thomas Patterson, Esq., an attorney for the railroad. She asked him if he was familiar with the act of assembly of 1836, granting the use of the wharves to the city. Mr. Patterson said he knew the act and glibly ran over several supreme court decisions, whereby it appears the city was worsted. Mrs. Ammon, however, had evidently expected his answer and called his attention to the fact that in the cases he cited the court held all the grants allowed were "for the use of the city."

Mr. Patterson referred to "eminent domain" and said the law permitted railroads to take land for a highway.

Mrs. Ammon asked him if the railroad company would permit an elevated road on Duquesne way to be used as a highway. Mr. Patterson explained at length that railroads were highways and the law showed them to be maintained. Mrs. Ammon contended, however, that the law did not allow the use of the streets and wharves by a private corporation.

One Woman Rapped Councilmen.

Miss Kennard, for the Twentieth Century club and D. A. R., said she was surprised when she was looking into the matter that not one councilman had read the ordinance three months after its presentation. They told her so. She appealed to their sense of patriotism not to put a girdle about the town.

Miss McKnight of the Civic club said no compensation would make up for the ruin of the lower city; it was strangulation for the city's future welfare. Because the city fathers had given away Liberty avenue in 1848 was no reason why that folly should be added to. Duquesne way, she said, should be a boulevard, rather than a wall of stone and steel to gird the city's commercial center.

President Crawford, calling Dr. McNeil to the chair, took the floor and raised a sensation. He opened with an attack on the Republicans. He said they never had believed in compensation and it was too late to expect a change. But there were 29 Citizens councilmen to whom it was a different question.

"I say to you," he cried, "that if you do not stand by your platform your constituents will say 'you fooled me' and say it rightly. Before the Pennsylvania came here you made a pledge that you can't get from under. I tell you if you do not vote for compensation, you go squarely back on your pledge. Not a man in your ward who voted for you but to whom you must say, 'I fooled you.'"

He declared that men who fooled their supporters did not last in politics. "I saw the ring in its zenith fool the people here in this chamber and I saw it go to oblivion. This may be the zenith of the Citizens party!"

He began to read the Citizens pledge, signed by the councilmen when candidates. Mr. Armstrong asked if that pledge was in existence when the Wabash ordinance went through. Mr. Crawford said it was, but that the Wabash built on its own property, and the lobby applauded.

Mr. Armstrong asked if Carson street was its property. Mr. Crawford said they took Carson street out. Mr. Armstrong said he voted for it, and the president denying this declared, however, that public sentiment forced the Wabash in. Concluding, he said: "If it is my last vote, my last election to council, my last time in politics, I am for $50,000 compensation."

The lobby, still strong at 2 o'clock in the morning, broke into applause. When it quieted Mr. Armstrong came back:

Other Records Recalled.

"Every one of you Citizens gentlemen, not from the East End alone, but from the South Side, did strike Carson street out of the Wabash ordinance, but you voted it in again. Every one of you broke this pledge you talk about when you did not put compensation in that ordinance. Then when the streets at the Point were to be vacated the ladies were here that time too; our chairman, who talks about pledges, led the fight, the hardest we had had for years, and won it. He put those ordinances through. He was the attorney for the estate. We are all pretty good ringsters, but don't forget that your own ring is pretty good, only it got a little twisted inside."

Crawford denied he had appeared as an attorney.

Mr. Stevenson made another address, and in conclusion said: "If we violate our pledges we might as well go out of this chamber and never come back."

Mr. Brand offered an amendment to refer the ordinance back to the committee on corporations and the city solicitor with the amendments already attached.

The question on Mr. Brand's amendment was called for and it was carried by a vote of 33 to 14.

Oliver Bathhouse Accepted.

Previous to taking up the Pennsylvania railroad ordinance, considerable time was given to the consideration of routine business. When the measure to accept the proposition of Henry W. Oliver, to erect a bathhouse at South Tenth and Bingham streets, came up, Mr. Reitz called attention to the fact that the ordinance provided that the building shall be furnished with city water. Mr. Stevenson said that this clause should remain, as no one desires to bathe in Monongahela river water. Mr. Armstrong said that the city had a line as far as South Seventeenth street, and that "Mr. Oliver centainly knew his business when he put the clause in." The measure passed finally, without any opposition. Important ordinances passed finally, were as follows:

For the construction of water mains in the Squirrel Hill district; authorizing the transfer of $5,000 to meet assessments against the city; for the appointment of two tenement house inspectors at $100 a month each and for the appropriation of $10,000 to the chamber of commerce for a Pittsburgh exhibit at the St. Louis exposition.

An effort to suspend the rules to take up an ordinance requiring brokers to take out licenses failed. Mr. Leslie said it was "nonsensical legislation," and it would be a shame to put it on the city records. Mr. Stevenson said it was to enable the police to keep a record of legitimate brokers and keep track of fakirs. It was also impossible to suspend the rules to take up an ordinance to tax slot machines. An ordinance to sell a city lot on Second avenue to Jones & Laughlin for $3,500 went over. Mr. Beckert saying it is worth more money.

DR. LORENZ VISITS HIS QUAKER CITY PATIENTS

Most of the Operations Were Pronounced Favorable—Two Operations Necessary.

[BY PRIVATE WIRE TO THE GAZETTE.]

PHILADELPHIA, June 29.—Dr. Lorenz, the Vienna surgeon, came to Philadelphia today to examine the children upon whom he operated for congenital dislocation of the hip on December 11 last and to operate upon two new patients.

The condition of Rosie Cohen, 23 months old, and Mary Ellingsworth, 4 years old, was found to be favorable. Dr. Lorenz manipulated the thighs that were in an almost horizonal position until the legs were nearly normal. The limbs were then bandaged in plaster of paris.

Dr. Lorenz was much gratified when he examined Alice Parker, 9 years old, of Philippsburg, Pa., to find that her muscular development since the initial operation warranted the removal of the casts entirely. The child is said to be the oldest ever operated upon by him.

The cases of Marion Green, 5 years old, and Eugene Cassna, 20 months old, were pronounced graver than the others. The Cassna child had been operated upon for double dislocation, and Dr. Lorenz found that one of her thighs was not in place, so ether was applied and the original operation was duplicated on the one limb. In the case of Marion Green the plaster cast was found to adhere at the knees, and chloroform was administered while the surgeon manipulated the limbs.

HARRISBURG, June 29.—Gov. Pennypacker has returned an application for a charter made by the Broad Street Railway Company of Philadelphia, because the line of the proposed railway was not definitely described.

It is understood that the governor in returning the application did so for the reason that the point of beginning and the length of the line were not given in the surveyors' terms.

HARRY MOECKEL WOUNDED.

Pittsburgher Shot at Ashland in Some Unexplained Manner.

Harry Moeckel, aged about 30 years, who was arrested some time ago on charges preferred by his employer, the Paul Wuesthoff Company, has been shot at Ashland, Pa., according to advices received by Druggist F. A. Cooper of Oakmont. Cooper is one of Moeckel's bondsmen.

The inference that comes from the scant information had, leads to the belief that the man shot himself. The shooting took place Saturday night or Sunday morning. Sunday Cooper received the telegram announcing that Moeckel was wounded, but was in a hospital and resting easy. Attempts to get more information were unavailing.

When he saw the child's danger he jumped over the side rail of his car, an open one, and got the child off the track just as a Western avenue car was upon her. Crickard had his right wrist sprained.

Broken Axle Caused Accident.

A hot bearing caused the axle to break on a pony truck of an engine attached to passenger train No. 164 on the Pittsburgh & Western railroad at Millvale last night. A serious accident was avoided because the train was running slowly. The engine jumped the track and ran over the ties 40 feet before stopping. Traffic was resumed in less than two hours.

Lieut. McCue, U. S. A., Deserts Bride When Exposure Overtakes Him at Chicago.

FIRST WIFE IS AT CINCINNATI

He Asked Latest Father-in-Law to Send Wedding Announcement to Mrs. McCue No. 1 and Thus Brought About Discovery of His Duplicity.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

CHICAGO, June 29.—Lieut. William K. McCue, U. S. A., has disappeared with a charge of bigamy hanging over his head, and a deserted bride of two weeks mourns his absence and fears he has committed suicide. The bride was Miss Viola Simon of San Francisco, who married him after a courtship of less than a fortnight.

About the time the lieutenant was bidding his bride good-by this morning and telling her that he would soon return a woman in Cincinnati, who says she is his wife, informed the chief of police there that he had contracted a bigamous marriage. She said her wedding took place while McCue was an enlisted soldier at Fort Thomas.

The exposure came about when Lieut. McCue asked his new father-in-law to send cards announcing the wedding to the woman in Cincinnati, who now claims to be his wife. She has been living there under the name of Ida Westcott and had corresponded regularly with McCue until 1900.

McCue and his bride arrived here nine days ago. Mrs. McCue said today that he told her they were going to Fort Porter, N. Y., where his regiment had been assigned to duty.

Mrs. McCue said tonight: "When my husband left me this morning he said he was going to get his pay and transportation at army headquarters. I waited until noon and then went to see Gen. Bates. My husband had not been there and then I feared the worst."

CINCINNATI, June 29.—Mrs. McCue and her father, Leonard Westcott, requested the chief of police to communicate with the war department and ask to have Lieut. McCue relieved from active duty and placed in the detention hospital. Mrs. McCue says her husband was stricken with malarial fever in the Philippines and she attributes his conduct to his mental condition, resulting from the disease. She is heartbroken over the affair and says that so far as she knows no divorce has been granted the lieutenant.

Edward Whittock, a structural iron worker, 25 years old, of No. 512 May street, Atlanta, Ga., died at the West Penn hospital yesterday morning from injuries received Saturday night by being struck by a West Penn railroad passenger train near Bennett station. ## Penalty of Four Years Changed to Nine Because of Prisoner's Misconduct.

NEW YORK, June 29.—Andrew Brown was sentenced to four years in Sing Sing for burglary today. He became angry because Judge Aspinwall could not listen to a plea for another man and told an attendant he hoped the judge would die before leaving the bench.

Judge Aspinwall called him back and added two years to the sentence. Then Brown tried to attack a man he suspected of having informed on him, called the judge a dog and was once more taken before the bar. This time the sentence was made nine years.

Seventy Corpses of Victims Remain in Debris of Railway Wreck in Spain.

MADRID, June 29.—By midnight 100 bodies had been extricated from the wreck of the Bilbao train, which was overturned Saturday night from a bridge into the Nejerilla river, and it is estimated that 70 corpses remain in the wreckage. The bodies are horribly mutilated.

Differences between the civil and military authorities rendered the work of rescue more difficult. That many prosperous persons are among the victims is testified to by the great quantity of money and jewelry collected by the gendarmes.

ROBERT A. AMMON GIVEN FOUR YEARS

Sentenced for Receiving Money He Knew to Have Been Fraudulently Obtained.

ASK CLEMENCY FOR MILLER

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU,
Herald Building, Herald Square.
NEW YORK, June 29.

Robert A. Ammon's uncertain career may not close until he has served not less than four years or more than four years and six months in the state prison of New York for receiving $30,500 feloniously taken from thousands of ignorant and poor people by the Franklin syndicate. For this offense he was convicted on June 17 and this afternoon Judge Newburger gave the above decision.

The warrant was withheld until tomorrow in order that the prisoner might not be taken to Sing Sing at once, giving his counsel time to apply for a certificate of reasonable doubt.

Ammon stood stolidly throughout the whole proceedings and when taken back to the Tombs looked neither to the right nor to the left. Upon the application of counsel for Ammon, Justice Truax in the supreme court today issued an order directing the district attorney to show cause on July 1 why a certificate of reasonable doubt as to the legality of the conviction of Ammon should not be issued. Justice Truax also issued a stay of all proceedings until after a decision on the application for a certificate of reasonable doubt had been made.

District Attorney Jerome has instructed Assistant District Attorney Nott to prepare a petition to be sent to Gov. Odell asking for executive clemency in the case of William F. Miller, who is now serving a 10-year sentence for swindling.

KEEPING AN EYE ON L. F. HOLTZMAN

BUSY IN THE EIGHTH DISTRICT

Will Send Contesting Delegate to McKeesport—J. A. Clark to Be Chairman of County Convention—No Instruction for Fusion Conferees.

Alderman L. F. Holtzman of Braddock is keeping the leaders of the Democratic combine guessing. He will send contesting delegates to the Eighth district convention in McKeesport, this morning. The 'squire has ever been a close friend of Charles A. Fagan, and his present activity is viewed with suspicion.

There will likely be three sets of delegates from a number of the Eighth district precincts. E. F. Duffy made a fight in Braddock against Holtzman for control of the delegation. They will each have men knocking at the door of the convention for admission. Neither men represent the combine, and County Commissioner James A. Clark is said to have supplied his friends with credentials.

Holtzman is not only endeavoring to control the Braddock delegates, but he will have delegations from North Braddock, Rankin, East Pittsburgh, Wilmerding and Patton township. The combine managers learned yesterday of the 'squire's activity and are investigating.

Making Up the Rolls.

The rolls for the various district conventions were made up in Pittsburgh last night. When the McKeesport convention convenes this morning, Holtzman will probably find that his friends are on the outside. If their admission endangers the combine's control they will not be seated.

There may also be some surprises in the rolls of the other conventions. While Fagan claims that he did not attempt to elect any delegates, yet in a number of precincts scattered over the county, his friends were busy. Some of them were defeated and others won out. The man who has the majority of votes at the primaries quite often discovers that his name is left off the temporary roll.

In the Fifth district there was considerable squabbling at the primaries. Out in the Twentieth ward one man was defeated for delegate because he is an employe in the office of Clerk of Courts F. X. Barr. It was figured that Barr is a friend of Fagan's and that it would be wise to prevent the election of the delegate. In the Eighth district there are two of Barr's clerks and these men were fought at the polls. The combine does not propose to take any chances and the conventions will be controlled today at all hazards.

Clark Will Be Chairman.

Plans for the Democratic county convention Thursday have been perfected. County Commissioner James A. Clark will be the temporary and permanent chairman of the convention. With him presiding the combine will be sure that nothing will get away from it. The meeting will be held in the common council chamber.

The combine is satisfied that it will control the convention so has decided that the fusion committee is not to be instructed. At first it was thought that [illegible] might be necessary to give the conferees [illegible]ial instructions concerning the demand which is to be made for the district attorney nomination on the fusion ticket. This plan has been abandoned and the committee will go into conference with the Citizens free to act as it pleases.

The fusion committee is to be composed of five Democrats and is to be appointed by the chairman of the convention. The resolution will be worded so as to allow Chairman Clark to be a member. W. J. Brennen will be one of the conferees. Under certain conditions Col. J. M. Guffey may go on the committee. Henry Meyer will probably represent Allegheny, and one man will be chosen from the county districts.

Libel Bill Resolutions.

Instructions were sent out last night that resolutions denouncing the enactment of the Grady-Salus libel law must be adopted in all of the conventions today. So far this is the only resolution scheduled to go through. As this is the home county of National Committeeman Guffey some of the Democrats are wondering if the convention will have anything to say about national politics. Several rampant Bryanites would like to see a reaffirmation of the Kansas City platform but they are sure to be disappointed.

Secretary James W. Clark says that the Citizens county committee will likely be called together Friday. The meeting is for the purpose of formally inviting the Democrats into conference to arrange the fusion ticket. The Citizens hope to get the nominations made as speedily as possible. The leaders think that the Democrats will be willing to construct a ticket in accordance with the specifications made by Thomas S. Bigelow. The abandonment of the plan to instruct the Democratic conferees is taken as proof that he will be able to control the conference.

At the meeting Friday the Citizens will name a committee on sore spots. This body will be expected to fix up the troubles in the party in the Eleventh, Fourteenth and Seventeenth wards and in the Sixth legislative district.

Republican County Committee.

Chairman Thomas J. Ford has called a meeting of the Republican county committee for Monday afternoon. This meeting is necessary to adopt the proposed change in the rules that provides for the nomination of all candidates for county offices in one convention. Another alteration in the party laws puts the Allegheny city committee on the same footing with the Pittsburgh committee.

Senator W. A. Magee is chairman of a committee that has charge of the general revision of the county rules. There was a meeting of the body yesterday. There will probably be a number of changes made in the rules. The report may be ready for the Monday meeting.

The new offices of the Republican county committee were opened yesterday at 527 Smithfield street. A. D. Armstrong of Allegheny, an assistant secretary of the county committee, is in charge. It is the intention of Chairman Ford to be at the committee offices each day. While the Citizens and Democrats are preparing to slate a ticket, the Republicans are throwing the primaries open to all who want to aspire to office. There will be no slate making.

The Sixth ward Democratic executive committee met last night at the polling place of the Eighth district in Bluff street. Michael Larkin presided, and an address was made by Michael J. Spain. The stand of County Commissioner James A. Clark was heartily approved, and W. J. Brennen was indorsed for district attorney. The committee also indorsed Dennis Boyle, Michael Larkin and James Martin for state delegates.

Lads Arrested for Burglary.

Detectives Lally and McGough arrested two young boys, Blaine Maddocks and Herbert Baldrich, both of Glenwood, yesterday, on warrants charging burglary. It is alleged they entered the residence of Attorney J. F. Edmundson, No. 5316 Second avenue, while the family was away, and stole jewelry to the amount of $100 and $35 in cash. The job was done in true burglar style by cutting out the panels of a door. Both are 16 years old.

Clutch Company Chartered.

The Wright Reverse Company of Pittsburgh was incorporated at Charleston, W. Va., yesterday, for the purpose of manufacturing the Wright reverse clutch and other machinery. The capital stock is $100,000. The incorporators are W. J. Wright, Robert W. Dusenberry, Fred J. Galloway and Cornelius D. Selling, all of Pittsburgh.

MILLION DOLLARS IN MINE MERGER

Amyville, Youghiogheny and R. B. Mackintosh's Interests Are United.

COKE CONCERN ALSO ALLIED

The Combined Mines Will Have a Daily Capacity of 5,000 Tons of Coal, and Coke Ovens Have 300 Ton Capacity.

Papers have not been signed that merge into one $1,000,000 company, the properties of the Amyville-Youghiogheny Gas Coal Company and several of the private interests of R. B. Mackintosh, president of that company. A charter has been secured under the New Jersey laws, the name of the new company being the Amyville-Youghiogheny Gas Coal & Coke Company.

The new concern will operate the Katie mine at Bridgeville, the property of the old company; the Amyville mine at Amyville, the Maud mine at Treveskyn and the Martha mine at Oakdale. The Catherine mine at West Newton and the Victoria Coke works of the Pittsburgh-Connellsville Coke Company will be allied to the new company, as they are in the control of the same interests. The Colonial Gas Coal Company, a $75,000 company is similarly controlled.

The officers of the new company are: President, R. B. Mackintosh; vice president, M. L. Mackintosh; secretary and treasurer, E. D. Riddle.

The Amyville, Maud and Katie mines are now in operation. The Martha and Catherine mines, and the Victoria Coke works at Uniontown, are being rapidly completed. The capacity of the mines will be 5,000 tons daily, and the cove plant will have between 100 and 200 ovens with a daily capacity of from 200 to 400 tons.

This whole concern is the growth of less than four years. Mr. Mackintosh began coal operations with one small mine, supposed to be worked out. The mines he has obtained are all thin vein, five or six feet, and some of the finest, pure Connellsville coal is said to be had from them. There is now so little left of the pure Connellsville, outside of the United States Steel Corporation's possessions, that independent operations are considered very valuable. The properties have been acquired from time to time and with them Mr. Mackintosh has obtained control also of the Pittsburg Building, Tunnel and Fire Brick works at Gratztown, and the Sewickley Supply Company, a general store company, the operations of which will likely now be extended to other mines in this group.

The formalities attending the transfer of the properties to the new company have occupied several weeks. The charter was secured through Paul W. Miller, Pittsburgh manager of the New Jersey Corporation Guarantee & Trust Company.

NEARLY $5,000 ALREADY IN FOR THE FAIR FUND

Chamber of Commerce Has Secured About One-Third of Its St. Louis Purse.

Contributions to the fund of $25,000, the chamber of commerce aims to raise in order to give Pittsburgh fitting representation at the Louisiana Purchase exposition, of St. Louis, next year, are beginning to come in. The chamber has already had introduced in councils an ordinance appropriating $10,000 to this fund; the balance, $15,000, will have to be contributed from private sources in order to make the $10,000 available.

One feature of the proposed display will be an immense relief map; then there will be a display of the raw and manufactured materials of Pittsburgh, together with many pictures and a grand electrical display. The following shows the list of contributors up to date:

Gartner & Co., $25; Merchants & Manufacturers National bank, $200. Total, $4,475.

Fright Made Them Unconscious.

Fright nearly caused the death of three Hungarian laborers employed at the Homestead steel works yesterday. They were working near a pile of steel rails, when three of the rails fell and one of them struck the three men and knocked them down. They were aroused from their stupor and after a careful examination no injuries could be found on them. It is thought they were so thoroughly frightened that they were rendered unconscious. They all returned to work.

Will Use X-Ray on Sheraden.

The condition of William J. Sheraden, who is at the Mercy hospital suffering from a gunshot wound in the back, was reported yesterday as unchanged. So far the doctors have been unable to probe for the bullet, but hope some time within the next 24 hours to use an X-ray, after which the results can be better determined. Mr. Sheraden was shot on Friday night, being mistaken for a burglar while entering his own home.

Arrested for Selling Cocaine.

Dr. Samuel H. Ridehour of No. 427 Third avenue was released on $1,000 bail last night. He was arrested on a warrant sworn out by Inspector Bernard McStay. This is the first prosecution in Pittsburgh under the new cocaine law enacted by the last legislature.

LARKIN HOLDS UP DETECTIVES' PAY

Wallace and Seifert Must Convince Controller They Are Residents of Pittsburgh.

FORMER LIVED IN CANTON

One is Personal Appointee of Mayor Hays—Larkin Says Administration Cannot Go Outside for Sleuths Unless They Are Experts.

Alexander Wallace, better known as "Buck" Wallace, and Oscar Seifert, employes of the bureau of detectives, cannot get any pay from the city for their services until they prove to the satisfaction of Controller Larkin that they are residents of Pittsburgh and entitled to hold the positions to which they have been appointed. Controller Larkin yesterday held up the warrants of Detectives Wallace and Seifert for June.

The payrolls of the various departments have been sent in early to the controller's office to enable all the city's employes to get their money for June before the Fourth of July. The payroll containing the names of Seifert and Wallace was received by the controller yesterday, and he at once ordered that neither man be given their warrants until an investigation had been made into their cases.

The controller said that the work of a detective was not of such a character that it was necessary for the public safety officials to go outside of the city for talent. The controller said he would put the burden of proof upon the two men and they would have to show, beyond all doubt, that they live in Pittsburgh and that they lived here for six months previous to their appointments. Wallace came here recently from Canton, O., where he had a saloon. He is said to be Mayor Hays' personal appointee. Seifert is said to have been a resident of Allegheny until two months ago.

The action of the controller has greatly pleased the councilmen from the Thirteenth ward, as Wallace's appointment was credited to their ward and taken from the number of appointments which the ward was allotted.

Our July Clearance.

It begins tomorrow, and all the vim and push possible, on our part, will be put into this period of clearance; the pertinent little prices that will be named for all manner of goods, such as are on sale in the 70 departments of this store, will be potent enough to enlist the greatest enthusiasm on the part of the buying public.

You may be sure the patronage of this big store grows with the wonderfully big growth of the Greater City of Pittsburg. Frankly, we never had such continuous heavy selling as through the Spring months just ended with June. Inasmuch as it is estimated the population of Greater Pittsburg has increased from the June of 1902 to the June of 1903 some 50,000, it is easy to be seen that new residents find their way to this store quickly.

We hope every reader of our store news will anticipate something remarkable tomorrow in the way of remarkably less-prices. It is pretty well understood that we quote less prices day in and day out of each year for the best goods, and that when we make a clearance, prices are brought down to unparalleled figures.

It is no odd train of circumstances that causes these reductions, simply the rotation of regular merchandising—which is nothing more nor less than getting rid of goods at the end of a season for little or nothing.

Set a mark for great expectation tomorrow and realize it to the full.

Cotton, which is already at a high price, is likely to be forced higher by the appearance of the boll weevil in Texas and other things injurious to the crop. English mills are shutting down for lack of raw material and because there is no margin of profit at prevailing prices. The Egyptian supply affords no relief, so it is discouraging, indeed, to learn that the American crop of this year is threatened with disaster.

Another horrible elevator accident reminds the public there is much to be desired in the better safeguarding of human life entrusted to these modern conveniences. Elevators ought never to fall. They can be built so they will not. It is a mere matter of cost. No petty economy ought to be permitted to jeopard human life which cannot be estimated in dollars and cents. There is need for a general overhauling of elevators hereabouts. A system of inspection that would prevent accidents rather than place the blame for them would be esteemed.

Pittsburgh learns with regret that Senator Marcus A. Hanna cannot honor it with his presence on the Fourth of July. Pittsburgh admires the Cleveland statesman for qualities of head and heart he has exhibited during his public career, and would have given him a royal welcome and rapt attention if he could have found it possible to come here and speak. Fate and the senator's previously made plans have decreed otherwise. But if the worst comes to the worst we will celebrate the Fourth anyway and depend upon local talent for oratory.

Last evening's session of common council wasted valuable time discussing how the Pennsylvania ordinance should be considered instead of proceeding with its consideration. Having decided upon a method we hope it will now proceed sensibly, make the essential amendments to protect the city against any damages and to limit the time for removal of the tracks from Liberty avenue, and then pass the ordinance. The present opportunity to reclaim Liberty avenue ought not to be frittered away upon any nice notions of abstract justice. If it was a new franchise compensation in cash could be demanded, but in this case the exchange of franchises is for the city's welfare.

The announcement that the United States Steel Corporation has booked orders for more than 360,000 tons of steel rails for next year's delivery at prevailing prices indicates abundantly the soundness of the material prosperity of the country. It is estimated, however, the total requirements of the country in the matter of steel rails will reach 390,000,000, railroad managers being forehanded in figuring upon their needs. This amount will keep the American mills busy, and if there are demands not now foreseen, it is probable importations will have to be made, as they were last year, despite the increase in domestic productive capacity. It is such facts that dispose men of capital to pay little attention to possible vicissitudes in Wall street.

Violence is not to be countenanced in any case, because it breeds violence. We have no sympathy with those clergymen who have been trying to justify the lynching of the negro, White, at Wilmington, Del., and we have no more sympathy with Rev. Easton at Washington, Pa., who makes that mob the occasion to advise his colored parishioners to arm themselves for a race war. That would be mighty poor advice from the rostrum, and it is worse from the pulpit. There is no occasion for intemperate language of that sort. The violence at Wilmington has bred the violent language of the Washington clergyman, but it does not excuse it, any more than the inhuman crime of White afforded excuse for burning him at the stake. There is law enough in this country and it is time that all were forced to respect its majesty.

Select council took the sensible view of the ordinance for widening Virgin alley between Smithfield and Grant streets and passed it unanimously. There is entire agreement in every quarter that more street room is needed in the downtown section, and there are few available places to increase it. Diamond and Virgin alleys have offered opportunities. Within a few years the latter will be the scene of extensive building operations, and after that the cost of widening would be prohibitive. On that part covered by the ordinance passed yesterday, Mr. Henry C. Frick is a large holder of property, and it is understood he will deal liberally in the matter of damages. Altogether, the Virgin alley widening is likely to be effected at less cost than the improvement of Diamond, and in connection with the freeing of Liberty street from obstruction these improvements will be of inestimable benefit to the city. Short-sighted policy brought Pittsburgh to its present congested condition and it is gratifying to note a broader spirit in face of the imminent danger of stagnation.

One of the most successful of the meetings of the Pennsylvania Bar association is the ninth annual session at Cambridge Springs. There is always much interesting discussion at these conventions and usually an annual address by one of the recognized masters of law that affords the profession food for thought. The address yesterday was by James B. Dill, Esq., of New York, one of the best authorities on corporate law. His subject was "New Jersey's Corporate Policy," and he handled it with skill and frankness, criticising quite as freely as he praised. Incidental to his subject he discussed the corporations organized under New Jersey's laws and in that direction he was equally frank, recognizing some as conservative business concerns and others as financial bubbles. He declared truly that some industrials are quoted below their real values, determined by earnings and dividends, because many are highly inflated and the public has not yet learned to discriminate between them. In the words of Mr. J. Pierpont Morgan, they are "undigested securities," and in this connection Mr. Dill suggested that laws should provide that stockholders might obtain the information essential to making just estimates. This suggestion will strike a popular chord.

No More Commissions Needed.

Just seven years ago, by an ordinance approved June 10, 1896, a commission, composed of the mayor and presidents of councils and eight representative citizens, was appointed to investigate the water supply of Pittsburgh and to report plans for its purification. The commission organized by the election of Robert Pitcairn as chairman, William McConway as vice chairman and George L. Holliday as secretary. The commission secured the assistance of experts of national reputation—Allen Hazen of New York as consulting engineer, Morris Knowles of Lawrence, Mass., as resident engineer, Dr. Walther Riddle of this city as chemist and William A. Copeland of Lawrence, Mass., as bacteriologist. The commission as a body visited the city of Lawrence, where filtration has brought the typhoid fever death rate down from 13.44 per ten thousand of population to 1.7, and also visited some mechanical filtration plants in New York city. Subcommittees inspected the methods of water supply at Louisville, Cincinnati, Covington, London, Paris, Antwerp, Bremen, Hamburg and Berlin. After thorough investigation and experiment, carried on for over three years, the commission reported unanimously in favor of sand filtration.

The report was adopted and in 1900 an issue of city bonds was authorized for the purpose of establishing a sand filtration plant, and the sum of $2,510,093 04 was realized. Of that amount about $300,000 have been expended for the site and plans, leaving a balance of $2,218,347 51 still available. The money is lying in the bank and all work is arrested, because the ordinances providing for the letting of the contract have been held up by the council committee on filtration. Meanwhile, there has been no hold-up of typhoid fever. Pittsburgh, which has the world's highest death rate from typhoid fever, keeps steadily increasing that deadly pre-eminence. The rate was 12.47 per 10,000 in 1901, 13.08 in 1902, and for the first four months of the present year it reached 13.75.

Light is now thrown on the causes of delay by the announcement that the council committee is at last going to find a quorum and will report that there is not enough money on hand to build the plant according to the plans. Then a new commission is to be appointed to investigate the comparative advantages of sand and mechanical filtration and report back to councils. In other words, all the work done and money spent is to be thrown away and we are to go back to the beginning.

If anybody wants information as to the comparative advantages of sand and mechanical filtration he can get it in abundance in the report of the filtration commission published in January, 1900. Mechanical filtration is discussed in all its phases. The commission went about their task with open minds and all the mechanical filter companies were applied to for information. The operation of mechanical filters is described in detail with illustrative diagrams, and minute reports are made of results obtained by them. There is nothing to be learned as to the respective merits of sand filtration and mechanical filtration that is not contained in the voluminous report of the commission, and there is no need or any sort of good use for any more commissions.

In reaching a unanimous decision in favor of sand filtration, the commission had the support of the experience of the civilized world. Wherever the highest of sanitary science prevails sand filtration is the approved mode. That is the method by which the great cities of Europe keep down the typhoid fever death rate. The problem of securing a pure water supply is much more difficult in crowded Europe than in this country, but in London, with a population of over four and a half millions, the typhoid fever death rate in 1901 was only 1.31 per ten thousand; in Paris, with 2,660,559 population, 1.29; in Berlin, with 1,891,900, only .47. Such is the sanitary care practiced in German cities that in none of them is the death rate from this cause so much as 1 per ten thousand, and in Nuremburg and Frankfort it is below .25 per ten thousand. Compare such figures with the Pittsburgh rate of 13.75 per ten thousand. The difference expresses the slaughter of human life in this city by the misconduct and inefficiency of our municipal government.

Mechanical filtration is really not filtration at all, but is a straining of the water supply after chemical treatment to precipitate its muddy ingredients. Sulphate of alumina is added to the water, and its decomposition purifies the water by giving out sulphuric acid, which unites with the lime present in the water, and the alumina is released to form a precipitate which carries off with it the turbidity of the water. The process properly carried on is safe and efficient, but it is by no means automatic. If the amount of lime in the water is not sufficient to combine with the sulphuric acid, then the excess passes off in the water supply, rusting pipes and making the water offensive to the taste, even when the acidity is not great enough to be deleterious. The amount of lime in the water fluctuates, so that the amount of sulphate of alumnia that may be safely added varies greatly in amount. In the experiments with Allegheny river water, carried on by the commission, the amount varied from 1.39 to 4.77 grains of sulphate of alumina per gallon. Do we possess the sort of municipal service that will ensure accuracy in doctoring our daily water supply?

The cost of installing an alum water plant is less than sand filtration, because no extensive reservoirs are necessary. The water is clarified by chemical treatment, but, eventually, the plant wears out just as any factory plant will do. A sand filtration plant is more costly to install, because it is virtually a reservoir of large area, arranged in compartments, so that the influent water can be turned now into one compartment and now in another. It is purified by filtering through thick beds of sand, subjecting pathogenic germs to the ravages of benevolent micro-organisms, and the process is as sure as it is efficient. The plant is permanent as much so as any other reservoir. The site for the plant has been selected at Aspinwall and all that is necessary is to let the contracts and go ahead with the work. There are plenty of funds for the present. It will be time enough to raise more funds when they are needed. Only one interpretation can be put upon the present hold-up and suggested councilmanic commission, namely, that there is a scheme afoot to give the people alum water instead of filtered water.

Why Society Protests.

A Chicago clergyman, who in his sermon on Sunday devoted himself to an attempt to make lynching appear better than it is, was forced to admit that indulgence in it "forms the habit of disorder and makes men bloodthirsty." Nevertheless, he upheld the action of the mob at Wilmington, Del., and of mobs elsewhere by a process of false reasoning, which, starting from a wrong premise, was sure to lead to a wrong conclusion. His subject was "Lynching from Another Point of View." The other point of view seems to be that the crime for which a negro was burned to death was so much worse than lynching as to make lynching a reputable proceeding by comparison. It is not properly, however, a question of whether one crime is made reputable by comparison with another. The real question is whether lynching is justifiable where there is a complete machinery of justice for protection against and punishment of crime. There is no question anywhere that the orderly processes for the punishment of crime act as a check upon criminal impulses. The reverend apologist for lynching admits that the disorderly punishment of crime "forms the habit of disorder," and that lynching "makes men bloodthirsty." Then shall the press and the pulpit encourage it with their approval? Shall they say that the crime that arouses the spirit of the mob is a justification of its action? Wilmington during the past week has been a sufficient answer. Society cannot afford to encourage habits of disorder and bloodthirstiness. It is its duty and the duty of its established agencies to suppress them. It is not consideration for the victim of lynching that makes it a duty, but consideration for the safety of society itself. The victim is not the point of dispute, but the substitution of mob vengeance for the orderly processes of justice. When the Chicago preacher said, "we shudder at the torture of the criminal who is burned, but apparently forget to shudder for the innocent girl," he misrepresented the objections to lynching. When he said, "if men object to being burned, let them cease from crimes which make a nation sick," he entirely ignored the truth that it is not the punishment inflicted by the mob that is objected to so much as it is the fact that it is a mob that inflicts it.

The President's Pledge.

A report comes from Washington with a considerable air of authority that on his visit to the White House last week Senator Hanna was urged by President Roosevelt to continue at the head of the Republican national committee in the next campaign. There has been no official confirmation of the story, but failing a denial of it from any quarter it may be accepted as true.

Senator Hanna has been at the head of the national committee since the first nomination of McKinley. It was a strenuous campaign and a reward of good generalship was Ohio's election of the national chairman to the senate of the United States. The second McKinley campaign was less strenuous than the first, but there was sufficient to tax the fine qualities which the working head of the Republican forces brought to bear to accomplish the final demoralization of the Democracy. The second McKinley triumph and the firm adherence of Roosevelt to the policies which established McKinley in the confidence of the people, his extension of those policies and their application to new questions until the policies of McKinley have become the policies of Roosevelt, approved of and supported by the people, have assured the nomination and election of Roosevelt in 1904, thus making the task of the chairman of the Republican national committee next year a comparatively easy one. If President Roosevelt has now asked Senator Hanna to continue at the head of the national committee it is, first, in compliment to the work done by him in two campaigns, and his support of national policies in and out of congress, but, second, and more important, it is a pledge to the people that in the four years to come the policies of McKinley and Roosevelt will be continued. The well-known relations of President McKinley with the man who managed his two campaigns make it so. It is not certain that Senator Hanna will accede to the president's request. He pleads ill health and advancing years. But whether or not he continues as national chairman the news that the president has asked and urged him to remain will be regarded by the people as a guarantee stronger than the national platform that the president will continue on the straight lines of Republican policy along which he and the nation are progressing together. No pledge, it is true, was required, but it is none the less gratifying for its voluntariness.

In the selection of a location for his summer home the president has given the oyster a chance to keep his name in print at a time when he would be otherwise quite a back number.

Good-by, old June. Perhaps we should Extend congratulations,
For while you brought no summer time
You brought no heat prostrations.

Baltimore says that if the national conventions will meet in that town crabs will be plentiful. The conventions are doubtless expected to furnish their own lobsters.

Lightning struck a Blairsville church for the second time yesterday. There is no significance attached to the fact that they were taking up a collection at the time.

If ex-Secretary Long imagines he is going to get anybody excited over the Sampson-Schley controversy at this stage of the game he is very much mistaken.

It is the heat that it has generated itself and not the weather that will be offered as an excuse for a vacation for the postal investigation.

Pittsburgh churches evidently relish the idea that they have mortages to burn by the unanimous way in which they are burning them.

With the noise that it usually makes it is no wonder you can hear the Fourth of July coming a week before it gets here.

Admiral Cotton no doubt feels as much elated as the price of the American article in the stock market has been recently.

King Edwarrd, it is said, has tabooed the Panama hat. The June weather in America did that long ago.

Senator Hanna should feel at home among the Pittsburgh captains of industry on the nation's birthday.

Still it is not believed that Senator Hanna would prefer the Salvation Army to the presidency.

Mr. Hanna may still have to resort to the injunction process to stop that vice presidential boom.

King Peter is another gentleman who has a high regard for the man behind the guns.

Shamrock III. made a fine impression in her first trial trips, but the cup is still safe.

It is a case of "I don't care if you never come back" in telling June good-by today.

Where is Poultney Bigelow during all this international love-making at Kiel?

Mr. Bryan doubtless would prefer to tackle the "Iowa ideas" one at a time.

Atlantic City is yearning for the Pittsburgh brand of excursionist.

IN THE EYE OF FAME.

Ex-Lieut.-Gov. Timothy L. Woodruff of New York will act as one of the ringmasters in the coming society circus for charity in Syracuse.

Of the ministers of the second empire of France there are still living M. Pinard and Emile Ollivier. The first named remains an ardent imperialist.

Alfred M. Gottschalk of New York, who has been United States consul at San Juan del Norte, Nicaragua, has been promoted to be consul at Callao, Peru.

A Viennese journalist declares that Wilhelm II., if he had not inherited a throne, would have made an ideal editor. He knows everything that is going on, and never loses a chance to say the first word about current events.

Dr. Elvira Castner of Marinefelde, near Berlin, who was one of the first German women to come to this country to study a profession closed to her in Germany, has given up her profession of dentistry after many years of successful work and is devoting herself to a school of horticulture for women.

Rebuking the Howlers.

Don't howl about the corn crop until you are hurt. June 30, 1892, the corn wasn't as large as the first planting this year was June 1, and the last planting will beat the Iowa corn of 1892 by July 4; and we had corn for ourselves and Joseph's brethren. Haven't you noticed what the good Lord can do for an Iowa corn crop in July and August? And He generally does it, too. Last year was the Lord's year off on corn in Iowa. We kicked too much and prayed too little. We howled too much about dry weather the year before, and had a good corn crop, too. Now trust in the Lord and Iowa soil; both are reliable—we know it, we feel it. Too much water is bad, too little is worse. The hills can smile this year where the valleys smiled two years ago. The good Lord will take care of Iowa.—Britt (Ia.) Tribune.

Kentucky's Assassins.

The Breathitt county murderers are not brave men, but cowardly savages. Whenever they are brought to law, they lie and cringe and bribe to get out of their difficulties. The only sort of bravery they have is that of taking human life from a safe hiding place. It will be an everlasting stain upon the commonwealth of Kentucky if all these murderers are not run down and exterminated.—Memphis Commercial-Appeal.

THE LECTURER.

If I sh'd live a hundred years
I'll not forget the time
We had a lectur' course, an' got
"The King o' Prose an' Rhyme."
The bureau sent him on to us,
All guaranteed to please—
An' when I think about it now
I trimble in the knees.

We had to use the little church
For lectur' room an' hall;
An' when he sprung his "prose an' rhyme"
I thought the sky would fall.
There wan't no sin in what he said—
But laws! it shocked the folks.
The only thing that speaker told
Was one long string o' jokes!

An' bein' in the church that way,
All congregation-like,
You know how any sort o' fun
Is mighty quick to strike.
Well, he told mebbe five or six,
When Hiram Bell—yes, sir,
Old Hiram—up an' hustled out,
Face in the his hankercher.

An' Dudley Tigg—My lan'! I thought
That Dud would surely choke
When he held back a snicker, at
About the fifteenth joke.
Why, anywheres you'd chose to look
You see 'em chew their lip
For fear the laugh inside o' them
Would start out on a trip!

So, by-an'-by, the lecturer,
He seemed to get distressed,
An' 'lowed he'd hafto quit—he said
He wasn't at his best.
I was relieved. Say, as to jokes,
That fellow knew a raft.
If he'd told more—Well, church or not,
I nach'ly would 'a' laughed!

—W. D. Nesbit, in Chicago Tribune.

The Quiet Observer.

ERASMUS WILSON.

Plato having defined man to be a two-legged animal without feathers, Diogenes plucked a cock and brought it into the academy, and said: "This is Plato's man." On which account this addition was made to the definition, "with broad flat nails."
—Diogenes.

Our old friend—your old friend, too—Diogenes was an odd sort, and not a bad sort at that. And yet he was about the worst sort to take a fall out of, as many of the ancient smart alecs learned to their entire satisfaction.

He would frequently praise those who were about to marry, but never married himself.

He was a philosopher.

A man once asked him what was the proper time for supper, and he made answer: "If you are a rich man, whenever you please; and if you are a poor man, whenever you can."

Once he lighted a candle in the daytime and went round saying: "I am looking for a man."

Woman, thy name is Diogenesia.

* * * * *

Woman is all right, don't you think?

Sure! She always has been and always will be, no matter what foolish men may say. The fact that some men don't marry is no reflection on woman, but rather, it is evidence that men are not fit to marry—that is, they are not built that way.

You see, the style of men differ, the style of some being to marry, and of some not to marry, because they don't want to, and some because they can't. Of course any sort of a man can marry if he is willing to take any sort of a woman, particularly any old sort.

The average bachelor cannot tell why he has not married, but simply points to the fact that he has not and has no immediate prospect of doing so. No doubt he would like to know the reason himself, and would thank some one for telling him.

Lacking the peculiar style he will not be admitted to the circle of marriagables, nor permitted to join the elect. Not that he is a social outcast, nor lacking in the means and manners of marriagable men, but that he is not built that way. In other words he is hard to match, or rather, hard to mate, and without being mated he would be less happy, and consequently less useful than he is.

* * * * *

This amicable war has been going on between men and women since—dear knows when. It is a wholesome sort of war, and will hardly end as long as there are men and women to marry, which promises to be a very, very long time.

And it is a good thing, dont you think? It stirs both sides up to do their very best, and as long as they act honest and fair it makes better men and women of them, but when they undertake to win by cheating, fraud and deception, then it is worse for all.

The man who wins a wife by making himself appear different from what he really is, will be worse off than if he hadn't married at all!

Nor will the woman fare any better who indulges in illusions of dress for man's delusion. He will discover the delusion, sure, and then there will be the—well, there'll be something to pay. He will feel that he has been fooled, duped, sold, and that isn't a good sort of feeling. In fact it is the very worst sort of feeling for a man to have toward the woman he has taken to be his wife—the woman he took for better or worse, and found that she is worse.

Nor can a woman become easily reconciled to the man who has fooled her with marrying him. An unreconciled, and unreconcilable woman, is the worst ever. She is never her sweet, confiding, loving self again. And can you blame her?

* * * * *

Mr. Quiet Observer: May I ask what unpardonable sin "woman" has committed that she is continually criticised and "torn up" through your columns?

What part does the "lord high executioner," viz. man, play in this life's drama?

I'll admit that ever since Mother Eve's appearance upon this good old earth things have taken a decidedly interesting turn—for the better (?)—in more ways than one.

Had she not tempted Father Adam how could we have known the superiority of our sex? Did he not say (man like), "Eve, you offered the apple, and I did eat?"

Of course he had to accept, just because it was offered. Poor thing! Too weak to refuse.

From that time until the present age woman has been the target at which the weaker factor has aimed. She has been such a convenient piece of mechanism, upon which the "Adonis" of our homes can lay the blame when things do not move along to suit his sweet will.

But who is really at fault? Not the man—oh, no! Never, never! The very thought is preposterous. He is such a complacent, good-tempered, altogether lovely being, that just to "feel his presence near" surely ought to suffice. He considers himself so nice to look upon that he deems it unnecessary to speak while in the home. Talk to the wife, be merry with the children? The idea! It is not enough that he has condescended to remain at home for the evening? Should they not be satisfied with that? Has he not exerted every effort to be pleasant and courteous while at his office? Why should he inconvenience himself to such an extent to the members of his own family. Can't he be left alone with his papers and cigars to enjoy the quiet of his own fireside?

What an audacity for wife and children to impose their presence upon him. It is such a annoyance!

Poor things! What a genuine pleasure to have the lord and master spend an evening at home. They tip-toe around; not allowed near the room in which he sits, much less, speak to him. If, by chance, the wife is permitted in his presence, he sits in an absent-minded way, gazing into space. If she ventures a question, it, alas! also goes into space. Is not the master busy? Is he not thinking? How dare she presume to disturb him? Does not her bread and butter depend upon the wisdom of his thoughts? Then why trouble him? What are her petty troubles, compared with his? With fear and trembling, lest she has worried him, she beats a hasty retreat, not to see his majesty again until the next morning at breakfast, when his voice is really audible, but only because something is not to his liking.

But what difference! Is his conscience not at ease? Has he not performed his duty? Did he not spend the whole previous evening at home? Happy thought for him perhaps, but alas! for the unfortunate victims with whom he has come in contact.

It seems to me if Samuel Johnson were living today he would have to reverse his criticism. If he could see some of his gender at the present day, his quotation would surely be changed, if not it would only be because he was a man, therefore, contrary.

Now, it strikes me that there still remain a few good women, and that the "Troubled Mother" has too much sense to fatten and dress her daughter up to catch anything quite so insignificant as a man.

I think we have heard enough about woman's shortcomings. By way of spice and variety let us have something about "the monarch of all he surveys"—in his own estimation:

"It's my idee," says Uncle Ned, "that purty nigh every growed-up human Belongin' to the sterner sex has kindly feelin's toward a woman.
An' yet, how many men will say, an' jest as if they sort o' love it,
When some weak mortal goes astray, "A woman's at the bottom of it!"

I calculate I've been around about as much as anybody
Observin' all the ways o' folks, an' after purty careful study
It's my conclusion that the men secure 'bout
all the credit due 'em,
While women, as a rule, don't get the praise that should be comin' to 'em.

Just take the leaders o' the world—they'll tell you in some way or other
The strength that made 'em win their fame was borrowed from a wife or mother.
An' if the truth is ever known, the hull truth,
how they got so noted,
Jest lots of statues made for men will be rebuilt an' petticoated.

"I don't maintain all womenfolks are perfect,
an' I've never said it;
Yet, I believe they're doin good, for which the men are gettin' credit.
An' when I see a monument with some man's
I think that jest as like as not, a woman's at the bottom of it."

Talked of in New York

GEORGE C. JENKS.

[By Private Wire to The Gazette.]

NEW YORK, June 29.—A Gazette reader in Washington, Pa., has written to me asking for general information about the metropolis. He would like me to describe the various points of interest to be observed in a trip from the battery to the Bronx on the two divisions of the elevated railroad and again from the rivers on either side of Manhattan island. Of course, my correspondent realizes that this would be a herculean task, and that it could not be done in 20 letters such as I telegraph to The Gazette daily. As his suggestion is in accord with that of many other readers who favor me with communications from time to time, however, I promise him to embody as much information of that nature as I can in the next few weeks, taking the items to be described at random. In answer to one of the specific questions of the Washington subscriber, I may say that there is a guide to New York sold at all the "L" stations news stands, which is fairly good, although New York changes so rapidly that the guide of five years ago is not a complete mentor for today. Several of the newspapers here issue annual books of general information, which will supplement the guides on the "L." Any of these can be procured in Pittsburgh book stores if ordered. They range in price from 10 cents to 50 cents. Answers to other questions will be found in succeeding paragraphs, either today or later.

An Excursion to Little Hungary.

One of the quarters of New York city is that known as "Little Hungary." It can be reached from Broadway by a green horse car, traversing Fourteenth street bound east, or further down town, by a Houston street car. "Little Hungary" lies east of the Bowery, in that busy district where hundreds of thousands of southern Europeans are to be found, each nation in its own particular settlement. Hungarian restaurants are there, in which one can enjoy the polonaises of the nation with the goulash which is cooked as only a Hungarian can prepare it. Native wines are there, too. These are concoctions which cannot be recommended to the unaccustomed visitor, for their effects are such that they may cause one to be in the hands of the police under an accusation of "disorderly conduct" if taken freely. The restaurants are pleasant places, having a flavor of respectable Bohemia which is fascinating to a stranger. The time to go is from 6 o'clock in the evening to midnight. In those hours they are in full swing and the experience cannot but be interesting to a student of human nature or the searcher for the picturesque.

Slumming in Chinatown.

Professional guides, of which there are perhaps as many as in any city in the country, except Washington, will show a stranger in New York more wonders than the regular resident of the city ever wots of. It is in Chinatown and similar famous quarters—the "slums"—that the guide is particularly prone to unveil mysteries little suspected. It is well known that when a professional guide has a slumming party eager for thrills in his charge he will send a friend ahead to warn the denizens to get ready. So, when the party gets fairly into the Pell, Doyers and Mott street quarter, known as Chinatown, he may be sure of coming across more opium joints in full blast than the police ever see. Grave Mongolians, with here and there a hectic-cheeked young woman, will be found hitting the pipe, and fan-tan will be found in full swing in many a burrow in the crazy old buildings of the district. There is never a lack of sensations for the slumming party if it has a good guide.

A "Touching" Incident Often Occurs.

One of the sensations occasionally arranged for the benefit of a slumming party is to bring forward some young woman who tells a pitifully pathetic story of her life in Chinatown. When she has worked up the sympathies of her hearers to what she thinks is the proper pitch, she will suddenly announce her intention to "end it all," and swallow a glassful of what is supposed to be carbolic acid with her beer. Then it is the cue for the guide to warn his party to get out quickly to avoid being held as witnesses in the house of detention, while the young woman pulls herself together and counts the money she has received from the visitors. This is only one of many tricks of the trade common to professional guides and experience has taught them that it is one of the most effective.

Weather Discounts a Strike.

Somewhat of a damper was put on labor movements today by a rainstorm which began at 3 o'clock this morning and has continued nearly ever since. It has been the heaviest rainfall of the year, descending in sheets very different from the gentle showers of the last three weeks. The "house shorers" had arranged to go on strike. But as they could not work anyhow in such weather, their strike was discontinued. The Fuller company employes have fixed up their difficulties and some of them will return to work tomorrow, if there is not too much rain. They may not do it, however. The weather man tonight says tomorrow will be "unsettled." As a matter of fact the weather has more to do with settling labor disputes in the building trades than all the boards of arbitrations that ever met.

Morgan's Church Is Approved.

J. Pierpont Morgan's church, St. George's in Stuyvesant square, of which the Rev. Dr. Rainsford is pastor, has been declared by the Rev. Dr. Fillingham of England to be "a church where a Protestant could worship without being outraged." This is praise, indeed. Mr. Fillingham will sail for home on Wednesday. But he will be back, and then let Bishop Potter look out.

New Game Works Successfully.

Pickpockets have struck a new game which works successfully too. They step up to an open car in a busy district and snatch pocketbooks out of the laps of women on the ends of the seats. Before the woman can yell intelligibly enough to let people know what is the matter the car has plunged ahead and the thief is a block away, diving down some side street or into an office where he can make his exit at another doorway or be carried up in an elevator, to be lost amid the hundreds of offices on the upper floors. The police caught one of these fellows a day or two ago, but it is too good a "graft" to be discouraged by one arrest.

Better Air for Tenements.

The opening of the fish market for peddlers near the approach to the new Williamsburg bridge across the East river has proved such a good thing that Commissioner Woodbury of the street cleaning department wants to have a peddlers' fruit market in the neighborhood as well. There will be a vacant strip about 50 feet wide and 10 blocks long close to the fish market, when some tall trestlework there in connection with the bridge shall be removed, which will give room for 2,000 stands for the sale of fruit, vegetables and bread. The purpose of the peddlers' markets is to clear the streets of the East Side of the push carts which block so many residence thoroughfares and thus give the tenement dwellers better air to breath in the summer than they have had for the last 100 years.

The Gazette Almanac.

FRANK A. PARKER.

June seems trying, in her dying hours, to wipe out a record that would cause the blush of shame to flush the cheek of the hardiest of sinners. But it is only a death-bed repentance, and though our Washington Bureau reports that today will be fair and pleasant, it is best not to take chances, for you can not tell what is going to happen during the next 12 hours.

And Now Good-by.

For thirty days we've stood for you,
But now adieu;
Without a sigh, we say good-by,
And not one tear bedims the eye.
Ushered in with rain and snow,
We'd like to know
How you could greet your friends of old,
With hands so clammy, heart so cold.

In heartless cantankerousness
And nastiness,
You've done your best, and all the rest
Is now wiped from the royal crest
You've worn, as Fairest Month, for years,
And now with jeers
We hoot at you, and curse the day
That you supplanted Lovely May.

Harsh things we've said of you, and yet
We may regret
In coming years, and with our tears
Show penitence, if time but clears
This one foul blot that dims your fame;
Then will we claim
From you, Fair June, the right to raise
Our voice in happy songs of praise.

The Sweet Girl Graduates are of the past, but Cupid will continue at the old stand, and the brides will be just as fair, and just as happy, and in after years, perhaps, have just as many regrets as those he beguiled into double harness in June.

When the Groom Played Even.

On Wednesday evening of last week there was a quiet little home wedding in Allegheny, and the groom determined that he would not be annoyed by the kind attentions of the friends who had invested a goodly portion of their week's earnings in rice and [illegible] were only [illegible] the wedding, and there [illegible] at the door. The wise groom [illegible] sent to the West Penn depot at [illegible] a carriage standing around the corner from the bride's home, to which he fled [illegible] at the moment he considered the most propitious.

The bride and groom had only been gone a moment before they were missed, and it was the work of a few moments to discover that they were en route to Etna. This started a race of three carriages to catch one and the three were standing beside the Etna station when the one arrived. Result, a bride and groom showered with rice, and a large bunch of old shoes lying around for the railroad men to gather up the next day.

But the groom got even. He had employed the drivers of the carriages, and they knew it. So when he went around and told the four drivers that they would not longer be needed, they drove off, never stopping to notice the wraps and hats that were on the inside until they reached the stable.

After the train was gone, real trouble started. Young ladies in evening attire, minus hats and wraps and threatened by a rapidly approaching storm, could not see the joke, and several of the men were also left hatless miles from home.

That explains why a number of hatless gentlemen in evening dress escorted a number of young ladies dressed as for a social function into the city on the street cars, much to the horror of a number of severely conventional people who were witnesses to the strange happening.

'Tis the way of the world, muttered June as she sneaked away through the back alley. I thought I was really beloved, but in time of stress, I find I had none but fair weather friends.

Jack's Sense of Humor.

Jack is a Great Dane dog owned by a couple of boys who live in Oakland avenue. He has but one fault, he is a denizen of the night. It is one of Jack's chief pleasures to meet a certain night worker long after 12 each night, and walk a few blocks with him. The night worker has become so accustomed to the companionship of Jack each night that if he were to fail to appear, he would feel lonesome.

A few nights ago, as the night worker got off the car, he was accosted by a man very much under the influence of liquid corn, who insisted on walking by his side. In a moment Jack appeared. He took in the situation at once, and after giving his friend a kiss on the hand, turned his attention to the stranger. Creeping slowly up behind him, Jack seized the stranger's coat tails in his teeth and began a series of gyrations that augered ill for the equilibrium of the victim.

After three or four turns that caused the incapacitated gentleman to cut several circles and a star—all the while yelling for succor—Jack let go his hold, rushed over and licked his friend's hand, then, giving a little bark to show his appreciation of the situation, scurried off toward home, well satisfied with his night's pleasure.

Science and Burglary.

That a series of particularly audacious burglaries lately committed on the South Side should turn out to have been the work of robbers who travel to and from their nightly toil in automobiles is not to be considered at all surprising, says the Chicago News. Moreover, it would be to the last degree illogical and unscientific to charge this new grievance up against the automobile, which is a useful factor in civilization and is too often unjustly blamed as it is. The simple fact is, of course, that when science increases the opportunities of the human race in any direction it increases the opportunities of all alike and makes no distinctions as to persons. The invention of dynamite was of vast importance to the miner and tunnel-digger and to the gentlemen of the road who occasionally open express cars in an informal way. Similarly, the automobile was bound sooner or later to become a useful invention for the enterprising and up-to-date burglar. In the hands of a skilled robber who is also an automobilist it is at once a vehicle for the transportation of booty, a means of escape and a weapon of offense.

Praise for the "Pirates."

So the Pittsburgh National league baseball team has at last assumed the place of leader, a place that has belonged to it from the season's start, by right of skill and experience. It should remain there to the end. It is the one veteran team. The other seven are more or less new aggregations. But Pittsburgh besides having splendid individual talent, has men who, most of them, have played several seasons together, and they thoroughly understand the science of the game, and, what is more, they know and understand each other. No team in the league has that finish that the men from the Smoky City display.—Brooklyn Times.

TWIXT POISON AND POLITICS

Coroner Attempts to Fathom the Mystery of Recorder J. O. Brown's Death.

EFFORT TO SHOW VIOLENCE

Only Two Witnesses Examined and Case May Be Prolonged Several Days—A Deadly Drug Is Hinted at as the Cause of His Death.

If Pittsburgh's late city recorder, Joseph Owen Brown, was not a victim of slow poisoning, he was harrassed to death by politicians. One of these two varying conclusions must be arrived at by the coroner's jury, according to the testimony given yesterday at the opening of the inquest. The presence of a mysterious box, which, it is rumored, contained capsules of cyanide of potash, has been introduced into the case, and it is to the effects of these drugs that the recorder's death may be traced. After the examination of two witnesses, Mrs. Ella Brown, the recorder's widow, and Walter R. Black, the recorder's nephew, the inquisition was adjourned until this afternoon. The case is likely to continue several days.

The questions propounded by the coroner are calculated to unfold sensational evidence. The investigation, which is being made upon the formal demand of James R. P. Brown, a brother of the recorder, is to settle finally the theory that death was due to violence.

Brother Has Elaborate Theories.

J. R. P. Brown has made a searching inquiry on his own account, and the examination of the witnesses yesterday showed that he has evolved elaborate theories as to the cause of his brother's sudden end on Sunday afternoon, March 15.

Mr. Black admitted receiving the box of capsules, and in answer to the coroner's questions said he had destroyed both the box and its contents. He said he did not know what the capsules contained. At this interesting point the inquest adjourned, but the doubt is partially cleared away by the statement made by one interested in the case that the capsules were largely constituted of cyanide of potash, and the hint that the reports of the chemists who examined the vital organs of J. O. Brown will mention that poison among the ingredients found in the stomach after death.

On the other hand, if these theories are not supported by the facts, there will be no dispute to the evidence that the recorder was a martyr to politics. Both witnesses yesterday testified that that he had declared that he was suffering untold misery from the political turmoil which he had passed through, and had repeated the fear that he would die if tied any longer to public office.

Coroner's Line of Questioning.

How the poison reached the recorder's stomach has not developed at the inquest or in the loquacious gossip which has spread on hundreds of tongues about the court house during the last two months. Coroner McGeary, who is J. O. Brown's nephew, and who has been instrumental with J. R. P. Brown in making the investigation, says he does not know how many witnesses will be called, or to what end he will aim in the examination of witnesses. From the line of his questioning yesterday, it would indicate that he is first trying to decide whether or not death was due to the recorder's own hand. He repeatedly inquired if there was any reason to believe that Mr. Brown had met with foul play, and went into the most minute detail in asking what he had eaten at his last meals.

The famous case drew few spectators. When the coroner took his seat on the bench at 1 o'clock in the afternoon there were less than 10 persons in the room besides the employes, witnesses, attorneys and newspaper men. Mrs. Brown came in accompanied by Attorney W. B. Rodgers, who represents the recorder's estate. Mrs. Brown was attired in deep mourning, wearing an elaborate gown of cashmere applique. Walter Black followed a moment later and took his seat in the back of the room. Both seemed surprised that the crowd was so small. The recorder's brother sat just outside the rail, near the coroner, and took copious notes of the answers made by the witnesses. He was an attentive listener and several times called the coroner aside to confer regarding the turn of affairs or to offer suggestions.

Recorder's Widow on the Stand.

Mrs. Brown was the first witness. Her testimony, in brief, related to her knowledge of the last fortnight of her husband's life. She stated that she had no reason to believe that he had met with foul play, but not being present at his death, was not prepared to say what was the direct cause of his demise. Mr. Black's testimony was of the same character. After each witness had been on the stand about 40 minutes, an adjournment was taken until today.

The formal demand for the coroner's investigation, made by J. R. P. Brown, was read. The petitioner said he did not believe the statement of the attending physicians that death was the result of natural causes was sufficient grounds for accepting the belief with certainty. He had some reason to believe that death had been caused by poison, and for that purpose had called for an official investigation by the Allegheny county authorities.

"What caused the recorder's death?" the coroner asked Mrs. Brown.

"I do not know. He had been in failing health for some time—I should say for four or five months. He told me about being sick, but did not mention his trouble. I went east with him about the first of March. We stopped first at the Astor house, and then went to the Imperial. I did not see him take any medicine. We returned after two days and he seemed very much better after the trip."

Last Time She Saw the Recorder.

"When did you go to New York?"

"On March 10, going first to Philadelphia, where we stopped a short time and then went to New York. We returned to Pittsburgh the same night."

"Did Mr. Brown ever complain to you that some one had given him slow poison?"

"Never."

"Did you ever hear Mr. Brown say that he was threatened with bodily harm?"

"No, sir."

"Where did Mr. Brown go upon arriving from New York on the second trip?"

"On Thursday he went home with me and remained there until Friday morning. I saw him next at City hall, about noon, when we went to the Monongahela club and took luncheon together. He then went to McKee place. It was the last time I saw Mr. Brown alive."

"What did he have for breakfast on Friday morning, March 13?"

"Toast, eggs and coffee."

"Did he eat a second breakfast?"

"I do not know."

"What did he have for luncheon on that day?"

"Oyster patties and clam chowder."

"Had Mr. Brown been taking stimulants or hyperdermic injections?"

"Not to my knowledge."

"Did Mr. Brown leave any ante-mortem statement with you, saying that he feared poisoning or foul play?"

"No."

"Did he complain of his stomach?"

"Yes; he said it was due to nervousness, induced by worry. He said he was harrassed by political conditions."

Mr. Black was called to the witness stand and gave in detail the account of his trip to New York with Recorder and Mrs. Brown, early in March. The questions he was called on to answer were almost identical with those asked Mrs. Brown with reference to the recorder's condition. He said the recorder came to his office in City hall some time before 10 o'clock in the morning and remained more than an hour, devoting his time to conferring with visitors and in opening bids which had been sent in. He went out with Mrs. Brown to luncheon, and never returned. That afternoon he was taken quite ill and on Saturday remained in bed. His death occurred at 4:05 p. m. on Sunday.

"Did Mr. Brown not have a box of medicine?"

"Yes, Miss McLean gave me a box of capsules. I showed them to Dr. W. H. McKelvy and he told me to destroy them. He said Mr. Brown had used them a long time ago. I do not know what the capsules contained."

"Did he ever tell you that some one was poisoning him or that he feared bodily harm?"

"Never!"

A Quarrel Is Hinted At.

"Did you know of any quarrel he had Saturday, or did you hear of any quarrel that day?"

"I certainly did not. He was better on Saturday and so far as I know, he took nothing to make him sleep."

"Did you ever hear him say he wished to die, or did you hear any one else say they wished him dead?"

"No, sir."

"Did you hear anyone say they would put Mr. Brown out of the road?"

"No, sir."

"While he was ill did anyone hold his head or the back of his neck?"

"No, sir."

"Did he complain of any inattention at the house?"

"None whatever. He often told me that if he did not get away from work and the press of politics, that he would not live long."

"Do you know anything that would be useful to the jury in determining the cause of death?"

"I do not. I asked the doctors what caused his death, and they said they had certified that he died a natural death," Mr. Black said.

"You talked to the doctors about it after his death?"

"I did."

"They said," answered Mr. Black, "that they had been ordered by the coroner to make out a certificate that Mr. Brown had died a natural death."

There are at least 12 witnesses to be called. More interest is likely to be shown today when the report of the chemists may be read.

Large Class Confirmed at McKees Rocks.

Three hundred children and ten adults, one of the largest classes ever confirmed in this vicinity, received the rite of confirmation at St. Francis De Sales Roman Catholic church, McKees Rocks, last night. The Rt. Rev. J. F. R. Canevin, bishop coadjutor of Pittsburgh, officiated. The Rev. J. F. Gallagher was sub-deacon. The following priests assisted: The Revs. Thomas Devlin, Holy Cross, South Side; L. M. J. Woelfel, St. Martin's, Brooklyn, N. Y.; M. Hughes, St. Joseph's, Coraopolis, and D. O'Shea, Holy Innocents, Sheraden. The Rev. Father Devlin was master of ceremonies. The Rev. C. J. Coyne is rector of the church, which was erected only a few years ago.

Anti-Strike Organization.

Contractors, employers and labor leaders of McKeesport will meet tonight and attempt to formulate a plan whereby strikes may be avoided. Joseph Bloomenthal, a well-known contractor, is engineering the matter and a charter will be applied for if the organization is successful.

McKeesport Boy Is Missing.

Bowen Hill, the 10-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Hill of No. 1005 Evans avenue, McKeesport, has mysteriously disappeared and no trace of him can be found since he left home last Saturday morning. No reason can be given for his absence, except that he was of a roving disposition.

CARNEGIE TO SUBSCRIBE TO BESSEMER MEMORIAL

Will Take the Form of Metallurgical Research Works to Be Located in London.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]

LONDON, June 29.—An influential meeting took place at the Mansion house today to discuss the erection of a memorial to Sir Henry Bessemer, the English inventor, towards which Andrew Carnegie recently promised to make a substantial subscription. It was resolved that the memorial take the form of a completely equipped metallurgical teaching and research works to be located in London. Prof. Henry Marion Howe of New York warmly seconded the proposal.

In the course of the discussion it was announced that King Edward was fully cognizant of and heartily favored the proposed memorial, which will form an important annex to the Earl of Roseberry's scheme for the establishment of a great institution for advanced scientific and technological education, at a cost of $1,500,000, toward which sum Wernheir, Beit & Company, the well known diamond firm, and others offer large contributions.

ANOTHER SITE OFFERED.

Proposed Location of Washington, Pa., Federal Building May Be Changed.

WASHINGTON, June 29.—(Special.)—The supervising architect of the treasury today received from C. T. Bartlett an offer of another site for the federal building to be constructed at Washington, Pa. It is a piece of property in West Maiden street, near Main street. The price asked is $18,000. The suprevising architect regards it favorably and it may be taken.

Recently the government started condemnation proceedings to obtain a site in North Franklin street. That site, however, is objectionable to many of the people of Washington and they have urged that some other site be taken.

One of the Many Thousand Homes Where Pe-ru-na Is the Family Medicine.

(Many Women Have Catarrh and Do Not Know It.)

WE DO NOT NEED A DOCTOR AS LONG AS WE HAVE PERUNA

Pe-ru-na Cures Catarrh Wherever Located.

Mrs. F. Desaulmiers, 341 Dorchester street, Montreal, Canada, writes:

"Peruna is of untold blessing to women. Peruna builds up the entire system and makes you well. I have the greatest faith in it, for I have never yet found it to fail either my family or myself in time of sickness. I have known it to cure cases of chronic catarrh and stomach troubles of long standing. We do not need a doctor as long as we have Peruna.—Mrs. F. Desaulmiers.

For the most acute cases of dyspepsia and the most chronic and stubborn cases of catarrh of the stomach Peruna is an unfailing cure.

Mr. E. E. Gaston, of Milton, Iowa, in a recent letter to Dr. Hartman, says:

"My wife has been sick with stomach trouble for almost three years.

"During that time we doctored with three of the best doctors in this part of the country, but they did her no good. She fell off in flesh from 134 pounds to 80 pounds, and was unable to do anything; in fact, was confined to her bed a good part of the time. Everything she ate she would throw up, even water. The last doctor we had examined her and said she had cancer of the stomach, and said he could do her no good except to give her something to relieve the pain, and that he would not advise us to have an operation performed. This coming from one whom I have always had great confidence in, you cannot imagine my feelings and thoughts.

"It was then we decided to quit doctoring and try Peruna, and from the beginning it helped her. She is now able to do all her housework. She is gaining in flesh, and I think will soon be back to her former weight.

"To make a long story short, we owe her life to Peruna, for I am satisfied had we not tried it she would now be in the grave."

If you do not derive prompt and satisfactory results from the use of Peruna write at once to Dr. Hartman, giving a full statement of your case and he will be pleased to give you his valuable advice gratis.

Address Dr. Hartman, President of The Hartman Sanitarium, Columbus, O.

LAWYERS HEAR TWO ADDRESSES

State Bar Association's Meet Began Yesterday at Cambridge Springs.

LARGE ATTENDANCE

President Munson Defends the Law and James B. Dill Talked on Corporations.

COMMITTEE REPORTS RECEIVED

[FROM A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.]
[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

CAMBRIDGE SPRINGS, PA., June 29. —The ninth annual meeting of the Pennsylvania Bar association promises to be as well attended as any meeting heretofore. Prominent attorneys from all parts of the state are here, although Pittsburgh is not as well represented as was expected. Lack of accommodations is the reason given by those Pittsburgh attorneys present for the absence of many Pittsburgh lawyers, who have always made it a point to attend the state bar association's gatherings. No similar gathering in Pennsylvania was ever before graced with the presence of so many women. The rotundas of the hotels are filled with them and at tonight's meeting fully one-third of the audience was composed of women.

An Interesting Program.

The features of the day were the address of C. LaRue Munson of Williamsport, president of the association; the presentation of a majority and minority report of the committee on memorial; the offering of a resolution concerning the compensation of judges, and an address tonight by James B. Dill, the famous corporation lawyer of New York.

Dill is the man who adjusted the business differences that existed between Andrew Carnegie and Henry C. Frick, caused the withdrawal of the equity suit brought by Frick against Carnegie, and organized the Carnegie interests under a New Jersey charter. Mr. Dill was to talk on the corporation laws of New Jersey and there was a good deal of curiosity to hear him.

The convention is being held in the theater of the Hotel Rider. The opening session began at 2 o'clock and was presided over by the president, C. LaRue Munson.

President C. La Rue Munson of Williamsport delivered the annual address at the opening of the association.

Touched Upon Libel Law.

In reviewing the acts passed at the last session of the legislature, he said of the new libel law:

The bar has ever been the foremost champion of free speech, and will be the first to come to the defense of any attack upon the equally high prerogative of a free press. Every lawyer who has carefully examined the provisions of this statute and is familiar with the law of libel is forced to the conclusion that in reality it is but declaratory of that which has long been held by the courts to be the law of the subject, and hence we may agree with the press that it is practically unnecessary legislation. Indeed, the chief complaint of the newspapers seems not to be against the provisions of the law itself, but rather that it was passed at all, and with the haste with which the bill was rushed through the legislature.

After deprecating modern criticism "which tends to undermine good government by lessening public regard for the law through lowering respect for the courts," and in which even this association was not without fault, he proceeded to a review of the brotherhood of the law, pointing to its proud history and to the part which it has taken in securing civil liberty and the maintenance of constitutional government.

In reviewing an address at the last meeting of the association, criticising the modern tendency of the courts to adjudicate causes upon their peculiar equities rather than by established rules labeled by Lord Coke as "knowne certaintie of law," Mr. Munson said:

Laws Not Unchangable.

That which may have been a well settled and accepted principle of law at one stage of human progress would not be tolerated for one moment in these modern days; the earlier legal treatises are full of such principles, they are not merely obsolete, they are positively denied by advanced thought and by the results of experience. The law cannot stand still any more than can mankind cease to progress; as one goes forward so must the other, and as human conditions improve and develop, so, of necessity, must jurisprudence advance.

There are certain principles of natural justice which are as immutable as the heavens and can never be changed; they have come to us from antiquity, they will last so long as man walks the earth and, believing in a just Judge before whom we must all appear, will continue throughout eternity. These principles no man can change, no court can alter, no judge destroy; they are certain and will so remain. Other principles, not necessarily founded upon natural justice, but rather upon artificial rules made for a particular time, for special conditions, or to serve a purpose later found to be but temporary or transient, must and will change and it is at this point we may meet the precise question under discussion.

Purity in the Bench.

The foremost and chief principle of all law, and one which cannot be changed, is that justice is to be done, that that which is right and just shall alone be decreed. A law that is not just, or which in its application works an injustice, will not and cannot survive. It may be hoary with age, it may be written in every law book, but when it comes in contact with circumstances where its application would do that which the conscience of man declares to be unjust it must give way. Such a law may survive for a time, even for a long time, but its doom is sealed, if the courts refuse relief from its oppression the people will sweep it away and with it, perhaps, much else that should not be lost.

The duty of the bar is to demand purity in the bench and then to uphold it as part of the great brotherhood of the law to which judge and advocate alike, we are solemnly sworn; yet none the less is it the duty of the bar to hold the bench to the strict observance of that obligation of magna charta, forever binding upon every judge: "To none will we sell, to none will we deny, to none will we delay justice."

Reports Were Received.

The following reports of committees were read:

Executive, Victor Guillou, chairman; law reform, Alexander Simpson, chairman; legal education, Robert Snodgrass, chairman; membership, Edwin Z. Smith, chairman; legal biography, Harman Yerkes, chairman; uniformity of legislation, Walter G. Smith, chairman; special committee on memorialization of the supreme and superior courts, Samuel Dickson, chairman; special committee relative to the retirement of judges permanently disabled, J. Ross Thompson, chairman; revision of laws relative to corporations, Richmond L. Jones, chairman.

The executive committee's report was of a routine nature. The law reform committee made recommendations chiefly of interest to lawyers, as it will affect the method of pleading. The report on legal education will be discussed tomorrow, that of legal biography contained sketches of the lives of members who died during the year. The report of the committee on memorialization of the supreme and superior courts was not unanimous. The majority report recited the action of the association two years ago in memorializing the two courts for a uniform examination for admission to the bar and the court's action in appointing a board to examine applicants for admission to the bar. The supreme court having acted and the superior court having adopted the plan of the supreme court, the majority report asked that the committee be discharged.

Lucien H. Alexander of Philadelphia, a member of the committee, offered a minority report, objecting to the new system on the grounds that the duties of the state board of examiners can be delegated to assistants selected by the board and but remotely responsible to the supreme court; that college graduates holding diplomas must submit themselves to examination in the most elementary branches, and that hardships are imposed on candidates of 62 counties by requiring them to journey to one of five counties in which the examinations are to be held. Mr. Alexander succeeded in having his minority report received and filed.

The committee on the retirement of disabled judges reported that Gov. Pennypacker had already acted, so that the committee had no further work to do. This referred to the governor's action in appointing physicians to examine two judges to ascertain if they were capable of fulfilling their duties.

Cyrus D. Derr of Reading introduced a resolution at the close of the afternoon session which will bring into discussion before the convention adjourns the new judicial salary bill which went into effect January 1. It is as follows:

Salary Bill Resolution.

Whereas, Doubts based on unconstitutional grounds, have been expressed as to the new judiciary salary bill applying to the existing judges. And,

Whereas, The constitution provides that the judges required to be learned in law shall receive an adequate compensation to be fixed by the legislature and if any construction be adopted excluding existing judges from the benefit of the increase of salaries contemplated by the said act, there will be the following consequences: Namely:

A solemn declaration by the legislature embodied in the said act that the old salaries are not adequate and therefore not constitutional.

An adjustment of salaries to the constitution requirements of adequate compensation with respect to the judges newly elected and a confession that the salaries of existing judges are not adequate and therefore not constitutional with a vurtual mandate that they shall remain unconstitutional. This notice which will give to new and inexperienced judges a larger compensation than judges who have adorned the bench for years and which will make two very different sums of money serve as adequate compensation for the performance of the same duties upon the same bench by different persons will only gradually disappear from our system finally fading out nearly 20 years, hence when the term of the most recently elected supreme judge will expire by which time the salaries will again require readjustment and the same condition of inequality will recreate to endure for another period of nearly 20 years, and,

Whereas, Because of the delicacy of their situation it is not to be expected that any of the judges concerned or any combination of them will come forward to make a contest should the doubts be expressed grow into an obstacle and it is fitting that this association take notice of the circumstances. Therefore,

Resolved, That a committee of five, to be named by the president, do forthwith proceed to consider the promises and make report to the association before its adjournment with a recommendation as to what, if any action shall be taken concerning the matter.

The committee appointed by President Munson consists of Samuel Dickson, L. C. Alexander, Gen. Gobin and Alex. Simpson. At tonight's session there was a full attendance to hear Mr. Dill's address.

James B. Dill of New York spoke on "Some Aspects of New Jersey's Corporate Policy."

A Lost Opportunity.

By way of introduction, the speaker intimated that if it was expected he would advocate without criticism New Jersey's corporate policy, such expectation would meet with disappointment.

Mr. Dill said that no aspect of New Jersey's corporate policy would be complete without at least sidelights upon the struggle between New York, the financial Empire state, and the adjoining smaller state of New Jersey, for corporate supremacy.

In dealing with the history of New Jersey's acts, while he dwelt upon those features of her laws which in his opinion merited approval, yet he did not hesitate to say that in the passage of certain laws the legislature has nodded, by way of encouragement to large corporations.

He described the resulting situation by saying:

A strong indication of the tendency of moneyed capital to leave New York is the fact that since 1899, and since New Jersey has revised her financial laws in accordance with her policy in the revision of her general corporation law, there have been organized in New Jersey with New York money and by New York men many trust companies and other financial institutions, which practically do in New Jersey a New York financial business. At the New Jersey end of the ferries from New York city are erected banking buildings occupied by financial institutions created, governed and controlled by New York men; institutions intended as a city of refuge for New York financiers and finances.

He summed up the result of this interstate warfare in the statement that "from the standpoint of financial returns the state of New Jersey's policy has been successful," but he added: "This is not the viewpoint of my discussion, but merely a preliminary observation; there is a higher aspect of the situation than that of a mere money return to the state, and the vital question is in its effect in the trend of our corporation laws upon other states and the general industrial and financial situation."

Laws Not So Liberal.

New Jersey's system of corporate legislation is often asserted to be loose and lax, but such assertion is more often made by those who have not made a thorough study of the laws and decisions of that state.

The assumption that it is due solely to the so-called liberal features of New Jersey's law that she has attracted capital to her borders is a mistake. On the contrary, the permanency of her corporate policy, the provisions of the constitution protecting the corporate dollar from any other or further tax than that imposed upon the individual dollar and prohibiting special legislation and special charters, the business-like administration of her executive officers—as instanced by the fact that one secretary of state remained as head of that important department for 27 years—the intelligence, integrity and high character of both bench and bar; that these elements have given the public confidence in the stability and in the administration of her laws and have brought capital, business, trade and commerce within her borders, with the legitimate return by way of tax income. The success of New Jersey has led to the hasty and erroneous conclusion that the liberal features, so-called, of her laws has been the sole inducement which has brought capital to New Jersey. This has induced other states to adopt the utility provisions of New Jersey's laws without the elements of control and regulation, which latter are an essential and permanent part of her system.

A feature of the address was the discussion of the effect upon other states of the apparent success of New Jersey's corporate policy, viewed by those states from the single standpoint of returns to the state. Upon this point Mr. Dill said:

The business demand for corporations with extra territorial powers which today undoubtly exists has induced many states to pass laws which they advertise as liberal, but under which "tramp" corporations can be readily organized at a slight expense; corporations with little or no responsibility of officers or incorporators and with as little protection to investors and to the public.

The Industrial Situation.

Passing to a consideration of the industrial situation, Mr. Dill said:

Our country is pre-eminently industrial and stands as such before the world. Our industries are intimately connected with our finances.

Our industrial securities, as such, ought to be the safest class of investments; but that they are not all so regarded is too apparent to need argument. We know that there are good industrials, honestly managed corporations, whose securities are investments and ought so to be treated, but, on the other hand, have we any reason to doubt that there are industrials, so called, of a different type and among them companies which have been launched by men of high financial rating?

Good industrials are selling in the open market at less than their fair value, estimated upon the basis of capital and dividend, in comparison with other classes of securities.

It was bad company that settled the fate of "Poor Dog Tray." It is bad company that is killing the industrial of integrity, and in their expressed recognition of the reasonableness of the public demand for clean legislation, for more publicity, for more rights to the minority stockholders, the corporations of integrity show plainly that they will willingly accept any fair code of laws, federal or state, which will enable them to draw a line of demarcation between themselves and corporations of another stamp.

Mr. Dill asserted that many of the industrial perils of today were due to the lack of legal requirements in the directions just indicated. He asserted that in the future that state would have the largest measure of real success in attracting incorporated capital, as distinguished from corporate wind, which would enact legislation giving the corporation reasonable facilities for doing business throughout the country, even to the extent of not being in accord with the views of the promoter. He said:

Desire of Promoters.

If the law were such that investors could obtain as much information upon the make-up of the company when its securities are placed upon the market as it thrust upon them when a receiver is appointed by the court we should have fewer industrials, but better industrials.

Either the requirements of the public as investors or the requirements of promoters must be met under corporate laws, and the meeting of the demands of the one class may mean the refusing of the demands of the other.

What the promoters want is secrecy. What the public demand is a reasonable degree of publicity.

What the promoter seeks is the right to issue millions for nothing.

What the investing public demand is something for the dollar, or somebody responsible for the deficiency.

What the promoters desire is such power of manipulation, free from responsibility, as will enable them by a dark-closet division to take such a proportion of the securities that in case of success they reap rich financial rewards, but in case of failure, with no personal responsibility.

In conclusion the speaker said that he doubted whether the action of states as individuals could be successful in stemming the current toward laxity of law, adding: "I have urged that the outcome of the present situation and the solution of the problem presented in the necessity for more extensive territorial privileges for corporations will probably be found in the enactment by the national government of laws for the creation of national corporations, laws which, along the lines of integrity, of common sense and of acquaintance with the needs of business, will confer upon the corporations due rights and immunities, but which will at the same time protect the rights of the stockholder, the investor and the public."

AWFUL DROP OF AN ELEVATOR

landed in the basement and sank groaning on the floor.

A 700-pound balance weight shot up through the timbers at the top of the elevator and buried itself in a two-inch plank in the side of the shaft. The wild flight of the weight caused a window to collapsed and a shower of glass added the terror of the mangled sufferers who crawled from the pit beneath.

Telephone messages were sent to the Allegheny General and West Penn hospitals by the Heinz Company officials, and the Allegheny police were also notified. Superintendent M. H. Campbell took a squad of 10 officers, and with the crews of patrol wagons Nos. 1 and 2, assisted in taking the injured to the hospitals. The victims were given temporary relief at the pickle factory by Dr. J. S. Phillips and his assistants, Drs. John D. Shaner and George Gardner. The hospital ambulances and patrol wagons were kept traveling from the plant to the hospitals for more than an hour after the accident occurred.

Excited Crowds Gathered.

The groans and cries of the injured and the noise of the crash was heard throughout the entire plant, and hundreds of employes ran from various parts of the buildings to the central plant. Before the ambulances arrived the news had spread throughout the vicinity of the Heinz works, and hundreds of those having relatives or friends working there rushed to the place. The gates in Main street were locked, and the crowd kept in the street. When the police arrived a guard was put at the gates, and for more than an hour the officers had to battle with frenzied women who feared that husbands, sons or daughters employed in the plant, were among the injured. Many of them refused to believe the police that no employes were injured and that those hurt were visitors and tried to fight their way past the officers to get into the building.

An examination of the elevator shaft and machinery showed that those injured narrowly escaped instant death. When the car and its human burden fell into the cellar the 700-pound weight confined in a runner up the side of the shaft, shot to the roof of the building as though hurled from a cannon. It ripped through the timbers and glass at the top of the shaft and fell half its length through the ceiling over the sixth floor. Had the timbers been a little less stout the huge iron weight would have fallen nearly 60 feet into the mass of injured, huddled in a heap on the floor of the demolished elevator. Workmen were put to work at once and put supports under the weight to prevent its falling.

Clevelanders Here for Church Event.

The Cleveland people who were injured are members of the Bohemian Catholic Central union and came here to take part in the blessing of the guns of the Cadets of St. George of Allegheny on Sunday. Companies A, C, D, E and F of the Cadets of St. George, in charge of Col. John Vodraska of Cleveland, were on the third floor of the plant when the cage dropped. The party in the car was in charge of John Churney, whose injuries will likely prove fatal. When the crash was heard the cadets in charge of Col. Vodraska went to the cellar to assist in removing the injured. The Alleghenians who were injured were acting as hosts to those from Cleveland. The Hazelwood women who were injured formed another party.

C. R. Sammons of No. 5535 Columbo street, East End, whose wife and mother-in-law, Mrs. E. P. Holeman, were badly injured, was at the Heinz plant a few minutes before the accident and left for his place of business. Speaking of the accident last night Mr. Sammons said:

"It seems to me that nothing but overcrowding the elevator caused it to drop. When I left Heinz's one of the attaches, or guides, in the employe of the company was organizing a party to go through the works. Just as I was walking away I heard him say, loudly: 'Come on now and we'll start. This elevator will not hold more than 15.'

"There was a large crowd standing there at the time, and among them I noticed a number of the uniformed cadets. When I heard the man say the car would hold no more than 15 I walked back to my wife and cautioned her to be very careful. All three women assured me that they would take no chances and I went away. I got to Pittsburgh before I heard of the accident and immediately returned to Heinz's. I learned that my wife was at the West Penn and Mrs. Holeman at the Allegheny General. Neither said anything about the presence of drunken men in the crowd, and I am sure there was not, or none of the women would have got on the elevator with them. Both my wife and Mrs. Holeman declare the car was overcrowded."

Statement from Heinz Company.

The Heinz Company gave out a statement after the accident happened, in which it was stated the elevator had been thoroughly overhauled two years ago, and that the machinery was inspected daily by the oilers. They claim the cage was not overloaded, as they say it is built to carry two tons burden.

George E. McCrum, master mechanic at the Heinz plant, said that, had the cables carrying the car snapped, the safety clutches would have caught and stopped the elevator before it had gone two feet. The breaking of the drum-axle, he said, was unusual, and was of a nature that could not be guarded against. The safety clutches are not designed to prevent an accident in the event of the breaking of anything but the cables.

Mrs. E. W. Thornton is the wife of the Rev. Edward W. Thornton, pastor of the First Christian church of Hazelwood. Mrs. Thornton was visiting the Heinz plant, in company with Mrs. H. A. Morrison, Mrs. George Sherlock, Mrs. Victor Bailey, Miss Immogene Redman and Mrs. William Mitchell. The latter two are visiting Mrs. Morrison at her home in Hazelwood. Mrs. Morrison and Miss Redman are her grandchildren. On account of her age and the nature of her injuries it is probable that Mrs. Mitchell will die. She and Miss Redman were to have returned to their homes in Kentucky today. Speaking of the accident Mrs. Thornton said at her home, No. 133 Hazelwood avenue, last night:

Mrs. Thornton's Story.

"I noticed just before the elevator started up that we were being crowded and mentioned this to Mrs. Sherlock. Just before we reached the fifth floor the car suddenly shot down and in an instant we were in a heap in the cellar. As soon as we struck I recalled the elevator accident in the Golob building, in Fifth avenue, several weeks ago, and fully expected, for several seconds, that the weights would come down on top of us. Mrs. Mitchell, I think, was hurt worse than any one else."

In answer to a question Mrs. Thornton said: "No; there was no disorder in the crowd when the elevator was going up. If any one there was intoxicated they made no demonstration."

A call was made at the Heinz residence in Penn avenue, Homewood, last night. Mrs. H. T. Heinz, who was spoken to, refused to make any statement regarding the accident. The company officials made no statement except that given out at the offices in the afternoon.

William Koncano, one of the Cleveland victims, while lying on a cot in the Allegheny General hospital, told a reporter for The Gazette that there was no semblance of disorder on the elevator. Mr. Koncana is a drygoods merchant in Cleveland. He said:

"I thought there were too many on the car when I saw how crowded we were, and as soon as the car left the fifth floor I am certain everyone realized that something had happened to the machinery, and that the elevator was slipping. There was not a sound or a cry uttered by anyone until we landed in a heap in the cellar."

What the Elevator Man Says.

The story that two men were acting disorderly in the elevator at the time of the accident is denied by Joe Weber, the man who was running it. Weber, although having both legs broken and being bruised about the face, was conscious when placed in the West Penn hospital ambulance, and when questioned gave replies as coolly as though he was not suffering.

"Were any of the occupants of the elevator drunk or acting disorderly?" was asked.

"No; everyone on the car was quiet. I don't know what caused the accident. When we were close to the fifth floor the cage dropped. That is all I know about it."

When asked if he was carrying an extra large number of passengers, Weber said: "There were 18 or 20 people aboard. That is more than I often took on at one time, but I have carried 24 persons at times on that elevator."

Weber showed remarkable nerve when having his legs dressed at the West Penn hospital, and the physicians last night said he would likely recover.

NO ENTRIES AFTER TODAY.

All Names Must Be In for Fourth of July Events by Tonight.

This is the last day to receive entries for the athletic events at Schenley park on the Fourth of July, as no more names will be received after 8 o'clock this evening. There was a large crowd of workmen busily engaged in putting the race track and cinder path in shape yesterday. Beginning with this evening horses will be barred from the race track until after the Fourth, so as to give the bicyclists and sprinters a chance to practice for the events Saturday.

Among the large list of entries received yesterday there was a noticeably small number in the hurdle races and the 100-yard dash for boys. A big addition to these classes is expected today.

FATHER AND SON IN A HARD-FOUGHT BATTLE

Capt. J. N. Fredericks of the police department last night broke up a fierce fight at the home of Nicholas Nether, Picnic and Sleda streets, between Nether and his son Joseph. The father was armed with a stone mason's sledge. The son had many bruises on his head, one of his ears was almost bitten off and finger marks on his throat testified to the father's effort to choke him. The father was bleeding from a big gash in his scalp. According to Nether's wife the elder man had started the fight. She accuses her husband of being an anarchist. Both men were locked up and their injuries were dressed.

TWO MORE VICTIMS OF THE DEADLY TOY PISTOL

AKRON, O., June 29.—(Special.)—William Pifer and William Wilson Hazen, 10-year-old lads of this city, have died of lockjaw within the past 48 hours, victims of the toy pistol. Each was wounded about 10 days ago and Pifer died yesterday, while Wilson died suddenly this morning.

REDWINE WILL PRESIDE.

Kentucky Judge will Officiate at the New Hearing of the Feudists.

JACKSON, KY., June 29.—Judge Redwine announced tonight that he would preside at the special term of court to begin July 20, at which Jett and White will be again tried for the murder of Attorney Marcum. Sheriff Callahan would not say whether he would insist on serving at the special term. Major Lillard tonight returned from Frankfort, where he went to confer with the governor. He and Gen. Murray held a long consultation tonight. They declined to discuss the matters under consideration.

Death of J. Allan Pegley.

J. Allan Pegley died Sunday of pulmonary trouble, aged 35 years, at his home in Cumberland. He was formerly on the staff of the Evening Times. The funeral services were held last evening at his late residence and the remains will be taken to Frederick, Md., tomorrow for burial.

Fifteen Families Quarantined.

A case of smallpox at No. 1834 Forbes street, which was five weeks old and had not been reported to the bureau of health, was the cause of 15 families being quarantined yesterday. Five additional cases were reported as having developed from the first.

TO SNUFF VOLCANOES.

A STARTLING DISCOVERY MADE BY AN AUSTRALIAN.

Volcanoes can easily be extinguished, says the New York Herald. A New Zealand man claims (and there are many who agree with him) to have discovered a liquid by means of which volcanoes may be extinguished quickly whether active or threatening.

Many diseases of the human body act in the same manner as volcanoes. Dyspepsia, Rheumatism, Kidney Disorders, Female Diseases and many others all begin with a slight rumble of pain and distress, and if not treated in time will burst forth in all their fury, causing all who are so afflicted the most intense suffering and making life a complete burden.

That a liquid has been discovered that will extinguish these volcanic eruptions of disease, whether active or threatening, is not only certain but a material fact.

DR. DAVID KENNEDY'S FAVORITE REMEDY is this liquid discovery. THE WONDERFUL CURATIVE powers of this famous remedy have cut a new path through the field of medicine, sweeping with it a startling record of tremendous success.

Druggists sell it in New 50 Cent Size and the regular $1.00 size bottles.

James Heerman.

FIREMEN FIGHTING THE BIG CONFLAGRATION IN WILKINSBURG

A fire entailing a loss of $75,000, and full of picturesque features, yesterday morning swept a corner of the business section of Wilkinsburg. From 3:15 o'clock until long after dawn, the fire companies of Wilkinsburg and Edgeworth, together with Engine Company No. 16 from Homewood, fought the flames on an extended line like a light battery of artillery in battle formation.

The planing mill of W. F. Younzk, the ink factory of B. Firmin & Son, the dwelling house of William Murdoch, the blacksmith shop of H. B. Guinette, and the stable of R. Swisshelm in Hay street, were destroyed. Fireman J. Stevenson, with two other men, fell from a 50-foot ladder, but aside from cuts and bruises sustained by Stevenson, the fire fighters escaped. A large area was ablaze at the same time, and there was little opportunity for united action by the hosemen.

WAS WILLING TO FIGHT SUPERIOR

Lt. Semons Tried by Court-Martial, Wanted to Beat Up Major Jefferies.

DID NOT DENY THE ALLEGATION

Said Politics Influenced Some Officers in National Guard—Decision Reached, but Will Not Be Given Out for Some Time.

Second Lieutenant Walter L. Semans of Company C, Tenth regiment infantry, was tried by court-martial yesterday on a charge of conduct unbecoming an officer. The session was held in the Eighteenth regiment armory, Forbes street and Craft avenue, and the charges were made by Maj. Samuel W. Jefferis, inspector of the Second brigade. A verdict was reached, but the members of the court are sworn to secrecy and, of course, could not say what it was. The finding will be returned to Gen. Charles Miller of the Second brigade, and if approved it will come out in orders to the national guard.

It appears from the testimony that the lieutenant was found guilty on one of the specifications—that against Maj. Jefferis—but that the three other specifications were ignored and the accused let down easily because of his previous good record and his service in the Philippines. Some interesting testimony about politics in the national guard and of other inside workings of the militia was brought out. The document calling the trial was as follows:

Charges Against the Officer.

Charge—Conduct unbecoming an officer and gentleman to the prejudice of good order and military discipline in violation of the sixty-second article of war.

Specifications—In that Second Lieut. Walter L. Semans, an officer in the National Guard of Pennsylvania, being on duty at the semi-annual inspection of Company C, Thursday evening, March 19, 1903, at Uniontown, Pa., did use insulting language to the inspecting officer, viz:

After asking that officer for a resignation blank he said he would do nothing then, but would meet the inspecting officer any place the latter would name, as the inspecting officer had it in for both lieutenants, had roasted them in former reports, that both were Democrats and the heads of the guard were Republicans; therefore they were being forced out of the guard.

Also acted like a man much under the influence of liquor, being disrespectful to Capt. Beeson, Maj. Craigo and the inspector.

SAMUEL W. JEFFERIS,
Major and Inspector Second Brigade.

Witnesses:
MAJ. THOMAS S. CRAIGO,
Tenth Regt. Inf., N. G. P.
CAPT. ALBERT G. BEESON,
Company C, Tenth Regt. Inf., N. G. P.

The trouble first began during the inspection at Uniontown, when Lieut. Semans went to notify the pickets to get six paces from the wall instead of against it, so as to facilitate the movements during the inspection. Semans said he was acting under orders of the captain. Maj. Jefferis saw this act and thought that the lieutenant was instructing the men during the inspection. He ordered Semans away and spoke rather sharply. Later, in the presence of only the officers, Maj. Jefferis in speaking of the merits and demerits of the men, referred to the incident and mentioned Semans' action. This brought on a wordy combat between the two.

Lieutenant Became Angry.

Maj. T. S. Craigo of Greensburg of the Tenth regiment testified that one word brought on another, and that finally Semans became angry and said:

"You have it in for us on account of politics. We are Democrats and the head officers of the national guard are Republicans, and they always have had it in for Company C. I'll not do anything to you here, but would like to meet you with your uniform off."

He explained that Semans was in a bad humor and was plainly offended because Jefferis had criticised their work. Jefferis had been correcting them on a platoon movement. Semans tried to explain why he did not do what the inspector had expected, but was cut off by Jefferis, who said he had been watching the accused and he did not do what was wanted and seemingly made no effort to do it.

The testimony of Maj. Jefferis was somewhat the same. He said he thought something was wrong with Lieut. Semans at the time. The latter declared Company C had been "roasted" at former inspections, and the lieutenant referred to a report of two years previous, in which it was alleged the inspecting officer (Jefferis) had declared there was good material in the company if the officers were of any account. When Semans offered to meet Jefferis when both had off their uniforms the latter replied:

Thought It Was a Bluff.

"People who talk like that seldom make good."

Semans also, according to Jefferis, declared that any dereliction on the part of the men was the fault of the captain and major, Beeson and Craigo, respectively. In reply to cross-questioning Jefferis said:

"Semans led me to believe that he would take 'it' out of my body—that is, would not show me anything about drilling, but would do me bodily harm."

Capt. Albert G. Beeson of Company C, Tenth regiment, a Uniontown man, testified that Semans had said that the captain had not given enough time between commands to allow the men to do their duty. Speaking of the invitation Semans gave Jefferis to meet him without their uniform on, Capt. Loar of the court said:

"He did not say it in the same tone he would if he had been asking a man to take a drink?"

Beeson answered that Semans' tone was very much different.

When sworn the accused officer said, after acknowledging much of the previous testimony:

"Maj. Jefferis talked to me much like he would to a dog. I had nothing against him, but thought that if he had it in for me he could take it out of me."

Jefferis Criticised Penney.

Former First Lieut. Robert M. Woods of Company C, now retired, during his testimony, said that Jefferis had often criticised Col. John F. Penney, the division inspector, in his methods of inspection. Reference to a certain guard manual was made, but Woods declared he never had seen that particular kind.

First Sergt. Charles W. Ashcroft of Company C, Tenth regiment, gave testimony similar to the other witnesses.

Counsel for the accused, when the defense rested its case, said that no disrespect to Maj. Craigo or Capt. Beeson or any intoxication on the part of the defendant was brought out in the testimony. It was also claimed that instead of the charges being made in violation of the 62d articles of war, they should have been also in violation of the military code of Pennsylvania, as the company was not in any kind of action at the time. On this point the jurisdiction of the court was challenged.

The trial is the first of its kind to take place in this part of the state for 10 years and it is the third court-martial of an officer held in the brigade since the reorganization of the guard in 1879. The order for the court-martial was issued by Gen. Charles Miller, the detail of the court consisting of the following officers:

Maj. Harry C. Cuthbertson, Tenth regiment, New Brighton, president; Maj. Robert M. Ewing, Fourteenth regiment, Pittsburgh; Maj. Alexander J. Henderson, Eighteenth regiment, Pittsburgh; Capt. James A. Loar, Company E, Tenth regiment, Mt. Pleasant; Capt. Edwin M. Hukill, Jr., Company C, Eighteenth regiment, Pittsburgh; Capt. Richard Coulter, Company I, Tenth regiment, Greensburg, and Capt. William T. Rees, Battery B, Pittsburgh.

Maj. J. B. McCormick of Gen. Wiley's staff, a Greensburg man, was judge advocate; Samuel B. Foight of Greensburg was the official stenographer, and Capt. James P. Braden of Company H, Tenth regiment, Washington, Pa., and Capt. Blaine Aiken of Washington, Pa., of Col. James E. Barnet's staff, were counsel for Lieut. Semans.

Kaiser's Inspection of Flagship Kearsarge Not Criticised Says Moody.

WASHINGTON, June 29.—(Special.)—In reply to an inquiry from the editor of a German paper published in Milwaukee, Secretary Moody today denied that any reasonable person in the navy department had taken part in the unfavorable comment heard here on the kaiser's careful inspection of the battleship Kearsarge.

In addition Mr. Moody quotes Rear Admiral Taylor as saying that the emperor's inspection is not subject to criticism; on the contrary, it is a courteous attention.

THREATEN TO STRIKE.

Bricklayers and Stone Masons' Union Objects to Attorney as Arbitrator.

All the members of the Bricklayers and Stone Masons' International union will be ordered to throw down their tools today unless the executive committee of the National Stone Masons union selects different men to sit on the board of arbitration to settle the dispute between the two organizations. The bricklayers will not allow Robert T. Reineman, the Pittsburgh attorney, to be a member of the arbitration board.

A committee of the bricklayers, headed by Thomas R. Preece, national organizer, and who has charge of the fight, will visit the officials of the stone masons this morning and if they do not consent to select a man officialy connected with the labor movement and of a national reputation, all the B. M. I. U. men will be called off work.

HOUSE SERVANTS' AND BOOTBLACKS' UNIONS

A meeting will be held in Arnfeld's hall, No. 1119 Penn avenue, tomorrow evening to organize a union of house servants. J. A. Wheeler, national organizer for the American Federation of Labor, will preside. A meeting of bootblacks will be held Wednesday in the Chronicle Telegraph building to form a new local, the object being to freeze out the shine stands.

Bridge Workers Will Not Parade.

The bridge and structural iron workers declare that the United Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners of America is encroaching upon the rights of the bridge workers, and therefore the bridge workers will not participate in the Labor day celebration on September 7. The bridge workers have over 1,900 members. They say the carpenters handle all the structural iron they can, therefore doing work that, it is alleged, is strictly that of the bridge workers.

Machinists Scale Still Unsettled.

No settlement was made between the Manufacturers' association and the International Association of Machinists when the committees of the two bodies met yesterday. They will gather together again this morning. The men originally asked for a 15 per cent increase, but the manufacturers offered only 5 per cent. At a meeting Sunday the machinists changed their demand to 10 per cent advance and struck out the clause regarding the employment of non-union men. If no settlement is effected today, the men will likely strike tomorrow.

PRESIDENT RIDES OVER MUDDY ROAD

Wet Weather at Oyster Bay Did Not Deter Him from Taking a Gallop.

RETURNS COVERED WITH MUD

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

OYSTER BAY, N. Y., June 29.—"President Roosevelt will surely ride horseback today," remarked the wise citizens of Oyster Bay when they awoke this morning and heard the rain pelting on the roofs, and they were right, for there are few things the president likes better than a hard gallop over muddy roads in the teeth of a driving thunderstorm.

Clad in conventional riding costume, wearing a broad-brimmed hat and accompanied by Theodore, Jr., Kermit and one of their cousins, a son of J. West Roosevelt, President Roosevelt was ready to leave Sagamore Hill shortly after 11 o'clock. When the riders, tired but enthusiastic, returned to Sagamore Hill, they presented a wonderful sight. They looked more muddy than jockeys who had been through seven furlongs on a heavy and sticky race course.

The president made it a practice of last year, and apparently intends to follow a similar course now, of having some congenial friend come to visit him nearly every day. He devotes much of his time to reading and frequently when he runs across something which especially interests him he sends for a friend who is well informed on the topic and the two will talk it over until the president feels that he has exhausted it. This vigorous mental exercise President Roosevelt enjoys quite as much as horseback rides, long walks or tennis.

J. B. Bishop, editor of the New York Commercial Advertiser, an old friend of the president, arrived at Oyster Bay this evening and dined at Sagamore Hill.

The Rev. W. W. Bowdish, pastor of the Sixth Avenue Methodist Episcopal church, Brooklyn, appeared on the streets this morning in company with Jerome E. Johnson, sheriff of Nassau county. Mr. Bowdish said he came to Oyster Bay to see the president, but he contented himself with a call upon Secretary Loeb at the executive offices.

Arrangements were completed by Secretary Loeb today for the president's trip to Huntington, L. I., on the Fourth of July. He will go to assist in the celebration of the 250th anniversary of the founding of the town. The trip will be made from Sagamore Hill to Huntington Bay in the Sylph. He will return to Sagamore Hill immediately upon the conclusion of his speech.

There is a movement on foot here to organize a Roosevelt body guard composed of citizens. It is proposed that the members of this organization wear rough rider hats and white gloves. The plan will be broached to the president by citizens, who desire to perfect the organization in time to escort him to Huntington, where he will speak on the Fourth of July. Maurice Townsend, who headed the independent reception committee when President Roosevelt came home, is understood to be one of the prime movers in this enterprise.

The board of trade is planning a reception to the president in the board of trade offices. The president's convenience will be consulted, but it is hoped he will agree to its being held next week.

COTTON OUTLOOK IS DISCOURAGING

Boll Weevil Makes Heavy Inroads on the Growing Crop in Texas.

ENGLISH MILLS ARE CLOSING

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU,
Room 10, Postal Building,
WASHINGTON, D. C., June 29.

Grave fears are entertained at the agricultural department that the cotton production of the south will steadily decline in the face of growing demands at home and abroad and opportunities increase for cornering the supply. Chief Howard has just returned from a visit to Texas, with discouraging reports of the outlook owing to the heavy encroachments of the boll weevil.

Friday the monthly cotton report is expected to show some remarkable figures casting light upon the present strained situation in cotton supply and demand, causing the mills of England to close and raising prices beyond all normal range. Preliminary reports from reliable authorities in New Orleans likewise show that there is a remarkable decrease in the visible supply. According to the visible supply statement up to June 26 the total supply in America is only 1,191,604 bales, against 1,650,053 bales the corresponding period last year. It is not improbable that this decrease may be explained by the operations of the bull faction.

It is admitted that the time has come for the government to take some action to prevent a general decrease in the cotton supply. According to the latest compilation of the visible cotton supply the stock in Great Britain, embracing London and Liverpool, amounts to 553,000 bales, against 809,000 bales last year. Continental European stocks also show the critical condition in Germany, France and other countries depending upon the United States cotton production. The visible supply of continental stocks amounts to 473,000 bales, while the total stocks of Europe amount to 1,026,000, against 1,270,000 bales last year. American cotton afloat for Europe amounts to 60,000 bales, against 110,000 bales last year.

COULDN'T MAKE A LIVING.

Chicago Girl Puts End to the Weary Struggle by Means of a Gas Jet.

CHICAGO, June 29.—(Special.)—"If I live until I am 21 I will inherit $10,000, which my mother left for me in trust. I am only 18 now and I have to support myself until I'm of age. I find it's very hard for a girl who is a stranger in a great city to make a living."

These were the words which Marie Sedilla uttered when she had been in Chicago a few days in quest of work. She spent the last Sunday here and this morning Mrs. Harry Mitchell, keeper of a boarding house at 160 East Chicago avenue, where the girl lived, detected the odor of gas in the hallway. Miss Sedilia's room was locked and when the door was forced open she was found lying across the bed. Indications were that she had choked.

INVESTIGATION IS RIDICULED

Councilmen Censure Controller for Not Making Charges Against Health Bureau.

PROBING TERMED A DRAG-NET

Controller Larkin was censured by select council members yesterday afternoon for requesting an investigation of the bureau of health without preferring any specific charges. The controller's communication states that rumors have reached him that corruption and mismanagement existed in the health bureau, and he asks that councils investigate these reports.

The communication does not specify in what particular the bureau or any official or employe has been guilty of corruption or mismanagement, nor does it give the name of any person connected with the bureau who is said to be guilty. When the communication and the resolution attached to it came up in select council Samuel J. Wainwright, Jr., of the Eighteenth ward, objected on the grounds stated above.

John Upperman of the Fifteenth ward spoke similarly. "While I will vote for this resolution," he said, "I think it very strange that councils should be asked to throw out a drag-net when no specific charges are made."

John Costello of the Thirty-fifth ward said he thought the controller had good reasons for asking councils to make an investigation or he would not have taken such a step. The resolution was adopted.

Mr. Wainwright, chairman of the select council finance committee, said in reference to the franchise tax ordinance that the committee expected to report the ordinance yesterday, but was unable to do so as the city solicitor had sent word he had not completed his investigation of one of the features of the bill which was submitted to him after the meeting of the committee on last Friday.

Over 100 bills from common council were messaged to the select branch and referred to the various committees. Among these was the ordinance granting the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad Company permission to use a portion of the Monongahela wharf for its proposed new freight and passenger stations.

Select council concurred in the action of common council upon the communication of Mayor Hays in relation to the Flinn dock on the Allegheny wharf, the matter being referred to a special joint committee of five.

Select council also passed finally the ordinance relocating Virgin alley between Smithfield and Grant street and widening it to 44 feet.

The ordinance for the relocation and extension of Hamilton avenue to Penn avenue was passed finally, upon motion of John A. Murphy of the Twentieth ward. Mr. Murphy a few minutes before had presented a remonstrance given him by Henry Shaler, of his ward.

Other bills were passed finally accepting the offer of Henry W. Oliver to build a bath house in South Tenth street; abolishing positions of fire plug inspectors in the bureau of fire and authorizing their employment in the bureau of water; for the erection of a diphtheretic pavilion at the Municipal hospital; for the laying of water mains in the Squirrel Hill district; repealing the location of Bellefield avenue, between Forbes and Boundary streets, and a resolution extending the time for the collection of water rents to August 1.

President Lambie announced that yesterday's meeting was the last regular session previous to the summer adjournment for two months. The president appointed John A. Murphy and John Upperman members of the joint committee to investigate the bureau of health, the common council members being W. H. Stevenson, W. C. Reitz and Thomas M. Brown. T. O. Atkinson and Harry Diehl were appointed on the dock committee.

MOTOR CAR COMPANY GOES INTO RECEIVER'S HANDS

SHELBY, O., June 29.—John C. Fish of Shelby was appointed receiver for the Shelby Motor Car Company today. The firm's liabilities are placed at $60,000 and assets $50,000. The petition for receivership was filed by J. J. Jackson of Cleveland, who feared that creditors would commence suit against the company and thus entangle its affairs to a greater extent than could result under the direction of a receiver.

BAD BABIES
Are often only hungry babies. They cry and fret because they are ill-fed. The healthy mother is sure to have good babies; babies that coo and sleep and grow. Mothers who use Doctor Pierce's Favorite Prescription, are generally healthy and happy, and have healthy, happy children. "Favorite Prescription" prevents nausea, soothes the nerves, promotes the appetite and causes sleep to be sound and refreshing. It gives a great physical vigor and muscular elasticity so that the baby's advent is practically painless. It is the best tonic for nursing mothers, restoring strength and promoting an abundant flow of nutritive secretions.
"I can cheerfully recommend Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription as one of the best medicines for women," writes Mrs. Mary Murdock, Murdock, of 1015 Woodard Ave., Topeka, Kan. "I consider it the best medicine made. I know it has no equal. I am the mother of ten children and only one living—the tenth one. She is one year old and is as well and hearty as can be. She is a beauty. Of my other babies, one lived to be one year old, but she was always feeble. I tried different doctors, but none of them could tell me what my trouble was. They said I was well and strong. I was examined by surgeons but they found nothing wrong, and they were puzzled to know what my trouble was. I did not know what to do, so I thought this time I would try Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. I took it the entire nine months and now have a fine baby girl, and I cannot praise your medicine enough for the good it did me."
"Favorite Prescription" makes weak women strong, sick women well. Accept no substitute for the medicine which works wonders for weak women.
Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets are easy and pleasant to take. A most effective laxative.

PREACHER TALKS LIKE FOLLOWER OF RED FLAG

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

WASHINGTON, PA., June 29.—Excitement has been raised here by the sermon last night of the Rev. M. F. A. Easton, pastor of the African Methodist Episcopal Zion church. He said the Wilmington mob who burned negro White at the stake also turned cannibal and devoured his remains. He urged his congregation to secure revolvers and arm and protect themselves against the whites.

The Rev. Easton is one of the most prominent negroes in the county. He at one time edited the American Race Problem, formerly published at St. Louis. A few years ago he created a sensation by assailing Senator Tillman from the platform. He was sued for libel by the senator. He is now at work writing a book, "Zebra Stripes," a reply to the Rev. Thomas Dixon's "Leopard Spots." In his sermon he said that if he were in favor of mob violence he would first hang "Ben" Tillman and other members of the United States senate. He was applauded and when he exhorted the men of his congregation to obtain arms, shouts of "Good," and "We'll get gatling guns," were heard from all parts of the church.

LEAGUE GAMES TODAY.

Pittsburgh at Brooklyn.
Cincinnati at Boston.
Chicago at Philadelphia.
St. Louis at New York.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW YORK, June 29.—The champions had another day of rest today. The city this morning was visited by the worst rain storm in years, which continued until after noon, making it impossible under any circumstances to play a game this afternoon. Unless there is a decided change in the weather conditions soon it will be next to impossible to play a game in Brooklyn tomorrow even should it clear tomorrow morning.

President Dreyfuss is still in town, accompanied by his family, but from what can be learned his trip is a combination of business and pleasure. Dreyfuss, after making further inquiries into the Clarke and Bowerman affair, has decided not to let the matter work out its own salvation and has requested both President Pulliam of the National league and John T. Brush of the New York club to make a thorough investigation of the disgraceful affair of last week at the Polo grounds. Dreyfuss says if this is not done by either Pulliam or Brush that he will take the matter in hand himself and will not rest until Bowerman is disciplined for his rowdy actions. He has told both Pulliam and Brush that in his opinion Bowerman was a fit subject for discipline by the National league.

From what can be learned from an eye-witness of the affair, Bowerman was the aggressor and never gave Clarke an inkling of what his intentions were. Clarke's face is still slightly swollen, but the discoloration has entirely disappeared.

Nothing further can be learned regarding the Davis case, but there was talk in baseball circles today that should Davis be barred from further playing with the New York National league team, owing to his being assigned, according to the peace agreement, to Comiskey's Chicago White Sox, it will be necessary to throw out all games in which Davis has participated. Should this be the case the Pirates and Giants will have to play off their two games of last week, which would be a big thing financially for both teams. Otherwise it would make very little difference in the percentage column, as they each won and lost a game.

NEW WAGON RECORDS.

ou Dillon Set New Marks for Trotters and Showed Great Speed.

CLEVELAND, O., June 29.—Lou Dillon this afternoon broke all records for a mile to wagon for trotters, going the distance in 2:04¾. The race was at a matinee of the Gentlemen's Driving club at Glenville track. The horse was driven by her owner, C. K. G. Billings. The race was made with the encouragement of a runner, who went ahead about five lengths and who maintained that position until the three-quarter pole was reached. The mare had been going like a veteran all the distance.

At the three-quarter pole the runner was pulled to allow Lou Dillon to come up alongside. The stretch was entered into at great speed. The 1,500 spectators who had been timing the mare at th' quarters had become excited as the watches indicated that all records would be broken and as the trotter passed the stand arose en masse. The mile was made in 2:04¾, the horse finishing strong and seemingly ready to cover the distance a second time.

The new record beats that made by the same horse a couple of weeks ago, 2:06¼. The fractional time was :31¼, 1:02¼, 1:34, 2:04¾.

In a later race Mr. Billings drove The Monk the fastest mile credited any gelding this year, 2:05¾. Fractional time, :31, 1:04¼, 1:35¾, 2:05¾. A runner was used to pace The Monk.

WATCHING THE HORSE.

Greensburgers Interested in a Grand Circuit Entry.

GREENSBURG, PA., June 29.—(Special.)—Greensburg horsemen are greatly interested in the showing that will be made by ex-Sheriff Harry F. Seanor's bay gelding, Robert D., in his first appearance in the grand circuit at Columbus, O., next week. Just one year ago Mr. Seanor purchased the horse for $760 and last week he refused an offer of $5,000, made by a Johnstown man.

Robert D. first came into prominence at the Fender races in Johnstown last year. He failed to finish within the money, but the form shown indicated that he had the qualities to make him a good one and early this year Mr. Seanor began getting him ready for the summer campaigning. At the Northwestern races at Cleveland he practically distanced his field in the fastest pacing events. In a trial mile he went the half in 1:04, and it is confidently expected that he will have a mark of 2:06 before the season is over. Robert D. is by Bethlehem King. He is a big fellow, weighing 1,250 pounds and standing 16¼ hands high. He is being driven by H. H. Weldin.

THE NEW DEFENDER AGAIN SHOWED SPEED

Weather Conditions Favored the Columbia, but the Reliance Proved the Winner.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEWPORT, R. I., June 29.—The new cup defender Reliance proved today her worth as a heavy weather boat when she defeated the Columbia and Constitution in a stiff breeze and lumpy sea over a 30-mile course, 15 miles of which was a beat to windward. The Reliance sailed the course in 4 minutes 9 seconds less time than did the Columbia and 4 minutes 58 seconds less than did the Constitution.

All the racing in which these boats have participated up to today has been in light airs and smooth water, but this afternoon there was a smashing good whole-sail breeze blowing and considerable jump to the water, conditions that are exactly suited to the Columbia. With her owner, E. D. Morgan, at the helm, the old cup defender sailed a grand race, reaching the windward mark only 1 minute 56 seconds astern of the Reliance and 1 minute 31 seconds ahead of the Constitution.

On the run home, however, the Reliance pulled away steadily from both her opponents, while the Constitution gained considerably on the Columbia. Capt. Barr sailed the new sloop for all there was in her and gave her rigging and spars a thorough testing. Twice he wore ship when maneuvering for the start and on each occasion a gust of wind heeled the craft down until the water was nearly up to the hatches.

Today's race was the first of a series given by the New York Yacht club, and there will be racing every day this week. Ex-Commodore E. Cass Ledyard has offered a cup for the boat making the best showing in the series, and Rear Commodore Cornelius Vanderbilt will give a cup to the craft that comes off second.

The course was a beat of 15 miles and a run to the finish. When the starting gun was fired at 12:15 the Constitution was first over the line, the Reliance second, and the Columbia third. The official starting times were: Constitution, 12:15:20; Reliance, 12:15:24; Columbia, 12:15:26.

Reliance went right ahead, and although Columbia had the right of way Capt. Barr luffed his boat out across her bows and planted the Reliance to the windward of the older boat. It appeared as if the Columbia had been obliged to bear away a little in order to avoid a collision, but no protest flag was shown. The Constitution had held on her course and at 12:20 all three boats were standing for Brenton's Reef lightship on the starboard tack. Lee rails were well awash and the yachts sent showers of spray flying from under the bows as they drove into the chop.

The Reliance plainly outfooted the Columbia, while the latter was getting away from the Constitution. The new boat acted well in the choppy seas.

Gravesend Track Was a Quagmire and the Going Was Hard on Horses and Jockeys.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW YORK, June 29.—The heavy rain this morning converted the track at Sheepshead Bay into a quagmire, and mud runners were in great demand. The rain also caused washouts on all roads leading to the track and as a result only a small crowd was in attendance.

THREE NEW RECORDS.

Fast Going at Chicago—Betting Ring Got a Drubbing.

CHICAGO, June 29.—Track records suffered a triple break at Washington park today. Hargis in winning the mile and a sixteenth race, cut the old figures half a second, making the new record 1:45. Golden Rule, lugging 134 pounds in the high weight handicap, made the six and a half furlongs in 1:19 2-5, one-fifth of a second better than was ever done before at Washington park. Semper Vivum in the last race, reduced the track record for 7½ furlongs from 1:33 2-5 to 1:33.

The Drake-Gates contingent gave the ring a memorable drubbing through the victory of John McGurk in the fifth race. Drake and Gates each bet personally $10,000 apiece at 8 to 5, the odds closing at 3 to 2. McGurk came with a rush at the end and beat Gold Bell a neck. The summary:

First race, 1 mile—Sidney C. Love, 102, Wonderly, 6 to 1 and 7 to 5, won; Epicure, 107, S. Bonner, 3 to 1, second; Flying Ship, 108½, Crowhurst, 4 to 5, third. Time, 1:38 3-5.

"BROWNIE" GESSLER RELEASED

Punxsy Boy, However, Will Probably Enter National League.

Harry "Brownie" Gessler of Punxsutawney has drawn his release from the Detroit American league club at his own request. Gessler left Punxy last fall to join the Newark Eastern league team and led that organization in batting. Manager Barrows of Detroit signed him for middle field. When Lush was signed from Boston National he immediately began to play the game of his life, which kept Gessler on the bench, much against his wish.

Gessler asked Barrows to let him out so that he could catch on with another league team. National league clubs are after him, but he has as yet not accepted an offer. He is now visiting friends in Toledo.

TEAM MADE MONEY.

First Time in Many Seasons Baseball Has Paid at Wash-Jeff.

WASHINGTON, PA., June 29.—(Special.)—Manager William B. Stevenson of the baseball team of 1903, has closed up his financial report for the year. More than $200 was cleared on the season, the first time for several years that money has been made on the baseball team.

The caliber of the team and the good record made early in the season drew larger crowds than usual this year. As not a man graduated last week, the team should be even better next year than it was this.

Thirteen Dollars to Boston and Return.

EXCITING BIKE RACES.

Riders in Six-Night Meet Do Good Work—Final Tonight.

The 6th night of the six-night bicycle meet at the Colosseum attracted 1,800 persons to the track, a large attendance for a Monday night. The final struggle, which will be tonight, promises to see two hours of the hardest kind of racing in which two of the fastest sprinters in the world are picked to fight it out for first place. Frank Kramer, who is riding with Fenn, and Floyd McFarland, who is teaming with Schreiber, are looked upon as the men who will be the prominent contenders in the final stages.

The racing last night was productive of finishes that caught the spectators and one of the miles, the 26th, covered by Fenn in 2:11, was record time for a six night's race. The last mile brought out the fastest men in the crowd. Lawson on the third lap forged to the front and was challenged by Kramer, who passed him on the fifth lap, maintained his lead on the sixth. J. Bedell in the meantime passed Lawson and finished second. There was a mix up among the officials and instead of covering six laps for the mile the riders went seven, the last lap being negotiated in :18. Last night's score:

Iver Lawson and Eddie Root, 11 miles 15 laps; Floyd Krebs and Johnny King, 8 miles 15 laps; Frank Kramer and Willie Fenn, 10 miles 32 laps; F. A. McFarland and George Schreiber, 8 miles 20 laps; John Bedell and Menus Bedell, 7 mile 127 laps; Walter Bargett and Frank Galvin, 7 miles 7 laps; L. R. Lake and Saxon Williams, 4 miles 22 laps.

Time last night—First 10 miles, 24:28 2-5; second 10 miles, 26:05 1-5; third 10 miles, 25:35; fourth 10 miles, 26:18 2-5. Time of last 7 miles, 16:31 2-5. Total miles covered last night, 47. Race started at 8:27 p. m.

JOHNSON WANTED AT THE MEETING

American League Leader Must Respect Contracts or Their Will Be Trouble.

DISCUSSING THE DAVIS CASE

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU,
Herald Building, Herald Square,
NEW YORK, June 29.

Ban Johnson will be given one more chance to stop his wholesale disregard of contracts. President Pulliam of the National league, after a long conference with Barney Dreyfuss today, wrote Johnson, asking him to meet here at noon, July 28, Victoria hotel, with Powers of the Minor leagues, and the officers of the National league, when a definite understanding can be reached concerning contracts. Johnson all along has chosen to do as he pleased and President Pulliam, who has the backing of baseball people in the east, as well as many in the west, proposes to call Johnson to time and very promptly. Of course, if the president of the American league does not attend the July meeting in New York, to which he was invited today, the minor leagues and National league will then double up to make it very warm for Johnson.

President Herrmann of Cincinnati has not added any laurels to his career by the controversy with President Pulliam. He is being sharply roasted her for giving out his last letter to Pulliam before it was received. President Pulliam today replied to this communication. He said he did not care to say what the contents are, but he was perfectly willing for Herrmann to publish all correspondence.

There seems to be an impression on the part of some of the National league's immediate friends in this city that Mr. Pulliam was the recipient of an uncaled-for insult by the publication of the contents of a letter adressed to him before he received it.

Th course that has been pursued by some of the National lague men in the west since this Davis incident arose to disturb the harmony that existed, has resulted in solidifying eastern sentiment against all of them, not so much on account of Davis, as on account of the method that has been pursued to try to whip Mr. Pulliam into line. If there is anything wrong in the Davis proposition there is a better way to reach it than by throwing stones. Whenever Mr. Brush receives notification from the president of the National league that he can no longer play Davis he will stop.

Meanwhile he has acted entirely within his rights. No matter what may be said, it is a fact that the impression was gathered, not by one, but by half a dozen, at Cincinnati, that the American league did take the ground that it would not send players lost by the New York National league club to the American league club. Such a course would have been asking John T. Brush to tie the halter around his own neck. At least it looked so then. Just at present he seems to have adorned himself with a silk scarf of many colors, while the halter—well it won't be necessary to say anything about that.

SCHWAB'S GIRLS AT THE SEASHORE

Atlantic City Makes Pets of the Pretty Delegation from Homestead.

THEY SAIL THE OCEAN BLUE

Between Bathing, Yachting, Dancing and Theater-Going Their Time Is Pretty Well Occupied—Capt. Young Entertains the Ladies at His Home.

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU,
Young's Ocean Pier,
ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., June 29.

No party that ever made a visit to the shore ever had a better time than the class of young ladies who are now in this city at the Seaside house as the guest of Charles M. Schwab. Since their arrival here they have been petted and feted, and they have been on the go so steadily that they have not had time for a rest, to say nothing of dull moments.

Saturday morning they wended their way to the beach. They went to the baths and about 16 of them donned bathing suits. After lunch they walked almost from one end of the boardwalk to the other. In the evening the entire party visited the Steel pier. They saw the minstrel show, then took a few minutes of the orchestra concert, and wound up in the ball room. There Prof Fricke was presented, and he in turn presented a number of young gentlemen and the young ladies had a very pleasant time chatting and dancing.

Yesterday morning a number of rolling chairs were engaged and the young ladies given a ride to the Inlet. There they were taken from the Inlet to the Ocean pier where they were guests of Captain and Mrs. Young at their pretty summer cottage over the ocean. While they were the guests of Captain and Mrs. Young, the young ladies were escorted to all points of interest on the pier and even given a round trip over the miniature railway, which they enjoyed immensely. They were also taken for a trip on the ocean in Captain Young's new launch.

Their ocean trip ended, the young ladies again appeared at the baths and before they took their dip in the water they were grouped and photographed on the beach. In the afternoon they were given another sail on the ocean in a launch and the evening was spent at the Steel pier listening to the concert in the music hall.

This morning the entire party took a sail on the ocean in Captain Sam Gale's fast yacht, the John E. Mehrer II., and they were given an opportunity of trying their skill at angling for the inhabitants of the deep. Tonight the young ladies are guests of Captain and Mrs. Young at a box party to witness the production of a "Chinese Honeymoon."

Wrecked Arrow a Total Loss.

The converted steam yacht Arrow, which stranded on the beach near the end of Atlantic avenue Saturday, will be a total loss. She has a large hole in her side and is deeply imbedded in the sand. Several efforts were made to float the boat, but were of no avail and the trim little yacht will lie a wreck within a stone's throw of the spot where sailing parties were taken on board by her last summer. She was used as a pleasure steamer, sailing her parties from a wharf in front of the Royal Palace Hotel and had been brought here again to be used for that purpose when she went ashore on the beach.

Hits in the "Honeymoon."

A "Chinese Honeymoon" opened at Young's pier music hall tonight to the largest audience ever assembled in Atlantic City for a theatrical performance. Individual hits were scored by John Henshaw, Toby Claude and Helen Byron. Sam S. Shubert of New York was present at the opening, he being at the head of the Shubert-Nixon-Zimmerman enterprise. Dr. Lorenz of Vienna, occupied one box and the others were filled with the fashion from the swell hotels.

350,000 TONS BOOKED

Steel Corporation Has Orders Ahead for $55,000,000 Worth of Steel Rails.

NEW YORK, June 29.—(Special.)—So far the United States Steel Corporation has booked for 1904 delivery 350,000 tons of steel rails. During the last few days 60,000 tons of this amount have been booked. On the basis of requirements known and estimated for 1904, it is stated that the orders will call for over $90,000,000 worth of steel rails, of which the Steel Corporation will produce not less than $55,000,000 worth.

The Lackawanna Steel Company will be an important factor in next year's production of rails, its output being expected to exceed the entire tonnage of rails imported this year. Many of the large railroads have not yet closed their orders for next year's requirements and some of them will probably wait until the close of the year. They prefer to note the developments of the next few months before deciding upon their needs for next year.

are the end of ill-advised speculation. Better the sure growth of dollar added to dollar, invested for savings with the Allegheny Trust Company, 413 Federal street. At 4 per cent interest, compounded semi-annually, you plant a tree whose branches will shelter and comfort old age. A single dollar is your introduction to a strong, progressive savings concern.

Society and Women's Clubs

Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Howard of Center street, Wilkinsburg, gave a handsome dinner last evening in honor of their youngest son, Thomas Hudson Howard, and his bride-elect, Miss Grace Bushfield. The guests included the members of the wedding party and the immediate families, and the dinner was followed by the wedding rehearsal at the home of the bride's brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Justus A. Dawson Clevenger, where the marriage will be solemnized this evening. It will be a green and white wedding, the decorations being carried out in foliage plants and white flowers, while the gowns of the bride and her maid of honor, her niece, Miss Adele Clevenger, will be a combination of the same colors. The bride will wear a gown of white silk trimmed with duchess lace, and her maid of honor will appear in a pretty costume of white mousseline de soie over green taffeta, and will carry a bouquet of maidenhair ferns. Dr. Harry McMahon of Detroit, will be the best man. The Rev. Dr. Thomas Parry will perform the ceremony, which will be followed by an informal reception and supper. The bride and bridegroom will take a wedding trip of indefinite length, and are undecided where they will make their future home.

Miss Bushfield was born in Washington county, but for some years has made her home in New York. She was educated at the Hollidaysburg seminary. Mr. Howard is an official of the Phoenix Glass Company and has a wide business acquaintance in Western Pennsylvania.

Will Be Married at Home.

Miss Florence Hughes Reno and Harry Vernon Porter will be married this evening at the home of Miss Reno's father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. William Robinson Reno, in Maryland avenue, East End. It will be a quiet home wedding, the guests being limited to relatives and intimate friends of the bride and bridegroom. The bride will be given away by her father and her attendants will include Miss Ida May McClure of Squirrel Hill and Miss Lillian May Sarver of Allegheny. Percy Martin of Los Angeles will be the best man, having stopped on his way to New York to be a member of the wedding party. Immediately after the wedding he will go east to sail for Europe, where he will study for a year, spending the time in Paris. There will be two ushers, Edward Rossiter Reno and John Francis Porter, brothers of the bride and of the bridegroom. After the supper Mr. and Mrs. Porter will leave for a wedding trip of indefinite length, and no at home cards will be issued until they return. Mr. Porter is a son of Mr. and Mrs. John Porter of Rural avenue, and is connected with the Carnegie Steel Company.

Fresh Air Excursions.

The first party of children to be taken to the Idlewood hotel this summer, will go down this week. The children will stay there 12 days and then return to make place for another party. These excursions are made possible by the Relief club, composed of some of the young women of the Church of the Sacred Heart in Center avenue, East End. The club, through the kindness of a number of prominent men interested in the scheme, secured the use of a portion of the hotel for July and August, and throughout the summer will take the children there for an outing in the country.

The club consists of Miss Florence Lanahan, president; Miss Ruth Weldon, secretary; Miss Edith Keating, temporary treasurer; Mrs. Albert Daschbach, Miss Pauline Donnelly, Miss Camilla Frauenheim, Mrs. J. V. Maher, Miss Anne Heyl, Miss Elizabeth Heyl, Miss Gertrude McCaffrey, Miss Jane Patterson, Miss Mary Rodgers, Miss Emily Keating and Miss Stella Loughney.

A Morning Wedding.

In the Roman Catholic church of the Epiphany, in Washington street, this morning at 9 o'clock, will occur the wedding of Miss Ida May Farrell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William James Farrell, and John Michael Haverty, one of the young attorneys at the Allegheny county bar. The marriage will be solemnized by the Rt. Rev. Regis Canevin, coadjutor bishop. The bride will be attended by her three sisters, Miss Blanche Farrell, who will be the maid of honor, and Miss Marie Farrell and Miss Stella Farrell, bridesmaids. James J. Horan will be the best man and the two ushers will include Dr. Edward A. Weiss and Dr. J. C. McGrath.

After the wedding a breakfast will be served at the home of the bride's parents in South Highland avenue, for the bridal party, members of the two immediate families and a few intimate friends of the bride and the bridegroom. Later in the day the young couple will leave for an eastern wedding trip.

Summer Travelers.

Outing for Little Folks.

The first delegation of children from Pittsburgh to the Sewickley Fresh-Air home will be taken today. Sixty children have been selected for the excursion by Mrs. A. C. Lippincott, and upon their arrival in Sewickley they will be taken in charge by Mrs. Samuel C. Gibson. After a fortnight's sojourn they will return to their homes and another delegation will be given the freedom of the fresh air and pure water of the countryside. Three hundred children will be entertained at the Sewickley home during the summer.

Brilliant Lodge Opening.

A brilliant social program will characterize the formal institution of the Doric lodge of the Masonic order in Sewickley on Thursday at noon. The exercises will take place in the Knights of Pythias hall and will be attended by over 200 prominent members of the order from all parts of Western Pennsylvania. The new lodge has a membership of 50. Following the ceremonies a banquet will be held in the Edgeworth club house.

At Duquesne Garden.

ARRIVALS.

Ben Hur, Sims, Parkersburg.
Kanawha, Roe, Charleston.
Columbia, Abrams, Morgantown.
Edgar Cherry, Hoag, Brownsville.

DEPARTURES.

Keystone State, Knox, Cincinnati.
Ben Hur, Sims, Parkersburg.
I. C. Woodward, Williams, Morgantown.

All the river packets are doing an immense business.

The Keystone State left yesterday with a large passenger list and well loaded with freight. The Queen City will arrive tomorrow for the first time in several weeks. Regular trips will now be made on this line.

The Ben Hur and Kanawha brought up their usual large consignments of farm products and also had large passenger lists. The Ben Hur left yesterday, and the Kanawha leaves for Kanawha river points this afternoon.

The steamer Joe Walton is coming in with a cracked cylinder. She will thus be prevented from taking a tow out on this rise.

Considerable rivalry has been aroused between the steamers Woodward and Columbia. Both boats are making faster time than ever between here and Morgantown, and are leaving regularly at 3 o'clock. The Edgar Cherry leaves daily for Morgantown, one hour later, returning the next morning.

Capts. W. H. Crump and Arthur Moren have left for Louisville to have charge of the transportation of the coal fleet of the Monongahela River Coal and Coke Company.

The new Slackwater and the government snagboat, Gen. Theodore Schwann, are being completed in the Allegheny river at the shops of James Rees & Co.

COAL WILL BE SHIPPED.

An Unexpected Rise Makes It Possible to Send Out Additional Tows.

Another rise in the rivers is in sight. Last evening the lower guage showed a stage of nearly eight feet and the waters were rising. The coal companies were spurred by this rise to renewed exertions, directed toward getting their steamers back to port so as to take out additional tows, and many telegrams were sent to the captains who are making their way up the Ohio, urging them to crowd on all steam. There will be considerable coal shipped today. How much it is just now difficult to state, but it is probable that before nightfall the Valiant and Josh Cook of the Monongahela River Consolidated Coal and Coke Company will leave with about 17 barges each. The C. W. Thomas of the C. F. Jutte Company is due to arrive this morning and in case she gets in will leave this evening with a tow of 12 boats and two barges.

The best water is expected tomorrow and then more tows will get out. The Jim Wood, Mariner, Enterprise, Cruiser, W. W. O'Neill and Fallie are hurrying to port with all haste, and are expected to arrive in time to take out tows. The River Coal Company has 150 barges and between 50 and 100 light boats which it expects to get well on the way before the water falls again. This is a rise from the waters of the Monongahela river and therefore will not last long. No attempt will be made by this company to get out heavy boats, although it has many available. Between 10 and 11 feet are expected below the Davis island dam.

In case all the coal that is in readiness to go out is shipped it will mean a run of about 5,000,000 bushels, which will bring the total shipments for the month of June to about 21,000,000 bushels. This is much better than was even hoped for in the middle of the month.

Sleeper to Deer Park, Md., Via B. & O. R. R.

The Baltimore & Ohio railroad will inaugurate sleeping car service between Pittsburgh and Deer Park, Md., on June 19, and continue the service throughout the season. Sleeper will leave Pittsburgh Friday night at 9 o'clock, returning leave Deer Park Sunday night arriving Pittsburgh 6:15 Monday morning.

PERSONALS

P. P. Bush of Denver, engaged in the gold mining industry, is at the Hotel Duquesne. He says that Denver at present is one of the busiest cities in the United States. Recent labor troubles there resulted in the forming of an organization known as the Citizens Alliance, which will, in a large measure, prevent any similar labor disturbance. The organization takes in all members of labor unions, and also the employers. The workmen agree to refrain from boycotting, or any form of coercion or unlawful force, and to discontinue all strikes and schemes of persecution resorted to by organized labor. The employes agree to submit all disputes, that cannot be mutually settled, to a board of arbitration.

B. E. Pettigrew of Baltimore, general baggage agent of the Baltimore & Ohio, spent yesterday in Pittsburgh. He is much interested in the improvements that are to be made in the terminals here.

John Barnes, accompanied by a party of capitalists, will leave this morning for a trip to Marshall county, W. Va., where they will inspect coal lands. If the lands turn out to be as represented, they will form a stock company and open up the territory.

"Bohemian Girl" at the Garden.

Balfe's fine old romantic opera is the pride of singers, as it is the delight of the public, and being without royalty is not objectionable to the managers of light opera seasons. But "The Bohemian Girl" is an opera of such intensely fine melody and possessed of solos and concerted numbers that it will live as long as the human ear is tuned to sweet harmony. It is being sung this week by the Duquesne Garden Stock Opera Company in a way that commends it afresh to public attention and favor. This is particularly true as to the principals, who, by the change each week are in two or three notable instances new and vocally strong additions to the company. Miss Ethel Balch, who sings Arline, is a stranger in Pittsburgh, but her introduction last night makes her a very welcome one. She has a voice of fine tonal quality and great lyrical sweetness. As an actress is charming, and sang the tender melody, "I Dream't I Dwelt in Marble Halls" with fine expression, giving it a clear and yet eminently melodious interpretation. The stock company has been especially fortunate in its prima donnas so far, and Miss Balch will be conceded one of the best. Our old friend Jack Raffael was never in better voice and gave us "Heart Bowed Down" with unusual beauty, his baritone meeting admirably the tender shadings of this gem of the Balfe cluster of gems. Mr. Harry Davies as Thaddeus and Josephine Bartlett as the Gypsy Queen, completed the quartet of new singers, but besides these we had John J. Martin as Devilshoof, and he did it well, too, Harold Rehill as Florestine, Fin Reynolds as the captain and Ada Sprang as Buda. Josephine Bartlett sang finely and was given a most cordial welcome, while Mr. Davies, the new tenor, made a handsome and vocally excellent Thaddeus. His voice is clear and he sings with ease and composure, something that light opera tenors rarely do. His "Then You'll Remember Me" was one of the most enjoyable numbers of the score.

In the Palm garden there is a decidedly clever novelty and one that is sure to hold a majority of the week's audiences in the cool palm room until the last minute. Lawrence Orr and Charlotte Tompkins make as good a vaudeville pair as one could wish, notwithstanding the fact that they are hardly more than children. Their songs and dances are both amusing and artistic.

New Contralto for Bostonians.

ROCHESTER, N. Y., June 29.—(Special.)—Miss Marie Ellen Whiting of this city has signed a contract with Henry Clay Barnabee as leading contralto with the Bostonians next season. Miss Whiting has never appeared on the stage save at home. She has been no further from Rochester than Buffalo.

WOMEN WASTE MONEY

By using coal in cooking, for the coal lost in letting the fire die out after the meal is cooked would pay for the gas to do the same work. Gas is clean, too, does not heat the whole house up from the kitchen. If you apply this month at the Philadelphia Company office you can get free service connections and have meter set free. 435 Sixth avenue.

The Correction of Children.

When it becomes necessary to reprove a child for any misdemeanor or naughtiness, let it be done when there are no others present. Of course, it is folly to suppose that any mother will permit a child to continue annoying her friends, patiently reserving reproof and punishment. And it seems at times as though children were possessed of veritable inspirations of badness the minute a stranger enters the house, or they are taken among strangers. On such occasions a quiet, stern word of rebuke ought to have the desired effect, but if it does not, punish the child then and there rather than lay yourself open to the charge of spoiling him, or caring nothing for the comfort of your friends. It is my misfortune to know a mother who has two children of whom she says she is so fond that she cannot bear to deny them anything. Therefore, when she calls, accompanied by her offspring, and she never calls without them, the books and magazines are snatched off the table and spread on the floor to be looked over, the flowers are pulled from the vases, and a general hullaballoo follows any lack of acquiescence on the part of the lady of the house to join in the plan of education adopted by the mother. But, when they leave, one vainly wishes that the laws of the land prevented such unwisdom of mothers. Yet, so far as possible, correct a child in private. Many a sensitive youngster has been hurt to the quick by having elders present while he was scolded or punished. But above all make your child respect the rights of others, and your friends shall rise up and call you blessed.

Care of the Umbrella.

It is not economy, though it may seem so, to combine the use of a rain-umbrella and sunshade in one article, says a writer in Harper's Bazar. A manufacturer of umbrellas points out that it is the oil in the silk which continues its wear. When that is dried out the material cracks and is useless. The sun's heat, obviously, therefore, is not desirable and should be kept from a good umbrella. A cheap pongee or silk and linen parasol may better be bought, as it will mean perhaps a year more wear for the more expensive rainshield. A further caution in the care of good umbrellas is possibly known, but may be repeated in this connection. This is that one should always stand wet umbrellas handle down, open if possible, that they may drain at the points rather than where the ribs meet the stick, the latter process rapidly rotting the silk.

Summer Fancies and Fads.

Roman gold filigree beads are coming in. They are worn in a rather tight string. Baroque pearls continue to be popular, although less novel than the beads. Something quaint around the neck or the top of the collar, and attractive in the way of a necklace is a series of filigree medallions in Roman gold, having baroque pearls or pendants. Imitation pearls have become so painfully common that they are now discarded by all well-dressed women. The gold necklace is taking their place.

Parasol handles are growing longer and thinner. The newest models have very slender sticks.

Some of the daintiest of this year's sunshades are hand painted. Satin lends itself to this decoration and is therefore in favor. White silk is also lovely with a hand-painted floral or conventional design.

The blouse that buttons in the back and has the collar built on it is the best-liked model for a trimmed waist. The latest stock is of lace, unlined. It fastens in the front and has bishop ends coming down almost to the waist line.

The Care of Matting.

She was searching among the stamped goods at the fancy work counter, and it was noticed that doilies, tray cloths, scarfs and table covers were discarded one after another, no matter how delicately beautiful or simple in execution were the designs stamped upon them. "They're all old-timers," she complained to her companion, who was also interested in selecting her summer fancy work. "Not one of them has an appropriate motto."

"Can't you trace an inscription with a pen and then outline it with silk; and is this really an important feature?" she was asked.

"Oh, yes," she assured her friend; "it seems odd to go back to mottoes, inscriptions and appropriate verses and quotations in the decorations of one's room; but it is the thing to do now. When embroidering a set of doilies, a mantel-piece scarf or table cover, to be quite up-to-date you must work in somewhere some sentiment. This is a fad which has not come to the fore for many a long year, but everything tends now toward being old-fashioned and quaint."

STOCKS CLOSED FIRM AT HIGHEST PRICES

Success of the Pennsylvania Railroad Stock Subscription the Bullish Factor—Call Loan Rates Were Higher.

By JOHN O. BAGLIN, Financial Editor.

There was a decided change in the tone of the stock market yesterday, trading being more active and the advance in prices being general. The improvement was widespread, the early London quotations for American securities showing advances of ½ to 1 per cent, and this advance was well sustained in the foreign market. With the higher quotations London sent buying orders which were estimated at between 40,000 and 45,000 shares, distributed among Pennsylvania, Reading, Baltimore & Ohio and Union Pacific, and these stocks were leaders in the advance. The announced success of subscriptions to the $75,000,000 new stock issued by the Pennsylvania railroad was the chief factor on the bull side. Another was the early decline in grain and cotton markets, based upon weather conditions, and a third was the break made in the building strike situation in New York. Pennsylvania opened ⅜ higher at 125, and after a temporary reaction to 124½, continued its advance, reaching 125½ in the late dealings and closing at the top. Baltimore & Ohio was another particularly strong feature, reaching 87 and closing at a net gain for the day of 2 per cent. Reading opened ½ point higher at 49½ and advanced steadily to 51⅜, and during the day bids were made for large blocks of the stock. The other coalers, including Chesapeake & Ohio, Norfolk & Western and the Eries were all active, firm and higher, closing at the best. The advances in the Gould group were not so large, but all were firm and higher. A report was current that negotiations were pending with the view to making a division of territory that would establish harmonious relations among the Pennsylvania, Vanderbilt and Gould interests.

The day was unusually free from rumors affecting either side of the market, but the leading incidents could not have been better timed to encourage the growth of a better sentiment. The initial impetus to the upward movement, as stated, came from London, and was aided by the course of the grain and cotton markets. Later in the day, when wheat and corn became strong, recovering all the earlier loss, the official announcement was made from President Cassatt's office that the entire $75,000,000 new Pennsylvania stock allotment had been taken, and that 90 per cent of the subscriptions were full-paid. A very simple calculation showed that this meant approximately $81,000,000 cash paid in on the stock, leaving only about $9,000,000 to be paid in the deferred instalments which occur in October and next June. After the selection of the underwriting syndicate about six weeks ago the success of the operation was assured, but no one expected that so large a percentage of the subscriptions would be full-paid. The announcement seemed to be taken to heart by the shorts in the market. The largest dealings and the considerable advance in prices occurred in the final hour, and a considerable proportion of the buying was credited to covering of shorts. The industrial shares were relatively as active and strong as the railroad list, which tended to confirm the view that the improvement in sentiment was general, and not the result of manipulation of a few specialties. United States Steel common rose a point to 31⅛, and the preferred, after selling at 79½, rose to 80⅝, closing at a net gain of 1¼ per cent. The new bonds were also firmer at 82¾@83. Amalgamated Copper advanced from 55⅛ to 56¾ and closed at 56. The car stocks were also higher, but closed below the best. Sugar advanced 2½ points to 122⅝, and closed firm. The sales of the day reached 666,000 shares.

At one time during the day call loan rates advanced to 5 per cent, but later receded to 3½@4 per cent. It would have caused little or no surprise if the rate had gone much higher, in view of the preparations being made for the disbursement of something like $150,000,000 in interest and dividends this week. That these preparations could be made, and at the same time $81,000,000 be paid in on the Pennsylvania subscriptions, and no greater disturbance occur in the money market, is regarded as remarkable. It is inferred that the Pennsylvania management will at once pay off the $40,000,000 loan negotiated early in the year. According to Philadelphia advices, a considerable proportion of this loan falls due on Monday next, and the remainder is payable on demand. The liquidation of this loan would still leave the Pennsylvania about $40,000,000 cash on hand out of the proceeds of the subscriptions, and the effects of the financiering should be seen in this week's bank statement, which will be issued on Friday, instead of Saturday, owing to the holiday occurring on the latter date.

Pittsburgh shared in the improved tone of the stock market in the east, the sales on the local board reaching 4,513 shares stock and $15,000 bonds. United States Steel was the leader in the dealings and advanced from 30 to 30⅞, closing at a net gain of ⅞ dollar a share. The preferred advanced from 79½ to 80¼, and closed at the highest. There were no transactions in Crucible Steel common, but the stock was firmer at 14¾ bid. The preferred sold at 80⅛ and closed at 80¼ bid. Philadelphia Company common was fairly active, selling to the extent of 700 shares at 41⅛@41⅞, closing at a net advance of ⅝. Manufacturers Light & Heat was a fraction lower at 39¼, and Ohio Fuel Supply declined to 42. There was very little doing in Pittsburgh Coal, none of the common changing hands, and only 26 shares of the preferred at unchanged prices. River Coal was unchanged at 10⅝ for the common and 40⅝ for the preferred. Westinghouse Electric first preferred declined ½ to 94, while the second preferred advanced ½ to 95½. There were no sales of Airbrake, but the stock was firmer at 158 bid. Standard Underground Cable sold unchanged at 200, although the company announced an extra dividend of 2 per cent in addition to the regular quarterly dividend of 2 per cent.

Some sharp advances occurred in the bank and trust company list. Colonial Trust sold at 590, an advance of $30 a share over the last previous sale last week. Dollar Savings Fund & Trust advanced to 312 bid, the highest price ever quoted. Industrial National Bank sold at 136, reacting to 135. Real Estate Trust was 2 per cent higher at 287. A small lot of Guarantee Title & Trust sold at 206, a decline of 4 per cent from the last previous sale, and one share of Farmers Deposit National Bank sold at 1,650, a decline of 35 points from the last previous sale. Philadelphia Company 5s and River Coal 6s were firm and fractionally higher.

FEATURES OF THE DAY

IN PITTSBURGH.

Bank exchanges were $6,127,868, an increase of $500,000.

Stock exchange sales were 4,513 shares stock and $15,000 bonds.

United States Steel closed a point higher for the common and a half point higher for the preferred.

Philadelphia Company firmer, selling at 41⅞. Other gas stocks lower.

Dollar Savings Fund and Trust advanced to 312 bid, a record price.

IN WALL STREET.

Market closed with gain of 1 to 3¾ points in leading active stocks.

Union Pacific was unusually active, closing at 82⅞; 46,150 shares being dealt in.

Pennsylvania broke through the opposition and closed 125⅜. Day's dealings amounted to 64,128 shares.

Amalgamated Copper was active, 21,065 shares changing hands; closing at 56.

Reading was the day's leader, 94,500 shares being traded in.

United States Steel 2nd 5s were kept down near 82 by persistent selling. United States bonds were all unchanged on the last call.

Local Dividend Disbursements.

Dividend disbursements for purely local corporations will aggregate a very respectable sum within the next week or two. Yesterday the Crucible Steel Company paid out $437,500 to its preferred stockholders, being 1¾ per cent. On the 10th prox. the Westinghouse dividends are payable. Airbrake leads, with $600,000. Electric will pay about $260,000 on both classes of stock. The Standard Underground Cable will pay $50,000, Manufacturers Light and Heat $322,500 and Pittsburgh Oil and Gas $120,000. Today the Union Trust directors are expected to declare 15 per cent for the past quarter, which will call for $225,000. A score or more of other local banks and trust companies will pay dividends within the next few days. A certain percentage of these disbursements will be available for reinvestment in the stock market, and unless the unforeseen happens to dissipate the better feeling manifested yesterday, there should be a further improvement in security values.

Pittsburgh Subscriptions Light.

A canvass of the leading Pittsburgh brokerage houses disclosed the fact that local subscriptions to the new stock of the Pennsylvania railroad were light. No doubt some subscriptions were made direct by holders of stock, but those passing through the hands of brokers were light. The head of one Fourth avenue house which is a member of the New York stock exchange stated that not one of his customers had subscribed. Another large investment house handled subscriptions for less than 200 shares, while their sales of rights amounted to many thousand shares. A representative of another house stated that they had sold the rights on practically all the stock on their books, but the last week there was good investment buying of the stock around 124. Some skepticism was manifested among local financiers over the statement that $81,000,000 had been paid on account of subscriptions, and there was a pretty general feeling that the underwriting syndicate was required to take a large block of the stock. At the same time, sentiment here is now bullish on Pennsylvania stock.

The First National Rumors.

Officials of the First National bank of Pittsburgh yesterday made broad and sweeping denials of the rumors that have been current connecting the institution in any way with pending consolidations. One of the officials said:

"You may make it as emphatic as possible that no proposition has ever been made, none is pending and none will be considered for changing the present status of the First National bank."

Local Money Market Active.

The local money market was quite active yesterday, due to the shifting of loans at the end of the semi-annual settlement period. Savings banks which pay interest July 1 usually accumulate a large amount of funds at this season to be prepared for the payment of interest and to meet withdrawals, which are always larger at the semi-annual interest period than at other times. By the 10th inst., when several large corporations pay dividends, the money market will be easier.

Condition of National Banks.

The comptroller of the currency has completed a tabulation of the reports of the national banks throughout the country. Their condition on June 9 shows a percentage of legal reserve to deposits of 22.08 per cent, compared with 21.68 per cent on April 9 and 22.52 per cent on July 16 last year. The increase in loans and discounts since July 16 of last year has been $193,186,110. This does not constitute a favorable showing on its face as to the ability of the banks to meet the coming demands to move the crops, but this showing was lost sight of yesterday in face of the more immediate situation.

NOTES AND COMMENT.

North American Savings sold at 149 at the opening and rallied to 150. Stockholders were in receipt of the following notice, dated June 27, and signed by Xavier Wittmer, president, and W. P. Fraser, secretary and treasurer:

"At a meeting of the board of directors held this day the dividend rate was increased from 8 per cent to 10 per cent. The bank has had a very steady increase in depositors and earning capacity, having opened over 150 new accounts every month this year; the month of June just closing proving to be one of the best months in the history of the institution. The steady increase of depositors is due to the aggressive policy adopted by the bank, and is certainly very gratifying. The dividend is increased owing to the fact that the net earnings are close to 15 per cent, and the surplus fund having been increased to a basis of over $1,000,000, and hereafter it will be the policy of the bank to increase the dividend rather than increase the surplus fund. We take this opportunity to notify you that with the capital and surplus fund fully paid the book value will be between $103 and $104, not counting the increased value of our real estate, corner Fourth avenue and Market street. The dividend is payable to stockholders of record July 1. The transfer books of the company will be closed July 1 to 10 inclusive, at which time checks will be mailed."

The Monongahela National bank has increased its rate of dividend from 2 per cent quarterly to 2½ per cent quarterly. The new capital and surplus of the bank has all been paid in, and now stands at $1,000,000 capital and $1,500,000 surplus.

The Standard Underground Cable Company has declared the regular quarterly dividend of 2 per cent and an extra dividend of 2 per cent, both payable July 10 to stock of record July 3. Small lots of the stock sold yesterday at 200.

Colonial Trust closed at 585 bid, 590 asked. American Trust closed offered at 500, and Farmers Deposit National bank closed at 1,660. Iron City Trust closed at 132 bid, 134 asked.

Three local bank stocks established new high prices yesterday. Dollar Savings Fund & Trust advanced to 312 bid. Industrial National bank sold at 136, and 5 shares Ohio Valley bank sold at 160, an advance of $30 a share over the last previous price.

Westinghouse Electric seconds preferred sold yesterday $1 50 a share higher than the first preferred. Both stocks have been put upon the same dividend-paying basis, and while the first preferred has a prior right in the assets of the company, it is so closely held that very little of the stock comes upon the market. When the second preferred is full paid there will be $18,500,000 of it outstanding, and it is certain to be more active than the first preferred, and therefore a greater favorite with traders.

The Philadelphia bank statement yesterday did not reflect any of the transactions in connection with the Pennsylvania railroad stock subscriptions. There was a decrease in both loans and deposits.

The Pittsburgh Oil & Gas Company yesterday declared a quarterly dividend of 2 per cent, payable July 15. This is the first dividend declared by the reorganized company.

The Workingmans Savings Bank & Trust Company of Allegheny has declared a semi-annual dividend of 6 per cent, payable on and after July 1.

The Western Savings & Deposit bank has declared a quarterly dividend of 2 per cent, payable forthwith.

The Commercial National bank has declared a quarterly dividend of 2 per cent.

The Wabash directors declared the regular 3 per cent interest on the debenture "A" bonds, but took no action on the "B" bonds. Traders sold the preferred stock on the announcement, but in the late dealings the generally rally carried the price to the highest of the day.

It is estimated that the surplus earnings of Tennessee Coal & Iron for the half year were $1,500,000, an increase of $904,000 over the corresponding period last year.

A prominent feature of yesterday's New York market was that many of the big people were again active in their specialties. This was particularly noticeable in Reading, which led in point of activity. The May statements of Pennsylvania and Reading will be made this week, and as they compare with a month last year when the anthracite coal strike was on, a large increase in both gross and net earnings is looked for.

The directors of the W. M. Laird Company have declared a semi-annual dividend of 3 per cent, payable today.

The Pittsburgh & Lake Erie directors have declared a semi-annual dividend of 5 per cent, payable August 1 to stock of record July 20.

The Guarantee Title & Trust Company of Pittsburgh has received the contract for examining and issuing titles to property in Cape May City, N. J., owned by a syndicate of Pittsburgh capitalists. The land will be subdivided into several thousand lots and the contract means a large addition to the business of the Pittsburgh company.

Mr. A. E. Masten, who spent Friday and Saturday in Chicago attending the conference of stock exchanges, says the west appears to be bullish on grain and conservatively bearish on stocks.

MANIPULATION STARTS STOCK PRICES UPWARD

Wall Street Feels Encouraged by Success of Pennsy Bond Issue.

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU,
Herald Building, Herald Square,
NEW YORK, June 30.

The Herald this (Tuesday) morning says: Speculative sentiment was more hopefully inclined yesterday than for a long time. The change reflected in a marked increase in activity and a sharp advance in prices. There was very little change in the character of the trading, which continued professional, but a disposition to resume operations on the part of speculative pools developed in a number of stocks, particularly the anthracite coalers. Wall street was much encouraged by the advance in prices, but commission house business showed no change and the investment business showed no increase. Brokers, however, in commenting upon this, called attention to the fact that most speculative markets start with manipulation.

The important and practically the sole influencing development of the day was the highly successful outcome of the Pennsylvania railroad stock subscription. Information received from Philadelphia and from interests identified with the road in this city, was in effect that the issue was even more successful than had been reported. Not only did the shareholders subscribe to practically every dollar of the new capital, but 90 per cent of the total payment was anticipated. Elsewhere news did not amount to much, but the buying for London account and the decline in the price of cotton were accounted favorable factors.

The future of the money market was the advance in call loans to 5 per cent incident to the callings made necessary to provide for the July disbursements. Higher rates are predicted for tomorrow, although call money closed at 4 per cent.

NEWS FROM THE MINES.

A "search shaft" sunk by the Calumet & Pittsburgh on its Bisbee property encountered a body of ore at 900 feet depth. The ore is an oxide, and the same class as found in the Calumet & Arizona. It is much more important than at first reported—a vein four feet in width being encountered, running over 20 per cent copper. This find in ground at a distance from the Copper Queen is very good news for the various new companies now sinking shafts, and will tend to strengthen an already very strong confidence felt in the district contiguous to the Copper Queen territory.

The Buckeye, owned by the Old Gold Company and situated on the west slope of Beacon hill, gives promise of turning out to be one of the big bonanzas of the Victor (Col.) section of the camp. It is being worked under lease by Taylor & Co., and a body of ore varying in width from three to 12 feet is now being broken at the 200-foot level. Returns from the last car load averaged $128 per ton. Three shifts are employed in sinking the shaft an additional 100 feet. An assay from the bottom of this shaft, which is now down 280 feet, showed the remarkable value of $4,478. Of course this was from a picked sample of the ore.

The Oregon, the first boat of the year to arrive at Seattle from Nome, brings a report that it is estimated that the winter dumps will clean up over $1,000,000, or twice as much as any previous year.

Tonopah Mining Company (Nevada) people say that the output at present ranges from about $40,000 to $65,000 per month and that it has run as high as $100,000. The company has over $300,000 cash in bank, realized from earnings, the property having reached its present stage of development without calling upon stockholders for additional cash beyond that represented by the sale of its stock when the company was brought out. The company charged $14,000 last month for a steel gallows frame, and all the improvements have been made out of earnings. Several shafts have been sunk, and a level of 700 feet has been tunneled. Upon the report of Engineer Hammond will depend what method will be adopted by the company for treating the ore itself—whether by erecting a smaller stamp mill or other plant—instead of sending the ore away to be treated.

The Metal Market.

NEW YORK, June 29.—There was a decline of £1 in the prices of spot tin in London, where it closed at £127, while futures there lost 10s, closing at £124. Locally tin was quiet, with spot quoted at $28 00. Copper in London was higher, spot advancing 5s to £57 7s 6d, while futures were 7s 6d higher at £57 5s. In New York copper remained dull and nominal; lake and electrolytic are quoted at $14 50 and casting at $14 00. Lead was unchanged in London at £11 15s and in New York at $4 12½. Spelter advanced 2s 6d in London to £20 2s 6d, but remained unchanged and nominal here at $6 12½@6 25. Iron closed at 52s 6d in Glasgow, and at 46s 10½d in Middlesboro. Locally iron was quiet and more or less nominal: No. 1 foundry northern is quoted at $19 50@20 00, No. 2 foundry northern at $18 50@19 00. No. 1 foundry southern and No. 1 foundry southern soft at $19 00@19 50. Warrants are nominal.

The Drygoods Market.

NEW YORK, June 29.—The week in drygoods opens very quietly, with a continued tendency toward higher prices and reports of increased curtailment in all sections. Jobbers naturally have had a very quiet day on account of the inclement weather and first hands have been visited by few buyers. Conservative purchasing is the watchword of buyers, whether having liberal stocks or not.

Wabash Pays Interest on Bonds.

NEW YORK, June 29.—(Special.)—Directors of the Wabash today declared the regular semi-annual interest of 3 per cent on the debenture A bonds, but failed to announce any division for the debenture B. Considerable discontent has been thus aroused among holders of the latter.

PASTOR'S SILVER JUBILEE.

This Is a Notable Week for St. John's German Lutheran Congregation.

The Rev. P. M. Reidenbach will celebrate the twenty-fifth anniversary of his pastorate at St. John's German Lutheran church, Fortieth and Howley streets, this evening. The Young People's society have arranged a silver jubilee service in which the members of the church and several invited pastors will take part. Dr. Reidenbach has been in the ministry for 40 years and has had but three charges in all that time.

Services in celebration of his twenty-fifth pastorate will be held all day next Sunday. The Rev. A. W. Werder of Wheeling and the Rev. Rudolph Reidenbach of Union City, Ind., a son of the pastor, will make addresses, and the pastor will read a report giving a brief history of the church and its financial standing.

Oil Company Did Not Fail.

The Pittsburgh and Parkersburg Oil Company is not in the hands of a receiver, as reported in a Cleveland dispatch. This concern some time ago took a portion of the oil fields of Adams & Sarber at Lima, O., in payment of a debt. Ten days later the latter firm failed, and the Pittsburgh and Parkersburg Oil Company turned over the recently acquired oil field to the receiver appointed for Adams & Sarber. Although the Pittsburgh concern may lose some money by the failure, it is in no danger of going into bankruptcy.

LLEGHENY SITE SOLD FOR $35,000

rth Side Brokers Bought Old Suydan Property in the First Ward.

4,000 DEAL IN HOUSES

aum Grove House Brings $27,500—A $55,000 Building for Seventh Ward. Sewickley Houses to Cost $20,000. Minor Realty Deals.

W. L. Scott and Clarance L. Saxton of V. L. Scott & Co. have bought the old uydam property in the First ward, Allegheny, for $35,000. The property is well nown, having been used for years as a ead works. It faces 51 feet in Rebecca street, 113 feet in Lacock street and is 157 feet deep. A three-story brick building is the only improvement. The property was bought from the Second National bank of Pittsburgh and it is rumored that the purchase was made for a manufacturing site. As the lot is not flooded until 27 feet of water is reached, it is a most desirable site for that purpose. Near by are the McClurg cracker plant and the tin works of Thomas Irwin. The Suydam property is directly on the line of the Wabash survey, and near the Craig holdings at the end of Craig street, in Killbuck street, which were reported sold to the Wabash last winter, for $18,000.

Fine Group of Houses.

It is currently reported that George W. Sherman, who has been a large operator in suburban real estate for the past two years, has sold to C. C. Mellor 17 houses in the Edgewood district for about $84,000. Fourteen of the houses are two-story brick dwellings, containing eight rooms each and standing on lots 20x100 feet each, in Ivy street. The remaining three residences contain 10 rooms each and are on lots 30x120 feet, in Lincoln avenue, Edgewood. They are part of a lot of 100 houses which Mr. Sherman has built within the last 18 months on a $100,000 block of frontage which he bought through John F. Baxter. When seen yesterday Mr. Mellor said that the deal had not been signed up, but it is understood that it will be closed tomorrow.

Through the agency of P. Sandomire a fine residence in the Baum Grove district has been sold for $27,500. It is a modern, center hall, brick house of 13 rooms and occupies a lot 60x140 feet, at the corner of Friendship avenue and Graham street. The new owner, who will occupy the property as a home, is Mrs. Y. Browarsky, she having bought it from William O. Wright.

Six Story Building to Cost $55,000.

If plans now being matured carry, the Seventh ward will get a $55,000 store and flat building before snow falls. The owners will be Louis Cohen and George C. Norris, who are now receiving bids on the proposed building. Plans for it have been drawn by a New York architect and if the bids are satisfactory work will be started shortly. The building will occupy the whole of a lot facing 48 feet in Hazel street, 48 feet in Franklin street, and 126 feet in Logan street, which was bought three months ago. As now planned it will be six stories high and be fireproof. On the first floor will be 10 storerooms. The upper floors will be occupied by 40 flats of five rooms each. Baths, steam heat, gas and electric lights are to be provided. It is expected to rent the flats at about $22 a month, and the location should insure a full list of renters at this figure.

Architects Rutan & Russell have awarded the contract for two Sewickley house, for Davis & McKnight, to Wishart & Sons of Sharon. The houses will be brick structures and will cost $20,000.

Architect J. P. Bailey has plans for six more houses for Simon Spatz in Braddock. This lot makes at total of 34 houses which Mr. Spatz is building this summer in Braddock, at a cost of about $50,000. The first lot is being built by Gerard & Gibson.

Credit to Whom Credit is Due.

A Sunday paper in a "conscientiousless" attempt to "trail in" on a story three days old—the sale of the Schoenberger property in the Twenty-first ward, denied that the deal was made through A. Leggate & Son. In reporting the sale last Thursday The Gazette said that A. Leggate & Son represented the sellers in the deal. It was well known in realty circles that these brokers have had the exclusive agency for the Schoenberger tract for years, and in the present sale, which amounted to $173,000, the owners were represented by them. The buyer was Edward M. Behen of the firm of D. Behen & Son, who will take title to the property in the interest of other operators who propose to plot it.

The National Tube Company is making rapid progress in getting the site ready at McKeesport for the new $10,000,000 tube plant. More than half the houses on the site have been torn down. Many of them are being loaded on cars and shipped to various nearby points where the mill men have bought lots. Yesterday a gang of 50 laborers was set to work making a big fill along the Pennsylvania railroad tracks near the Youghiogheny river, the material being taken from the excavations for the plant.

Will Share His Commissions.

C. C. S. Baldridge of the Commonwealth Real Estate & Trust Company, one of the most successful real estate salesmen in the city, has formed an extended partnership with Miss Josephine Louther of Allegheny. The couple were married quietly on June 26, and left at once on a bridal trip to Cleveland and other points. They will reside in Wilkins place, East End, where Mr. Baldridge is building a handsome residence.

Washington avenue: Black & Baird sold for Mrs. Emilie Heinrich to Isaac Surloff, a lot 25x147 feet on Washington avenue, improved with two-story brick building, for $7,600.

Sewickley: Joseph P. Rankin & Co. sold for Frank E. Schlumpf, to Samuel Gibbs, a lot 32x125 feet at the northwest corner of Straight and Centennial avenues, Sewickley, for $1,500. The buyer will build.

Ambridge: Gault & Giffin sold for William A. Crawford to Thomas H. Morgan, two lots, 22x100 feet each, in Merchant street, Ambridge, for $2,800. Mr. Crawford paid $1,870 for the lots, so thata the sale affords another example of the quick turns that have been made recently in this new industrial town.

Bank Building Assured.

A building permit was issued yesterday to the Metropolitan National Bank for a new banking house at Forty-first and Butler streets. It will cost $45,552. Other permits issued were to William Levy, brick store and dwelling, No. 1422 Wylie avenue, $2,450; F. W. Haller, brick addition to store and dwelling, Homewood avenue, Twenty-second ward, $8,400; J. H. Ward & Son, frame and brick, brick works, Oakwood street, Thirty-seventh ward, $2,000; J. Guy McCandless, stable, Center avenue, Twentieth ward, $2,000.

CORN AND OATS HIGHER AT CLOSE OF MARKET

Trading in Chicago Wheat Pit, However, Had a Tendency, to Weaken the Prices.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

CHICAGO, June 29.—After a weak opening prices in both the grain and provision pits showed a marked improvement on a good demand and September wheat closed unchanged. September corn ¾c higher and oats up ¼c, while provisions were from 17½c to 60c higher.

Weakness characterized the early trading in wheat, due to reports of general rains in the northwest, lower cables, larger world's shipments and a bearish Canadian crop report. September opened ⅛@⅜c to ⅝@1⅛c lower at 77⅜@77½c, with July off ⅛@1¼c at 79⅜@80c. Many of the longs had wheat for sale and the early selling pressure was very urgent, and a good deal of long stuff was sold out. Outside markets were considerably lower, which contributed to the depression, and with selling by the northwest and St. Louis September declined to 77c, with only a small demand. A decrease in the visible supply brought out a better demand toward the noon hour, and prices started in an upward direction. September was especially in good demand and sold up to 78½c, while July rallied to 80c. Buying by the northwest with denials that the rains in that section were of little consequence were largely responsible for the late firmness. September closed unchanged at 78⅛@78¼c, but July was 1c lower at 79¼c. Primary receipts were 495,100 bushels, against 636,500 bushels a year ago. Minneapolis and Duluth reported receipts of 312 cars, which, with local receipts of 24 cars, one of contract grade, made total receipts for the three points of 343 cars, against 320 cars last week and 524 cars a year ago.

Conditions favored the bears in the corn pit and opening prices were weak in sympathy with the weakness in wheat and on the liberal receipts and extremely favorable weather. The selling was quite general early in the day, but later with the change in sentiment in wheat a good demand developed and the market became strong. Covering by shorts and buying by bulls on the small estimated receipts for tomorrow helped in the upturn. There was no special feature in trading. The close was strong with September ¾c higher at 50⅝c, after selling between 49⅝c and 50⅝c. July was up ⅛c at 50½c. Local receipts were 921 cars, with 92 of contract grade.

The feature in the trading in oats was the decline in the July and the apparent abandonment of the deal which had been in progress for some time. The weakness in other grains, the apathetic state of the cash market and increased local stocks were against the bulls. Deferred futures were in good demand and held steady. September closing ¼c higher at 34⅛c after selling between 33½c and 34⅛c. July sold between 39c and 39⅝c, closing at 39½c, a loss of 1¼c. Local receipts were 329 cars.

Provisions were weak early in sympathy with grains and on liberal receipts with lower prices at the yards. Brokers were active buyers at the decline and a rapid advance followed. The close was at the top with September pork up 60c at $16 00. September lard was 17½c higher at $8 45, and ribs were up 17½c at $8 80.

Estimated receipts for tomorrow: Wheat, 40 cars; corn, 570 cars; oats, 305 cars; hogs, 16,000 head.

CREAMERY BUTTER PRICES DECLINE

Tomatoes Abundant at Greatly Reduced Quotations—New Potatoes a Little Easier.

The Elgin board of trade reduced creamery butter prices one cent yesterday, and local quotations are lower accordingly. The butter market has been slow and weak for a few days past, and this decline will doubtless strengthen the situation. Cheese is firm at former prices and eggs are steady at last week's quotations.

Tomatoes were hard hit yesterday, the arrival of 42 carloads from the south causing a crash in prices which brought figures down to the lowest point of the year. However, there was active call for them, and the glut rapidly disappeared from the produce yards. Fancies brought 75 cents a crate, while choice sold much lower. New potatoes continue high, with only limited stocks arriving. Quotations are slightly lower than at the close of the week, but are still high for the season. Old potatoes are almost done, only one or two carloads being in sight. Other vegetables remained unchanged, with the market steady. Raspberries are fairly plentiful and will likely reach their time of greatest abundance by Saturday, July 4, which is the great day for raspberries, just as Decoration day is the time for greatest abundance of strawberries. Huckleberries are coming in more freely and prices are lower. Strawberries are scarce, only an occasional shipment arriving. Apricots are plentiful and quotations are lower.

At last there is some yielding in the poultry market and prices for chickens have commenced to decline. A slight reduction on Saturday was followed by another yesterday, and receipts are larger. Spring chickens are increasing in size and are coming forward more plentifully.

No changes occurred in the quotations for hay or grain yesterday. Prices were all firm, with receipts just about of average amount for Monday. Oats have lost none of the strength they have maintained for a week, and the situation is one of firmness.

The advance in the price of flour, made at the close of the week, is well maintained, and there is no sign of weakening as yet. Dealers claim to expect a further advance before there is any decline. Sugar is unchanged. Coffee remains at former prices locally, with primary market for green stronger. Navy beans are steady. Cereals are strong, but no higher. Canned goods continue to move freely at firm quotations.

CATTLE.

Cattle receipts were not so heavy today as they were a week ago, and that fact alone kept the market from going backward in the matter of price. As it was, quotations were not changed, and while best grades were steady, others were slow.

Choice, 1,400 to 1,500 lbs, $5 40@5 50; prime, 1,200 to 1,300 lbs, $5 15@5 35; good, 1,000 to 1,200 lbs, $4 85@5 00; fair, 900 to 1,100 lbs, $4 50@4 75; heifers, 700 to 1,000 lbs, $3 50@4 75; bulls and cows, $2 50@4 50; fresh cows and springers, $20 00@50 00.

Hogs.

Receipts amounted to 40 double-decks, as against 60 last Monday. Prime heavy hogs, $6 00; medium, $6 15@6 20; heavy Yorkers, $6 20@6 25; light Yorkers, $6 40@6 50; pigs, $6 45@6 50; roughs, $4 00@5 50.

Sheep and Lambs.

Twenty-two cars of sheep and lambs reached the East Liberty stock yards today, and the market was slow at a decline for sheep, while lambs were more active, and just about held their own as to price. Veal calves were firmer, with quotations a trifle higher. Best wethers, 95 to 100 lbs, $4 40@4 50; good mixed, 85 to 90 lbs, $4 10@4 35; fair, 75 to 80 lbs, $3 30@4 00; yearlings, $3 00@5 00; spring lambs, $4 50@6 75; veal calves, $7 00@7 25; heavy and thin, $4 00@5 00.

PITIABLE STATE OF RUSSIAN JEWS

Area in Which They Were Permitted Was Constantly Reduced.

IT WAS RECENTLY ENLARGED

101 Towns Have Been Added to List of Those in Which They May Reside, Acquire and Rent Property—Story of Monstrous Cruelty.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]

ST. PETERSBURG, June 29.—The amendment to the "temporary regulations" of May 15, 1882, permitting Jews to reside in and to acquire real estate in 101 additional towns within the pale of Jewish settlement, is thus explained by the Jewish journal Voskhad:

"The temporary regulations which have been in force during the last 21 years were hastily issued and were not brought into conformity with other laws. Their enforcement caused nearly all the Jews living in the rural districts, amounting to about 20 per cent of the whole Jewish population in 1882, to be driven into the towns and cities. The pale of Jewish settlement, previously embracing 15 provinces, suddenly shrunk to a limited number of towns.

"The senate was quickly overwhelmed with appeals against the illegal enforcement of the regulations and in 1884 was petitioned, though vainly, for their repeal. The number of towns open to Jews has continued constantly to diminish and the Jews, more and more cooped up, have been driven hard for a subsistence. As a result the towns with Jewish populations have been officially pronounced breeding places for physical and psychical disease.

"The ministry of the interior, in view of the dangers from this hungry proletariat, has decided to open 101 new places to Jewish settlers. In the list are former Jewish colonies, which had been within recent years transformed legally into villages and thus withdrawn from the category of permissible places of abode for Jews. In the provinces of Chernigov, Ekaterinoslav and Poltava the authorities have broken up Jewish colonies which had existed from time immemorial.

"Among many expedients for driving out Jewish settlers under the temporary regulations, one of the most successful was to demand written charters from the towns. Those which could not produce a charter were at once pronounced villages. In this way all the towns in Poltava were wiped out of legal existence in 1895, and all the towns of Chernigov suffered the same fate in 1899.

"In other cases old towns decayed or shifted toward newly built railroads. The Jews were, however, not allowed either in the new towns that grew up in their places or, in spite of repeated decisions of the senate, in the new streets of old towns.

"The temporary regulations, it may be briefly stated, forbid Jews to move into cities and towns where they had not been living when the regulations were issued, to remove from one hamlet to another, or to acquire or rent land."

LUTHERANS WANT A SHOW.

Think They Should Have Chance to Tell of General Synod's Work.

A stormy meeting was held by the Lutheran Ministerial association of Pittsburgh and Allegheny, yesterday morning. The ministers were deeply stirred by an invitation to the association to attend the quarterly meeting of the Union Ministerial association, at the rooms of the Young Men's Christian association, next Thursday morning, to listen to two addresses, one by the Rev. Dr. R. M. Russell and the other by the Rev. J. S. Duss. As these two ministers are to speak on the recent meeting of the general assemblies of the Presbyterian and United Presbyterian churches, some of the Lutherans believe that they should have been included on the program, in view of their recently adjourned synod at Baltimore. They voted to attend the meeting and will there demand what they claim their right to be heard.

The Rev. C. P. Althouse gave a short talk before the Reformed ministers on park work. Vacations were discussed by the Presbyterians, and the Baptists held their last meeting until September. The Rev. Dr. Prentiss of Grant university, Chattanooga, Tenn., addressed the Methodist Episcopal clergymen on "The Whites of the South."

NO MORE PINOCHLE.

Aged New York Character, Who Has Braddock Relatives, Drops Dead.

NEW YORK, June 29.—(Special.)—Abraham Mendel, 75 years old, who is said to have wealthy relatives in Braddock, Pa., dropped dead early this morning in Third street. No one knew just where the little old man lived nor his means of livelihood and his past was something of which he never talked.

So far as was known, he had no work and at all hours of the day and night he could be found in one of the cafes playing pinochle, his favorite pastime, a game in which he excelled and which he often played for 24 hours at a sitting.

FAITHFUL WATCHMAN REWARDED BY SENATORIAL MILLIONAIRE

[BY PRIVATE WIRE TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW YORK, June 29.—Senator W. A. Clark of Montana a few days ago while in the city, wanted to show a few friends something of his $5,000,000 mansion at Seventy-seventh street and Fifth avenue, now under course of construction. Arriving at the structure the senator was lightly bounding up the steps when the gruff voice of a watchman called out:

"Hey there! None er that. Where 'yer going?"

"I'm going to look over the house," replied Senator Clark quietly.

"Well, I guess not. What do you want here, anyway?"

"I own the building."

"Say," said the watchman, swinging his club and winking confidentially at the senator, "I am on this job three years and if I behave meself I can stay here three years more, d'ye see? No con game like that for me."

That settled it for the senator. The next day he went to the contractor.

"Who is that watchman you have there guarding my house?" he inquired.

"That is one of our most trusted employes," replied the contractor. "Why do you ask, senator?"

Senator Clark then related his experience, and diving into his pocket drew forth a card. On the back of this card he wrote:

"Give bearer any hat he may select and charge it to my account. W. A. Clark."

"Here," said Senator Clark, handing the card to the contractor, "I wish you to please give that to the watchman with my compliments."

LAKE ERIE CAPITAL INCREASED TO $10,000,000, AND DIVIDEND DECLARED

By formal stock vote yesterday, the Pittsburgh & Lake Erie Railroad Company's capital was increased from $8,000,000 to $10,000,000. After the stockholders' meeting the directors met and declared the regular semi-annual dividend of 5 per cent. The dividend is payable August 1, transfer books to be closed from July 20 to that date.

The past year has seen the capital stock of the Lake Erie increased from $4,000,000 to $10,000,000. The first increase was on August 1, last, when $4,000 was added. This was issued in two installments, half August 1 and half February 1.

The purpose of adding the new stock is to charge to capital account some extensive additions to the company's property which have already been announced. These include about $1,500,000 for new cars and locomotives, and about $500,000 as the cost of the big new shops of the railroad. Many permanent additions of great value to this railroad have been made from the earnings in the past few years.

The new stock will be distributed among the present holders. Each share of the old stock is entitled to one-fourth share of the new, at par. As the stock pays 10 per cent annual dividends it is seen to be an excellent possession.

The formal action of the stockholders of the Lake Erie yesterday will be duplicated by the Pittsburgh & Youngstown Railroad Company, at Youngstown, today. The latter is the Ohio line of the Lake Erie.

It was announced yesterday that John B. Jackson, president of the Fidelity Title & Trust Company, has been elected a member of the Lake Erie board, to succeed James M. Bailey, deceased.

Rock Island Ready to Fight.

The Western Passenger association is up against a defiance from the Rock Island system, a line that is better able to take care of its own interests by going it single-handed than all but very few of the others. The cause of the trouble was the vote of all roads except the Rock Island in the affirmative on the proposition to abolish the present interchangeable 2,000 mile credential ticket, and to issue a 2,000-mile coupon book good on trains. John Sebastian, passenger traffic manager of the Rock Island, declared that the action was the direct result of animosity toward his line, and says that if the fight is kept up the Rock Island will keep the $8 rate between Chicago and St. Paul in effect, will act independently in immigrant business and will withdraw from the present arrangement of cashing rebates through the Western Passenger association on 2,000-mile tickets.

Unique Plan to Boom Immigration.

Pittsburgh is represented by John R. James in a new immigrant association which has just been formed by the passenger representatives of the Missouri Pacific and Iron Mountain. About 125 members have been enrolled and a party of these are now making a trip over the Iron Mountain in Arkansas, where many immigrants are expected to settle. Others have returned to their headquarters to help make the association product results. This plan of booming the business is an original one. The association is complete. Its president is B. H. Payne, and E. L. Barclay is vice president and treasurer. The next convention will be held at Alexandria, La., in October.

Over 37,000 Barrels of Cement Used.

Over 37,000 barrels of cement will be used in the lining of the Greentree tunnel of the Wabash railroad. In a storehouse 200 feet long at the tunnel there are now 10,000 barrels of this material. In less than two months all the excavating in the Greentree tunnel will be completed and the lining will then be hurried forward. About 450 feet of its length will be lined with brick. No effort or expense is being spared to make this tunnel one of the most solid ever built. The casing will be 2 feet 2 inches thick at the top of the arch, and 2 feet 11 inches at the foundation.

Changes in Train Service.

Announcement is made of several changes in Pennsylvania train service. The company discontinued yesterday the running of a train from Broad street station, Philadelphia, to Germantown Junction to connect with the new Chicago limited, No. 23. It will be necessary to reach Germantown Junction in some other way now to make this connection from Philadelphia. Effective tomorrow, parlor cars will take the place of sleeping cars on trains Nos. 3 and 18, between Pittsburgh and Columbus. The sleeping cars will continue west of Columbus.

Railroad Notes.

The Pennsylvania has started the improvement work at South Fork, Pa., where a sharp curve is to be removed, the grade lowered and a fourth track added.

It was reported yesterday that the Shousetown, Clinton & Frankfort railroad has passed to a party of Philadelphia capitalists, and that the same parties have bought a large coal acreage on that line.

It is stated that the Grand Trunk has definitely decided to make its line double track from Montreal to Chicago. Of this stretch 103 miles, from Port Arthur to Chicago, are now two tracks wide. About 118 miles yet remain to get the second track.

The Pittsburgh & Lake Erie has issued two particularly attractive passenger folders. One contains the time tables of all its trains in addition to a map showing the entire Vanderbilt system, the Erie and other important connections. The second is descriptive of the Boston special, the through Pittsburgh-Boston service. Both are handsomely illustrated in halftone.

THEY NEED MORE FUEL.

Wall Street Journal Explains the Change of Ownership of Hocking Valley Railroad.

NEW YORK, June 29.—(Special.)—Commenting on the purchase of the Hocking Valley by the Lake Shore and the distribution of that property between the Vanderbilt and Pennsylvania interests, the Wall Street Journal says today:

The purpose of placing the road under the control of these two systems is to secure for them a larger supply of fuel. The fuel question has become the uppermost one with all railroad and industrial managers. Those systems which can control their fuel supplies are in a position more advantageous than other systems.

It is said that Lake Shore will give the Pennsylvania, or has given it, an option to share in the purchase of the property, but has relieved Pennsylvania from making any commitments on the purchase at the present time.

Our information is that Hocking Valley common will be put on a 4 per cent basis soon and that the preferred will be continued at a 4 per cent basis for the present and that the retirement of the preferred will be a matter for consideration when the question of increasing the common dividend comes up in the future.

DEFINITE ACTION IN CHURCH LEASE MATTER

Final Results to Be Had by First German Evangelical Protestant Church Soon.

Another special meeting of the congregation of the First German Evangelical Protestant church has been called to settle the matter of leasing part of the church lot in Smithfield street. Five offers have been submitted. Of these three are for the Sixth avenue corner, and two for the corner at Strawberry alley. The church now occupies 90 feet of the 240 feet of Smithfield street frontage. If the Sixth avenue corner is leased a new church will be built on a section 80x110 feet at the Strawberry alley corner, and if the lease agreed upon is for the latter, the present church will not be disturbed.

There are eight store rooms in Smithfield street. The leases on these expire April 1 next, and the trustees have agreed to give the tenants notice on or before October 1, if they have to move. The five offers now before the congregation are all from local parties who propose to improve the site with a business block. The length of the leases asked is from 25 to 75 years. It has been reported that the site was wanted for a hotel, but owing to the fact that the church will not allow liquor to be sold on its lot, it is doubtful if any hotel project will be ventured. Some time ago the Rev. S. Edward Young made a tentative offer for a part of the lot as a site for the church of the Second Presbyterian congregation in case they sold their present property at Penn avenue and Seventh street, but it was not considered.

The German church is the oldest in the city, having been organized more than 125 years. The first building on the Sixth avenue corner was a block house. Later a frame building was erected, and this was succeeded by a brick church. The present stone building was erected in 1876. The present pastor, the Rev. Frederick Ruoff, has been in the service of the church for 24 years. At the last meeting of the congregation he was given the privilege of choosing an assistant to be paid $100 a month, and he has chosen the Rev. Mr. Brobst, pastor of the German Lutheran church at Carthage, a man 45 years old. The new assistant will probably be installed a week from next Sunday. The membership of the church is about 1,600.

AN OIL DISCOVERY OF SOME IMPORTANCE IN DODDRIDGE

In Doddridge county, W. Va., a discovery of some importance has been made a half mile northwest of Center Point, at the mouth of Franks run, in McClelland district. The Center Point Company, composed of local talent, has just drilled in a test on the Blair-Ash farm, formerly a part of the Sullivan estate, that is producing 120 barrels a day from the Big Injun sand. In the past operations have been conducted principally to the west and southwest of the test on the Blair-Ash farm, and have been practically worthless. While the new strike does not open up a new pool, it indicates that the producing formation on the east side is getting better, and it is expected that better producers will follow.

Northeast of the Pine Grove extension in Wetzel county, the South Penn Oil Company's gusher on the Thomas J. Yoho farm is making a very creditable record. The well produced from Saturday morning to Sunday morning 635 barrels, and from Sunday morning to Monday morning, 555 barrels. The well was drilled one week ago and has produced between 4,000 and 5,000 barrels of oil.

West of the Littleton Gordon sand development in Wetzel county, a district that is rapidly increasing in activity and becoming somewhat important, E. H. Jennings & Bros. have drilled a test on the James Wood farm through the Gordon and have only a small showing of oil. It will be shot but the chances are against it becoming a profitable producer.

In the Folsom district, the South Penn Oil Company has drilled its No. 5 on the W. B. Starkey farm into the Gordon and has a light show of oil.

East of the Dunkard sand development, southwest of the Fallen Timber Run development, the South Penn has drilled its No. 54 on the H. L. Smith farm deep into the Big Injun and has no show for a producer. This well was expected to be a producer in the Dunkard sand, but when it failed to get oil in that formation was drilled down and the chances for a producer have not improved.

In the "Little Germany" district, Marshall county, the South Penn has drilled its second test on the Al Frohnapfe farm into the Gordon and the hole has filled up 600 feet with fluid.

In the St. Marys district, Pleasants county, the Ocie Oil Company has drilled its No. 8 on the E. Robinson farm into the Cow Run sand and has a show for a 25 barrel producer.

In the Whisky Run extension on Bonds creek, Ritchie county, the Bonds Creek Oil & Gas Company has shot its No. 2 on the Mahoney heirs' farm and increased its production to 350 barrels a day. They gave the well 120 quarts and response was quite liberal, but it will be only temporary.

On the Ohio side, near Benwood, Washington county, the Fisher Oil Company has made a deep test of its venture on the E. B. Hutchinson farm, and at a depth of 2,600 feet drilling was discontinued and the hole abandoned. In the same district, S. P. Neeley & Co. have completed their test on the M. Beaver farm and have a very small pumper in the Big Injun sand.

On Plum run, the Pittsburgh Oil & Gas Company has completed its No. 14 on the J. Q. Law farm and has a 20-barrel pumper. In the same district the Ohio Southern Oil Company has completed No. 21 on the J. A. McDevitt farm and has a 10-barrel pumper.

Near Woodsfield, Monroe county, the Pittsburgh Oil & Gas Company's No. 1 on the S. Yoho farm is good for 1,000 barrels a day. The well was drilled a little deeper Saturday and made a 50-barrel flow.

POLE TRIED FOR KILLING OF WIFE

Witnesses Say the Alleged Crime Was a Brutal and Cold Blooded One.

BODY WAS NUDE WHEN FOUND

Joseph Canovsky Charged With Dragging His Wife Into a Bed Room, and Beating Her to Death—Musicians' Answer to Suit.

In criminal court yesterday Joseph Canovsky was on trial charged with the murder of his wife, Mary. If the testimony adduced by the commonwealth is to be believed, Canovsky's crime was one of the most atrocious ever committed in the county. According to the witnesses, his conduct was cruel and vicious; from their presence, they said, he dragged her by the hair into another room, closing the door after him, and as her appeals for help stirred the witnesses to offer some aid, Canovsky, they said, threatened to shoot any man who entered the chamber of horrors.

The couple conducted a boarding house in Minersville, on the county line. On January 7 last, a number of the boarders, all foreigners, testified that they entered the kitchen at the breakfast hour. One, who had preceded the others, said Canovsky had struck his wife in the face, causing her to bleed at the mouth, the blood running from her lips on to a baby she carried in her arms. The others reached the kitchen about the time Canovsky was directing his wife to clear away the breakfast dishes. She did not comply and, after directing her again, he gathered the dishes up himself, and then wrapping his hand in the woman's hair, drew her back to his own room, adjoining the kitchen. The men said they heard her pleading. They rapped on the door and asked "Joe" what he was doing. He opened the door and quietly told them he would shoot any person who entered the room. For some reason they went upstairs in turn and then the woman appeared to be quiet. About a half hour later one of them was summoned by Canovsky. The woman was then dead.

One of the witnesses was asked if the woman was dressed or undressed when he viewed the body, and he replied he was blind or something with fear, which he afterward explained was fear of the dead.

A couple of hours later Canovsky went to the house of a neighbor and asked a woman to care for his baby. He said his wife was dead and explained that her death was sudden, she having fallen from a chair.

He was arrested by Chief of Police J. W. Sarver of Monongahela and Chief of Police D. W. Cooper of Monessen, who found the body nude and partially prepared for burial. Dr. Walter C. McCandless testified that the body was covered with bruises, the result of blows and that death was due to shock or hemorrhages.

The case is being tried before Judge Marshall Brown, with District Attorney John C. Haymaker conducting the prosecution and Attorney H. L. Christy the defense. At the adjournment of court last night the state had not concluded its case.

After the jury had retired and the prisoner, who is an intelligent-looking Pole, was still seated at the counsel table, his three children, all dressed neatly in white with large straw hats, were brought toward him. One is still an infant, but the others are 7 or 8 years old. They had been sitting among the witnesses and evidently were not aware of what was going on. When brought face to face with their father, whose back had been toward them during the trial, their faces lighted up with surprise as if they had not expected seeing him there, and then their eyes welled with tears. The greeting was brief and after he had given a coin to the infant he was led from the court room.

In the other branch of criminal court Fred DeFazio was convicted of the unlawful wounding of Joseph Kiskander, but recommitted to the mercy of the court.

An affidavit of defense was filed in the case of Sylvia Ida Gordon against Adolph Rosen, a musician. The plaintiff claimed that the defendant promised to marry her, which proposition he failed to carry out; also that she advanced him money to complete his musical education.

Rosen denies that he promised to marry the plaintiff or that she ever expended any money for him. He also says that the proceedings were entered for the purpose of ruining his reputation and extorting money that is not due. Rosen declares that his position to the plaintiff has always been an honorable one.

TIPS TO HOUSEWIVES.

Those Who Want Tomatoes and Raspberries Cheap Have Opportunity.

Lovers of fresh tomatoes now have their opportunity to feast to the full, for the market is glutted. Forty-two carloads arrived yesterday from Texas and Mississippi, the great shipping sections at this season of the year, and prices went away down below the lowest point so far reached. The fanciest tomatoes sold at 75 cents a crate, enabling retail merchants to buy them and sell them to the consumer at 10 cents a small basket, or 25 cents for a basket containing a half-peck. When strawberries were plentiful, about a month ago, consumers did not realize the fact until the reign of plenty was over. They should observe tomato conditions now, and not lose the chance to get all they want at low prices.

This will probably be raspberry week. The fruit reaches its time of greatest abundance about July 4, so the next few days will probably find large supplies in the market. Housekeepers wishing to preserve raspberries should watch the market carefully this week.

Robert C. Kenner, A. M., M. D., Ex-President Louisville Clinical Association, and Editor of Notes on "Garrod's Materia Medica and Therapeutics," Louisville, Ky. (See "Garrod's Materia Medica and Therapeutics," fourth edition, revised by Kenner.):

"In the treatment of Gout and all the manifestations of Uric Acid Poisoning, BUFFALO LITHIA WATER is indicated and will be found very efficient. In Rheumatism, especially the chronic expression, we shall find the water very valuable. The waters of both springs have been found by extensive trial to possess remarkable solvent powers over Renal Calculi and Stone in the Bladder. We have the authority of that great clinician, Prof. Alfred L. Loomis, that BUFFALO LITHIA WATER is of great value in Bright's Disease, and Hammond and other great observers find it greatly beneficial in this condition. In dyspepsia and gastro-intestinal disorders the water has been found very efficacious.
